By Timothy J. Pade • pade@desertgolfer.com

Yes it's warm, yet the desert is vibrant and in its full summer seasonal swing. Temperatures aside, there is so much to do and the region has so much to offer visitors and residents alike.

In this edition of Desert Golf Magazine we showcase many of the area's most popular restaurants, as well as the many places across the Coachella Valley to play, relax, enjoy—and even stay cool. Although the heat keeps some players off the golf course in the afternoons, many of us take advantage of the cooler early-morning temperatures to continue playing the game we love. The upside of summer in the desert is that courses are far less crowded than in mid-season, meaning faster play. And there are better rates and great deals at the region's top courses as well. The truth is that courses such as Desert Willow, Classic Club, SilverRock, Eagle Falls, Escena, Indian Springs and others are in excellent condition and offering the best deals you'll find all year, so now is the time to go out and play.

In this issue we also highlight courses outside of the Coachella Valley, courses offering great opportunities and, perhaps, cooler temperatures. Southern California has a wealth of golf facilities, and wherever you find yourself traveling in the region this summer you'll also find golf courses well worth playing. Pechanga Resort & Casino in Temecula; the Park Hyatt Aviara and La Costa Resort & Spa, both in Carlsbad; the Grand Del Mar in San Diego and Rancho Santa Fe's excellent Morgan Run Resort and Club are among the many possibilities for golfers in Southern California.

Also in this issue, we are proud to feature Lorena Ochoa on our cover. Ochoa, who graced our cover after her win in the 2008 Kraft Nabisco Championship, has made the decision to retire. The Mexican native has won the hearts of fans and competitors alike, and we thought it appropriate to pay homage to this amazing athlete who is also one of the sweetest and most likable players on the LPGA Tour. She will be missed in competition, in the desert and around the globe as one of the top female players of the game. You can read about her decision to leave competitive play and what she has planned for the future starting on page 12.

Charity tournaments have long been a part of golf and have raised many millions of dollars for children and adults in need over the years. We at Desert Golf Magazine support charity tournaments and encourage you to do the same. After all, what could be better than playing a game you love for a cause that better the lives of those around you? In this issue we highlight several very worthwhile charity tournaments, including one that's brand new to the Coachella Valley. The 1st Annual Cheryl Ladd & John O'Hurley Golf Classic will take place later this fall, but it's not too early to make plans to participate. Read all about this new event benefitting Childhelp starting on page 24.

As always, we thank our subscribers, advertisers and readers for helping to make Desert Golf Magazine an invaluable resource for golf and the golfing lifestyle across the desert region. In these challenging economic times, we are most appreciative of the unwavering support you provide.

Our many thanks to everyone who enjoys the game as much as we enjoy bringing Desert Golf Magazine to you! We encourage you to play on with spirit, friendship and understanding of your fellow competitors.

Hasta luego Lorena Ochoa

By Susanne Kemper

The No. 1 woman golfer in the world has left competitive play, but there is no doubt that she will continue to be a force off the course

An earthquake shook the world of women's golf in April when the No. 1 female player in the world — popular, friendly and vivacious Lorena Ochoa — announced that she was retiring from competitive golf at 28 years young. Three years to the date that she first ascended to the top of the Rolex Women's World Golf Rankings, Ochoa held an emotional press conference and withdrew from the LPGA Tour. She will play in only a few events and in her annual invitational tournament in Guadalajara, Mexico, where she grew up.

A tremendously talented athlete and an explosive golfer with extraordinary abilities, Ochoa created a chain of friendship wherever she played. Fans and groundskeepers alike felt her generosity of spirit. She was even known to cook breakfast for tournament support staff. Unpretentious, giving, open and accessible, Ochoa marked golf indelibly in her short, meteoric career.

"Now is a new life," she continued, "a normal person's life, and giving back to my family plus working on my interests and the Lorena Ochoa foundation. I have always wanted to be remembered as a person, for what I do outside of the golf course."

Until her marriage last December to Aeromexico executive Anders Conesa, Ochoa was still living at home with her parents. Conesa, a father of three children, is 12 years her senior. Ochoa wants to have a year or so to travel with him before they start their own family.

Family has been key in Ochoa's journey. Alejandro, her brother and manager, has been her constant travel companion. Her father and other family members and friends have been present with her as she played her way to the top of the Tour. It's not just her amazing shot-making that will be missed but also her smile and spontaneity.

As a Rolex Ambassador, Ochoa will continue to play a role for golf and charity.

Perhaps nowhere was that more apparent than in Mexico City the night before her globally broadcast press conference. Friends, family and sponsors—Rolex, Lacoste, Ping and Banamex among them—came from across the world to share in an emotional evening filled with memories, good wishes, tears, laughter and joy. Ochoa is an icon like no other in Mexico, but she is also revered worldwide.

"This is a special day for me," she said. "I have been wanting this for a time, dreaming of it, a decision from my heart with joy. I am happy, in peace. Thank you all. I always wanted to play my last event in Mexico; it will be Morelia next week."

"We respect her decision. It is her life. Of course we are sad," declared Jean-Noel Bioul of Rolex at dinner the evening before the press conference. To Ochoa he declared, "You will still be with us, part of the Rolex family."

Since her first LPGA win in 2004 at the Franklin American Mortgage Championship, Ochoa amassed 27 wins including two majors—the 2007 Women's British Open at St. Andrews and the 2008 Kraft Nabisco Championship in Rancho Mirage when she famously jumped into the lake at the 18th green with her parents, brother, caddie and a slew of friends and family while a mariachi band played.

Her career seemed to be destiny. At the University of Arizona she set records with 12 NCAA collegiate golf victories. She made first team All-American in 2002 with the same stellar performances that she had in Junior Golf. After turning professional in May 2002, she won three events on the Futures Tour and finished at No. 1, giving her exempt status for the 2003 LPGA season. She was 2003 Rolex Rookie of the Year, and her fiery, aggressive play catapulted her into the rankings and record books.

Yet even at the young age of 20 she was focused as much on life beyond golf as on reaching the highest pinnacle of her game. "By 30," she said, "I want to be number one in the world, then I will stop golf, get married and have children."

She echoed this thought several years later when discussing Annika Sorenstam's decision to step away from competitive golf. As she made that same decision herself, it was with the courage of her long-held convictions and in pursuit of another long-held dream.

"This day may be the most special day to me. Just like the lake jump at the Kraft with half of Guadalajara in with me. So many memories we all started together, and we all finish together now."

Ochoa became Rolex World Number One in 2007, succeeding Annika Sorenstam. About Ochoa's departure from competitive golf Sorensam said, "I was surprised, but not shocked when I heard the news. She has accomplished so much in such a short time. It is hard to play and play at the level you demand of yourself when your heart and mind are somewhere else. I am very happy for her."

Brittany Lincicome, 2009 Kraft Nabisco Champion who succeeded Ochoa, echoed the sentiments of many Tour colleagues. "She's been an amazing leader on the LPGA tour. She will be greatly missed but I'm soooo happy that she is putting herself first! I wish her nothing but the best in the future."

Ochoa has been true to her Mexican heritage, her faith, family, friends and golf. She has brought an image of warmth, excitement, respect and pride to the Tour and to the organizations to which she has lent her support. There is no doubt that she will be remembered just as she hoped to be: for what she has accomplished on the golf course and beyond the golf course, too. Viva, viva, viva Lorena and hasta luego.

Shriners Hospitals for Children Open

It may not be easy to say, but this fall Tour tournament delivers—to fans, players and, most of all, children in need

Timberlake with 2009 champion Martin Laird

For the 28th straight year, the PGA Tour makes a fall stop in Las Vegas. The event, which has undergone numerous name changes but for the past two years has been the Justin Timberlake Shriners Hospitals for Children Open, is set for Oct. 18-24 at TPC Summerlin, one of Vegas' impressive private courses.

The tournament is chock full of history, from Tiger Woods' first PGA Tour victory (1996) to Jim Furyk's back-to-back wins (1998 and 1999, in addition to his win in 1995).

experience. And I was really proud how I played. I hit it just as well today as I have any other day.

"Even though I was nervous coming down the stretch, my second shot on 16 was probably the best shot I ever hit. I had to hit it perfect to get over the water. The wind is to the left, I tend to hit a cut. It was a tough shot for me to start out left and not lose it too far right with the water. That was a do-or-die shot. To pull it off, and it was probably the best swing I ever made, that was a big moment."

But Las Vegas charities are the real winners in this tournament as millions of dollars have been raised over the years to help benefit those in need. With the recent addition of Shriners Hospitals as title sponsor, the tournament has helped shed light on the needs of families whose children require medical care. These hospitals, 22 of them nationwide, provide care to children up to age 18 with burns, spinal cord injuries, orthopedic conditions and cleft lip and palate. What's more, the hospitals provide these services with no financial costs to the families.

The tournament delivers much to the fans as well. Defending champion Martin Laird, the first Scot to win on the PGA Tour since Sandy Lyle in 1988, will return to defend his title. Laird won in a three-hole playoff with UNLV graduate and Vegas favorite Chad Campbell along with 2007 champion George McNeil.

After the victory, his first on Tour, Laird was emotional. "It's the first time I'm ever in the final group," he told the media. "It's the first time I'm really in contention in the last round. It's a learning

The Las Vegas tournament still has high hopes to move into the spring schedule on the PGA Tour, but whether that happens, and how soon, depends on many factors.

"It's always a goal for everyone in the fall season to get into the regular season with the bigger tournaments," said Mike Zampini, operations and marketing manager for the tournament. "But, we're on the right track. It all depends on other tournament sponsorships, giving back to the community and being successful. We're in a good position, but we know we still have work to do."

That work includes getting more fans out to the course during tournament week. "There are an awful lot of entertainment things to do in Vegas," Zampini added. "We're doing our best to make sure the golf tournament is one of those choices."

The field over the past two years has been strong and Zampini believes 2010 will be just as strong.

"Jim Furyk and Anthony Kim being here last year was great," he said. "And Fred Couples came here two years ago. The families get to come out to Vegas and it says a lot that these guys want to come out to Vegas and play the event."

Rickie Fowler, a new Vegas resident, made his pro debut in last year's tournament and finished tied for seventh. Furyk tied for fourth.

Then there's also the benefit of the host being a musical genius. Timberlake headlines a concert during tournament week each year and, obviously, it's a huge draw for players and fans.

So now it's up to the fans to come out and add their support to a tournament that makes a huge difference to the families of children in need of medical care. According to Zampini, more than 25 charities are out selling tickets to the event this year to support the tournament and the charities that benefit from it.

"It's a great tournament with a great field," he said. "And, it's in a great city — Las Vegas. That adds up to a great week."

Ryder Cup Matches

Can Team USA triumph in Europe to retain the Cup so valiantly won at Valhalla? All eyes are on Wales

Founded over 80 years ago on prestige, pride and golfing camaraderie rather than prize money, the Ryder Cup matches have grown and evolved.

The History

The initial informal matches were played in 1921 at Gleneagles, Scotland. The British trounced the Americans 9-3. In 1926, London's Wentworth hosted another unofficial match. Samuel Ryder, an ardent spectator at Wentworth and a wealthy English seed-packet magnate, was a late-in-life golfer who took up the game after his 50th birthday. Ryder's private pro was British star Abe Mitchell. Mitchell beat then reigning British Open champion, American Jim Barnes, 8 and 7 in the singles. He partnered with George Duncan in the foursomes to beat Walter Hagen and Barnes, 9 and 8. The U.S. team was overwhelmed again, this time 13 1/2 to 1 1/2.

According to his daughter, Joan, "When the Americans came over for a match he would give a 'small friendly lunch party' for both teams."

Play formats have changed several times over the years. The current format was inaugurated in 1979: four four-ball and four foursomes matches the first two days, twelve singles matches on the third day for 28 total points.

Before Continental Europe players joined the competition, the team made up solely of players from Great Britain and Ireland won only three times from the Cup's inception. Since 1985, however, the Europeans have won eight of twelve Ryder Cup Matches.

The Course

The 38th Ryder Cup Matches will be played at Celtic Manor in Newport, Wales, from Oct. 1 to 3. This will be the first time in the history of the Cup that the matches will be played in Wales. The host

Celtic Manor in Newport, Wales

At tea after the matches, Ryder met with British team members Duncan and Mitchell. Hagen and U.S. teammate Emmett French joined them. The idea of a trophy and matches came from the tea table. Ryder enthusiastically ordered a gold chalice with Mitchell's likeness on the top — the Ryder Cup. In Ryder's view the matches were not just about competition but also about building relationships.

venue is a stunning five-star resort with a course built especially for the Matches. It's nestled on 1,400 acres of breathtaking woodlands only two hours from London. Of course, Welsh golfers from Ian Woosnam to Brian Hugget have played significant roles in many of the past Matches, both as players and captains.

The Twenty Ten Course, which opened July 2007, is the first course to have been designed and built specifically for the Ryder Cup. The par 71, 7493-yard layout offers optimum challenge to the world's best golfers in various match-play formats — a maximum of risk and reward opportunities. Long rough and greenside swales will be prevalent, and water hazards come into play on half the course. Nine new holes meander along the floor of the beautiful Usk Valley, complemented by nine remodeled holes that were part of the former Wentwood Hills Championship course. This course is also the first to consider the viewing needs of Ryder Cup fans. Great vantage points for the public were built into the overall design.

The Captains

U.S. Captain, California native son Corey Pavin, has the critical mission to retain the Cup at Celtic Manor. Winner of the 1995 U.S. Open at Shinnecock Hills, the 5'9" UCLA graduate has won around the world since turning pro in 1982. Known for years as "The Bulldog," Pavin's impressive achievements include 15 PGA victories, 12 international victories and participation in three Ryder Cup and two President's Cup matches. Having recently turned 50, Pavin is now playing on the 2010 Champions Tour as well as the PGA Tour. He wants to "to stay in touch with the guys

[who will make up the team], playing as much as possible with them."

Pavin has an impressive 60-percent win record in the Ryder Cup, with eight U.S. points. In 2006, he was Tom Lehman's assistant captain at the K Club in Ireland.

"I remember being part of the last U.S. victory abroad at The Belfry in 1993," he says. "Victory is our goal for 2010, but we all need to have fun and enjoy the moment."

Captain Corey is doing his all to fulfill his mission. He has appointed four assistant captains: Tom Lehman, Davis Love III, Jeff Sluman and Paul Goydos. He wants experience, communication, strategy and team spirit to be enhanced to the maximum for Team USA. A fine new addition to the behind-the-scenes team is his wife, Lisa Pavin, who is helping to coordinate the administrative side of Team USA and its commitments. She has even created Ryder Cup cupcakes!

Scotland's Colin Montgomerie, who has long brought his A game to the Matches, will captain this year's European team. "Monty" played on eight Ryder Cup teams from 1991 to 2008. The 45-year-old, who will be the 22nd European and sixth Scottish captain, has been Europe's star and most forceful player with a 20-9-7 record in the Cup since his initial appearance.

Monty has never lost a singles match — an incredible Ryder Cup record. But this year is something different for him. "This is the proudest moment of my career," he says. "Playing in eight Ryder Cups and winning eight Harry Vardon trophies [has been incredible], but to be named The European Team Ryder Cup captain is something to cherish."

Monty has never served as assistant captain or captain, so he's now learning the tournament's behind the scenes demands, studying them with his well-known dedication. He will lead a very strong European side to Wales.

2010 Teams

Twelve men compete for each side. The selection process has been modified for 2010.

Team Europe: European members will be selected employing the team's traditional criteria; however, new in 2010, Montgomerie will choose the final three players.

Team USA: The United States points system remains the same as the 2008 criteria for choosing the top eight players. These will be selected on August 15. Pavin will then select an additional four players on Sept. 7 to complete the United States roster.

Team USA's defense of the Cup is not to be missed. Drama, excitement and great shot making will be present at the Ryder Cup Matches as always, and space for fans is still available. Captain Corey and Team USA want your support in their efforts to retain the cup abroad for the first time since 1993.

Teeing It Up for Kids

By Walt Stutz

Charity tournament at Desert Willow Golf Club supports Childhelp and California children who have been abused and neglected—and there's plenty of time to sign up

Founded in 1959 by Sara O'Meara and Yvonne Fedderson, two Hollywood actresses, Childhelp has grown into a leading national nonprofit organization dedicated to helping victims of child abuse and neglect. O'Meara and Fedderson continue to actively lead the organization and to provide its vision, serving as Chairman/CEO and President, respectively.

Childhelp's mission is to meet the physical, emotional, educational and spiritual needs of abused, neglected and at-risk children. The organization's approach focuses on prevention, intervention and treatment, as well as advocacy and community outreach.

Like other nonprofits, Childhelp depends on volunteers and charitable donations. One of Childhelp's newest chapters is in Indian Wells, Calif., and two of its Celebrity Ambassadors, Cheryl Ladd and John O'Hurley, are golfers committed to lending their talents to an organization they care about. Ladd is known for her work on Charlie's Angels while O'Hurley is best known as J. Peterman on Seinfeld.

Cheryl Ladd

With golf such an integral part of the Coachella Valley community, it seemed only natural to launch a celebrity golf tournament in support of Childhelp. Nov. 7-8, the 1st Annual Cheryl Ladd & John O'Hurley Golf Classic to benefit Childhelp will be played at Desert Willow Golf Club in Palm Desert, a premium public golf resort named among the "Best Places to Play" by Golf Digest. Simply by signing up to participate in the tournament on this great course, Valley residents can now be part of the effort to give abused, neglected and at-risk children the hope they desperately need.

Monies raised will make a difference. Childhelp's programs and services are designed to help these most vulnerable members of our population experience the life they deserve — one filled with love and kindness. With the best possible treatment services offered in a positive environment, young victims of abuse can discover how special they truly are.

Included among Childhelp's programs are residential treatments facilities, known as villages. One such facility is in Beaumont, Calif., approximately 30 miles west of Palm Springs. Spread across 121 acres of peaceful scenery, the Childhelp Merv Griffin Village has been dedicated to the 24-hour-a-day treatment of severely abused, neglected and at-risk children since 1978. Committed to creating a genuine community environment, the Village houses as many as 84 children ranging in age from six to 14.

The children who make their home here are referred to this solution-focused facility by various judicial authorities and child welfare offices. They arrive exhibiting severe emotional and behavioral problems as a result of their abusive or neglectful situations. For many of them, the Village and its multidisciplinary team are their last hope in avoiding placement at a juvenile correctional facility.

With its Hollywood roots, Childhelp has been fortunate to have celebrities join the organization as Childhelp Celebrity Ambassadors. Legendary entertainer Merv Griffin was a longtime ambassador and advocate for the organization. Now, Ladd and O'Hurley are doing their part. Helping to organize this tournament is the newly formed Indian Wells volunteer chapter of Childhelp.

With its early November date, this tournament is a chance for desert golfers to get out and play on a superb course while other courses are still being re-seeded — all while making life better for children who have suffered unimaginable abuse and neglect. It's a win-win situation and Childhelp invites you to join John O'Hurley and Cheryl Ladd for this fantastic celebrity tournament.

Details: $850 for individual players, $1,350 for individual VIP players and $5,000 for VIP foursomes (VIP packages include lots of "extras"). To register for the tournament or to learn more about Childhelp, log onto childhelp.org

The Advantage of Advantage Golf Cars

By Matt McKay

If you've been thinking of buying a golf car, now is the time

Your golf car is tired. Worn out. Sun-streaked. Technologically bankrupt. You know you should get a new golf car, but why now? Why not wait until the new season? What's your motivation?

Advantage Golf Cars' Palm Desert and La Quinta stores are attempting to give you just that type of impetus. The golf car retailers, which specializes in fleet sales, rentals, custom jobs and mobile services, deal exclusively with E-Z-GO Golf Cars, and they want to put a new one in your garage sooner rather than later.

Of course, the E-Z-GO name is synonymous with long-lasting, responsive golf cars. The company was the first to the market with a direct-drive, automatic-braking car with its RXV model, which also boasts a long list of features designed to save energy and battery life.

If the technologically advanced features aren't enough to get you into one of the desert showrooms now, Advantage CEO and President Clint Griffin has developed a promotion that many valley residents may find hard to resist.

Griffin has instituted a three-part promotional effort to move cars in the summer months. The first part is simple: Griffin negotiated a "deal" with the manufacturer to provide factory discounts on new 2010 cars. Second, he is throwing in a rooftop car cooler to keep new owners feeling so fresh, they might consider playing golf through the summer.

That's a good deal. Yet as the ubiquitous late-night television commercial announcers would say, "But wait, there's more!"

Purchasers of the first 24 golf cars prior to the end of August will also receive a certificate good for use at some of the nation's top resort areas.

"We know there are a lot of people out there who need new golf cars and want to buy new golf cars, but we asked ourselves, 'What can we do to make people want to buy now instead of waiting until next season?'" says Griffin, whose company also operates four stores in Florida.

"If you have the opportunity to buy one of the best, most advanced golf cars in the industry today at a discounted price," Griffin continues, "and you get a [rooftop] cooler thrown in as part of the deal, and the chance to take a vacation at one of America's top vacation destinations, we think that's a very strong incentive."

There are even more advantages than this whopper of a summer deal. The E-Z-GO RXV cart remains the industry leader a year after its release. Customers who buy one will have an easy time getting used to not having to lock down a brake pedal to keep the car in position on an incline. Their electric bill will also benefit from the car's ability to recharge itself while on the move, maximizing time on the course while minimizing time on the charger.

Customers are offered a full range of golf-car options that can be ordered from the factory or added at one of Advantage locations. Advantage also has access to top fabricators and customizers in Southern California, allowing it to deliver some of the sleekest and sassiest cars on the course today.

Lastly, but perhaps most importantly, should one of the E-Z-GO workhorses sold at Advantage require service, the company has a fleet of service trucks able to make house calls to fix cars on the spot. And should the service team be unable to complete any and all repairs in the field, the trucks have the capability to load up the disabled car and transport it back to the Palm Desert repair facility.

"We're in California for the long run and we think this is one of the ways we can let people know" says Griffin. "We've got a full sales, leasing and rental department. We have all the parts and accessories and a fantastic service facility. So if you want to buy a car from a full-service golf car dealership, we think we are the place to come."

Kids Who Play

Whether you start them on their own brand or the brand you like best, kids should use golf equipment made especially for young players

When a child says the magical words to his father or mother, I'd like to play golf with you, part of the excitement is a trip to the golf store. It's exciting for the parent because visiting the golf store is always fun. It's exciting for the child because, as we all remember, new sports equipment gets the heart beating a little faster.

Many companies that sell golf equipment for adults also offer excellent junior clubs and accessories. If you're loyal to a manufacturer, there's a good chance your son or daughter can have the same type of equipment.

Ping offers two sets of clubs for juniors, the Pal and the Moxie ($225). The Pal is for ages 6-8, the Moxie is for ages 9-11. Clubs have lightweight graphite shafts and junior grips; Ping junior clubs have the same perimeter-weighted technology as Ping adult clubs.

The Nike Tiger Woods Black Junior Set is for 8- 11-year-olds; certain websites are offering the set for $129, a saving of close to $100. The nine-piece set includes a driver, hybrid, three irons, a sand wedge, plus EZ-Distance Gold balls.

The X Junior Set from Callaway ($199) is for 5-8 year olds or players between 41 and 50 inches tall. The 320cc driver is almost as big as one of the adult 460cc drivers. The set also includes a stainless-steel fairway wood, a hybrid, a 9-iron and a sand wedge with "Mack Daddy" junior grooves. The Callaway set offers an XJ Odyssey 2-Ball Putter with the same 2-ball alignment as in the adult version. And because it's a junior set, it has a junior bag and because it's a junior bag, it provides a holder for an MP3 player. Cool.

TaylorMade makes several junior sets, including one for very young golfers age 4-6. Its Eight-Piece Junior Set ($219) includes Burner clubs, a Burner Junior Carry Bag, plus a Burner hat and Burner towel.

Hippo Golf offers excellent value with its Hipfly Red Junior Set ($99) for ages 6-8. The set includes a TIMattix oversize driver. The mallet-head putter has a polymer insert for excellent feel. The four-club set includes a stand bag.

TourEdge also provides excellent value with its Bazooka GeoMax junior sets starting at $79. Buying a full set is not mandatory; TourEdge has individual irons starting at $14.99.

CLUBS FOR GIRLS

Seeing as boys and girls are different, some companies offer clubs specifically for girls and these junior sets include a lot of pink.

The Callaway X Junior Girls Six-Piece Set is for 5-8 year olds and includes the prettiest golf bag made: it's festooned with pink, black and large flowers. For even more pink, the Lynx 2008 Pink Junior Set has a golf bag that's almost all pink and includes a driver, three irons and a putter.

SHOES & CLOTHING

Should you want your child to have the same brands of apparel and shoes that you wear, several companies have excellent junior options.

The Adidas Golf K Gazelle Golf Shoe comes in a variety of colors including pink. It has suede uppers that give the shoe a cool retro look. The shoe also has ample room toward the front for extra comfort. The Adidas Girl's White Based Sleeveless Top will help your future LPGA player feel trendy.

The Nike Junior Boys TW 2010 Golf Shoe also comes in a variety of colors and it features Nike's Power Platform Flex systems. The Nike Boys Sphere Dry Blocked Polo is made with Sphere Dry fabric to keep young male golfers looking and feeling cool.

FootJoy offers an extensive selection of shoes for juniors in sizes 1 to 6. The line features easy-care synthetic uppers and full cleats from Softspikes. The collection comes in numerous color combinations. FootJoy's MyJoy program offers customization and sizes start at size 7 for men and size 5 for women.

ACCESSORIES

Accessories are vital for juniors and there are plenty of extremely cool ones on the market. Fanciful head covers by Winning Edge come in various themes including a lion, panther, duck and Popeye.

Gadgetry is vital to children in the 8- 13-year range. A great first golf gadget would be a rangefinder, especially now that prices are coming down on golf GPS systems. The Golf Buddy Pro GPS is around $110 and includes numerous features with no monthly or annual fee.

Finally, what about golf balls? While not designed specifically for juniors, the Chromax Titanium ball from Chromax Golf is very popular with younger players. The ball has a metallic layer that reflects sunlight, which makes it extremely easy to see. It also comes in some bright colors and meets USGA specifications. With a relatively low 75 compression, the Chromax helps juniors with a little extra distance and is soft around the greens.

"The ball is a lot of fun for juniors because it looks cool," says Greg Jenkins with Chromax.

The Chromax Titanium retails for about $3 to $3.50 per ball. It's available in six-packs, a pack of three or individually.

CLUBFITTING

Serious golfers know that fitting is a vital part of ensuring that a set of golf clubs performs well. Fitting is particularly important for juniors. A junior who is eight years chronologically may well need golf clubs built for a 12-year-old. A 12-year-old might need a set build for a nine-year-old. The best way to find out for sure: take that always-exciting trip to the golf store where professional fitters can help.

Calling All Active Adults

By Shelly Adleta-McKay

Active baby boomers have created a new trend in developments across the desert, and many of these adult communities have the kind of amenities usually seen only at luxury resorts

Trilogy at La Quinta

As baby boomers come of age, they are holding on to the active lifestyle they've maintained throughout their lives. That has spawned a trend of communities that cater to this group, offering not just a wealth of amenities but also great real estate value. These 50+ communities are popping up across the country as our aging population looks for a place to spend their twilight years in keeping with their luxurious and active lifestyles.

CALIFORNIA

Trilogy at La Quinta, in the picturesque Coachella Valley, is a 55+ residential golf community offering beautifully crafted, upscale homes and world-class amenities. Built by Shea Homes, this gated community of 1,400 homes includes a clubhouse, 18-hole golf course, full-service spa and continuing education classes to keep minds sharp.

Set amid the Santa Rosa Mountains, this neighborhood is only 35 miles from the famous Palm Springs attractions and is surrounded by exclusive real estate in areas like PGA West and The Quarry. Trilogy at La Quinta is only a short drive from world-class shopping and fine dining on El Paseo, as well as hiking, biking, camping, horseback riding and Jeep tours. The La Quinta Resort and Spa is just down the street and national parks, including Joshua Tree, are just a short drive away.

The Santa Rosa Club, a 21,000-square-foot facility, is the focal point of Trilogy at La Quinta. Luxuriously appointed, the Santa Rosa Club is perfect for dining, host entertaining, engaging activities or just relaxing with friends. The community activities coordinator has a calendar of events and fitness classes each day. There is a complete fitness center with cutting-edge equipment, an aerobics and dance studio, indoor lap pool and walking track. The Santa Rosa Club also offers craft and hobby rooms, a library, billiard room, computer lab, theater and ballroom. The Coral Spa at Trilogy is a full-service operation offering a level of treatments typically found in five-star resorts.

The Center for Higher Learning is a particularly interesting amenity, offering a college-like environment. Guest speakers and informative classes on investing, learning a new language, wine tasting and more make this popular with active, educated residents.

The Coachella Valley is known as one of the nation's outstanding golf destinations and Trilogy Golf Club at La Quinta does not disappoint. Gary Panks designed the 18-hole championship course that has hosted the PGA Tour Skins Game.

Trilogy at La Quinta was conceived from the start to be different. The developer, Shea Homes, built a residential community with a sophisticated level of detail echoed throughout the neighborhood. Diverse housing options are available with differing exterior facades, giving the community a semi-custom appearance. The amenities and lifestyle activities available are not typically associated with active adult communities, but rather with luxury resorts.

Prospective buyers have a choice of 12 ranch-style floor plans to choose from, ranging from 1,381 to 2,789 square feet. Shea Homes feature a "green" building process using eco-friendly building products and energy-efficient systems such as solar panels and Energy Star appliances. Each home is stunningly appointed with custom fixtures, a gourmet kitchen, granite surfaces and spa-style baths. Additional options include a guest casita, three-car garage, wine cellar, cigar room and sunroom or patio. Homeowner's dues are just $287 per month and home prices range from the mid $200s to $1.2 million.

NEVADA

Easy access to the I-215 Beltway and just a short drive from the Las Vegas Strip, Siena offers residents the feel of a luxury resort. A Sunrise Colony Company, Siena is a gated community on 667 acres within the master-planned community of Summerlin, Nev. This 50+ neighborhood sits behind a six-foot privacy wall with two gated

Floor plans feature open spaces, high ceilings and large covered patios with breathtaking mountain or lake views. Most homes offer two bedrooms, two to three baths and an attached garage. Chef-style kitchens, luxurious master suites, ceiling fans and fireplaces are also available.

"Sales have been very good," says Yvonne Mardian with Prudential Americana in Las Vegas. "Property values in the active adult communities have dropped only 12 to 16 percent, compared to the 60 percent drop throughout the rest of the area. This is due to the buyer profiles," she adds.

Siena offers the active adult many social clubs appealing to a variety of interests. Groups meet in various areas within the Village Community Center. Club members gather to play poker, entrances, each with off-duty guards to assist guests. Shopping, dining and entertainment are found at The Village Center, a 71,000-square-foot complex offering meeting rooms, a library, computer lab, billiard and card rooms, multiple arts and crafts rooms plus a 7,200-square-foot ballroom. A 15,000-square-foot golf clubhouse features a full-service golf shop and casual dining room with patio overlooking Lake Siena and the 18th hole of the golf course. The health and fitness center has a full-service salon and day spa, wellness center, saunas, steam rooms and state-of-the-art fitness equipment. It also houses a four-lane indoor heated pool, an outdoor resort-style pool, lighted bocce courts, lighted tennis courts and there are picturesque walking trails that wind through the community offering beautiful desert landscape and mountain views.

Homes surround the Schmidt/Curley-designed 18-hole championship course with cascading waterfalls, gardens and Lake Siena. All price points and styles are represented among the 2,000 homes in Siena. There are four attached villas and 14 single-family floor plans with square footage varying from 1,273 to 3,217. Villas range from 1,034 to 1,378 square feet. Prices start in the mid $100's and go to the high $700,000's. Homes were built between 2000 and 2006.

Siena

horseshoes, scrabble, bunco, bocce ball, tennis and bridge. Special interest groups include the Art Club, Siena Book Club, Wine Club, Ceramics Club, Computer Club, Over the Hill Hikers and more. There is truly something to satisfy all lifestyles at Siena.

ARIZONA

Designed by Robson Communities, SaddleBrooke is nestled in the Santa Catalina Mountains, 25 miles north of Tucson, Ariz. Unlike most adult communities, SaddleBrooke is open to residents 40 and over and offers world-class amenities and numerous social activities. Built on the side of the mountain range rises 9,100 feet above sea level, residents can walk out their back door and enter the 1.78-million-acre Coronado National Forest. This national forest offers outdoor enthusiasts hiking and biking trails, access to ski resorts and campgrounds.

SaddleBrooke

Because of its higher elevation, summers here are cooler and the air is cleaner. Normal city congestion is a non-factor and within just 10 minutes of the community residents have access to retail shopping, grocery stores, pharmacies and restaurants.

"SaddleBrooke has a special quality that makes it a highly desirable retirement choice, especially when located in an area with near-perfect temperatures year-round," says Vicki Palmer with Long Realty Company in Tucson.

There are three clubhouses on the property, two 18-hole championship golf courses that are semi-private and a 27-hole SaddleBrooke Country Club course for members only. The club course is divided into three nine-hole courses with narrow, tree-lined fairways that call for critical shot placement—a nice challenge for members. The Sports Club has a full-service fitness center, outdoor lap pool, library and meeting facilities. The Mountain View Country Club and Preserve Country club each offer clubhouses with wonderful restaurants, fitness facilities, ballrooms, complete pro shops and resort-style pools.

There are over 100 charter clubs and groups available to residents, and they fit every lifestyle. Activities include a radio-controlled model flying and boat club, table tennis, bridge and canasta classes, computer clubs, a singles club, dance clubs and much more. An activities director is on staff to coordinate all residents' needs. The DesertView Performing Arts Center has stadium-style seating for over 450 people and hosts a variety of theatrical performances and guest speakers.

There are a limited number of new construction homes available through the builder. Villa townhomes and pre-owned homes were constructed over a 20-year period and offer varying styles, floor plans and features. Granite surfaces, chef-style kitchens and large, open Great Rooms are hallmarks in the new construction. Single-family homes range from 1,270 square feet to 3,691 square feet and are priced from the high $100s to $1.1 million. The villas offer 1,448 square feet to 2,233 square feet with prices from the high $100s to the mid $300s. Homeowners Association fees are $106 to $131 per month for single family homes, $257 to $280 per month for villas.

Based on the increasing appearance and popularity of developments designed from the ground up for active adults, it's clear boomers want communities that offer not just homes but also a rich array of lifestyle-enhancing amenities — golf, hiking, biking, swimming, clubhouse activities, scheduled social events, learning opportunities and more. It seems that Webster's is going to have to redefine the term "senior."

welcome to San Diego

The weather-blessed city has an embarrassment of riches when it comes to golf, recreation, culture and vacation amenities

Best known for its near-perfect weather and abundance of outdoor activities, San Diego is consistently rated among the country's top vacation destinations. And it's not just about golf, although the area is home to some of the top resort facilities and golf courses in the nation. Whether you take a day off from the course or want to get out and play in other ways come evening, there are plenty of options.

Downtown, the pleasantly walkable Gaslamp Quarter features a lively dining, music and nightlife scene, and California's diverse and colorful history is brought to life in Old Town's historic sites as well as its shops and restaurants. San Diego boasts a collection of world-class attractions including Sea World, the San Diego Zoo and the USS Midway Museum to name a few. Balboa Park, the nation's largest urban cultural park, is home to 15 museums and The Old

Balboa Park

Globe Theatre. North of the city is Legoland California and to the northeast lies the zoo's amazing Wild Animal Park. The East County area offers casino gaming and gorgeous desert and mountain landscapes. And out in the bay, across an easily accessed majestic bridge, is Coronado Island with spectacular lodging options including the historic Hotel Del Coronado, one of the nation's last remaining Victorian seaside resorts. Both bay and ocean beaches, 15 miles of recreation paths, an island golf course and popular restaurants and shops round out Coronado's appeal.

That barely scratches the surface of what this area offers. The truth is that few "stay-and-play" destinations offer as much on and off the course as does this breezy California city blessed with nearly perpetual sun.

SWEET SPOT FOR GOLF

With more than 90 golf courses in every conceivable setting from mountain to desert to ocean, it's no wonder that Golf Digest named San Diego one of the Top 50 golf destinations in the world. Better yet, the weather is so idyllic that Weatherbill.com awarded San Diego top billing for having more perfect days for golf than anywhere else in the nation.

LOCAL PROS

San Diego has been nurturing championship golfers for decades. In the 1960s, PGA pros Billy Casper, Gene Littler and Phil Rodgers were the 1-2-3 punch from San Diego. Casper, a two-time PGA player of the year and two-time U.S. Open winner was inducted into the World Golf Hall Of Fame in 1978. Littler, a San Diego State University alum, won the U.S. Open in 1961 and was inducted into the Hall Of Fame in 1990. Rodgers, a winner of many tour tournaments and a Top 100 Teacher, still teaches today at The Grand Del Mar. Another U.S. Open winner, Scott Simpson lives here when he is not on the Champions Tour. Phil Mickelson, four-time major winner, lives in Rancho Santa Fe and is often seen playing area courses to keep his game sharp. San Diego is also the birthplace of Mickey Wright, winner of 82 LPGA events.

San Diego Zoo

GOLF EVENTS

City owned Torrey Pines Golf Course has hosted many PGA tournaments. Among the most memorable was the 2008 U.S. Open won by Tiger Woods in historic fashion — 91 holes including the dramatic playoff with Rocco Mediate. The Callaway Junior World Championship, held at various courses throughout San Diego County since 1968, brings rising young stars from around the world to compete before agents, pros and fans. In March of this year the LPGA and its top women golfers competed in the J Golf LPGA Classic at La Costa Resort and Spa in nearby Carlsbad, Calif.

Maderas Golf Club

GOLF IN THE MORNING, RACETRACK IN THE AFTERNOON

Racing season at Del Mar Racetrack runs from mid-July to early September and the long days give golfers plenty of time to play a round and watch thoroughbred racing on the same day. Many courses are no more than 30 minutes from the track. Just up the road is The Grand Del Mar, where Fazio's masterpiece is open to the public. The luxury AAA Five Diamond resort opened in the fall of 2007 and is already among the world's most lauded hotels. La Costa Resort and Spa offers two 18-hole gems that have played host to many PGA events through the years, and Park Hyatt Aviara Resort has what may be the prettiest 18 holes in all of Southern California. Morgan Run Club & Resort, the closest course to Del Mar Racetrack, offers stay-and-play packages during race season.

LEGACY OF RENOWNED GOLF-COURSE DESIGN

Several famed golf-course designers have made their mark on San Diego's landscape. Rees Jones brought his skills to the scenic South Course of Torrey Pines Golf Course for the 2008 U.S. Open. Arnold Palmer's masterpiece at Park Hyatt Aviara Resort has been cited by golf publications as one of the best resort courses in America. Gary Roger Baird preserved the surrounding natural environment while designing Barona Creek Golf Club. Gary Player created a course within a working ranch at Steele Canyon, and Pete Dye's name is on the course at Carlton Oaks. Tom Fazio, architect of courses worldwide, has called his work at The Grand Del Mar among his best. Fame and popularity notwithstanding, San Diego golf courses typically have reasonable greens fees. Municipal courses in Coronado, Balboa Park, National City and Oceanside may offer the best prices, but all area courses set fees low enough to keep golfers coming back for more.

MADERAS GOLF CLUB

Founded in 1999 and now one of Southern California's premier destinations, the Maderas Golf Club is nestled amid the rolling hills of Rancho Bernardo/Poway, just minutes from downtown San Diego. The Johnny Miller-Robert Graves layout winds through 100-year-old live oaks, sycamores, creeks, lakes, waterfalls and more than 40 acres of native wildflowers. The Tuscan style clubhouse is home to the award-winning Grille at Maderas where

Sensational Summer in the Valley

Year-round residents and savvy visitors find hot deals and cool amenities in the Coachella Valley all summer long

Classic Club

Summertime is a surreal experience in the Palm Springs desert region. The heat and light of what was once considered the off-season here seems to slow time to a saunter through bright days and starry nights. While some establishments still close their doors from June through October, and part-time residents flee for cooler climates, the desert in summer tempts year-round residents and stalwart visitors with sensational rewards. Many of our favorite local golf courses and restaurants offer seasonal bargains, quiet fairways and extended specials. And those who survive together thrive together, enjoying a camaraderie that refreshes the spirit as deliciously as an ice-cold mojito on a white-hot afternoon.

GREAT DEALS AT GREAT COURSES

The nationally recognized, Arnold Palmer-designed, Classic Club championship golf course has served for three years as host site for the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic tournament. In addition to winning numerous awards during "the season," the Classic Club has earned distinction for offering sweet deals throughout the summer.

Depending on daylight hours, the first tee time is around 6:30 a.m., and the course remains open until 5 p.m. Summer rates are low and residents can join the Coachella Valley Residents Program, which offers significantly discounted rates for themselves and their guests all year. The Bellatrix Restaurant and Wine Bar opens at 11 a.m. for lunch and serves dinner Tuesday through Saturday from 5 p.m. until closing. A fantastic Happy Hour from 3-6 p.m. includes $3 glasses of house wines and affordable appetizer and menu options.

As a member of the Troon Golf family, the Classic Club offers year-round special fees and amenities for junior golfers who play with an adult, and $35 greens fees for qualified 501 C-3 nonprofit groups.

"We really focus on giving back to the community," says Diane Plichta, charitable sales and marketing manager. "We interact with a lot of charitable groups in the valley."

Desert Willow Resort, another award-winning destination golf facility in Palm Desert, is described as "one legendary location with two unforgettable courses." Its Summer VIP card can be purchased in the gift shop or online and lasts through Sept. 30, 2010. Benefits of the VIP program include: $35 golf rates for the cardholder, advance tee times, no restrictions on days or times of play and discounts in the golf shop, dining areas and driving range. According to Bruce Nation, director of sales and marketing, the courses remain fairly busy summer weekdays and weekend tournaments can draw as many as 150 to 250 participants.

"We pride ourselves on keeping the course looking good throughout the summer," says Nation.

Desert Willow members and staff are also dedicated to serving the community. On Sept. 19 the resort will host Kelly's Adult/Junior Desert Open, benefiting the First Tee Coachella Valley organization. First Tee pursues a mission to "provide learning facilities and educational programs that promote character development and life-enhancing values through the game of golf."

Challenge the Rock this summer in La Quinta at SilverRock Resort. The resort remains open during regular hours throughout summer and offers a special for California residents — $35 greens fees Monday through Thursday, $40 on weekends through September 19. SilverRock Grill serves continental breakfast Monday to Thursday, hot breakfasts on the weekends and a regular lunch menu daily, with some specials on drinks and food.

Like most resort facilities, staff members focus on keeping players cool, comfortable and healthy while on the course. Cart coolers carry bottled water, refilling stations are accessible and rangers are available with cold towels throughout the course.

"We're always trying to make the golfer's experience as enjoyable as it can be," says SilverRock's director of golf, Randy Duncan.

KEEPING IT COOL AND TASTY AT LOCAL RESTAURANTS

Perched above The Gardens overlooking El Paseo, Pacifica Seafood Restaurant offers an "innovative menu featuring fresh seafood, steak, pasta, an impressive wine list and vodka bar," according to its website. It also offers a full menu of fantastic summer specials. Relax at the renowned Vodka bar and enjoy a vodka drink for $5 through October. Monday is $2 taco night, and Tuesday evenings feature half-price bottles and half bottles of wine. Happy Hour on Wednesday and Sunday lasts until closing, and Thursday's Muscle Madness is comprised of nine mouth-watering appetizers at $5 each. On Friday and Saturday, Happy Hour lasts from 3-6 p.m. while discounted Sunset Dinners are available every night.

At Enoteca, Ristorante Mamma Gina's wine bar, Happy Hour runs seven days a week from 4:30 until closing. Located on El Paseo in Palm Desert, Ristorante Mamma Gina has tantalized diners with traditional Florentine cuisine for decades. Three-course early-bird specials are available for an extended period of time during the summer. Arrive before 6:15 p.m. and you may wonder if you've been miraculously transported to the heart of Firenze — for less than $20.

Wend your way a little further west to The River in Rancho Mirage and you'll discover Pierro's Acqua Pazza, a California bistro with indoor and outdoor seating. Happy Hour in the bar lasts ALL DAY, from noon until closing. Happy Hour includes not only the tranquil sounds of surrounding water features but drink specials and a half-price bar menu with award-winning dishes. Be a part of Wine Madness on Monday nights, when select bottles from the restaurant's extensive wine list are half price. Pierro's offers early-bird specials nightly from 3-5 p.m.

PURE MAGIC

The Coachella Valley in summertime is an undiscovered kingdom of delights. For those who have stumbled upon the secret, for those who can brave the heat, for those whose lives continue here twelve months of the year and for those who just don't want to put down the golf club or tear themselves away from the rugged beauty of the desert, opportunities abound. Many thanks to those recreational and dining establishments that keep us smiling all summer long!

Diamonds In Bloom

The desert is adorned with wildflowers in a cascade of dazzling hues.
You can be, too, but the petals you wear will last a lifetime.

Tiffany Garden by Tiffany & Co.

Pink Lotus ring by DeBeers

Flower Power by Paul Morelli

The Camellia Flower by Chanel

Bright flowers are popping up everywhere, and not just alongside manicured lawns or in meticulous flowerpots—flower designs are blooming in many jewelry lines. Rings with diamond flowers in the center, necklaces with flower pendants and bracelets with interlocking flowers are perfect for summer. Better yet, they give you a bloom that will never wilt and, when worn, will always serve as a dazzling day-brightener.

The Enchanted Pink Lotus ring by DeBeers, $3,200, has pink and white diamonds set in rose and white gold. The Lotus Flower shares its universal symbolism of purity, beauty and eternity with the diamond, and according to DeBeers, the elusive Pink Lotus blossom is known as the supreme lotus—reserved for only the most special person and occasion. A coordinating Pink Lotus pendant, $3,200, and bracelet, $1,500, are available. In the DeBeers Wildflowers collection, flower motifs with pave diamonds are set in 18-karat white gold, and in the Wildflowers Y Necklace, $14,900, tiny flowers with 208 white round brilliant diamonds cascade beautifully in a “Y” formation. Wildflower pave stud earrings are available, $500, as are a variety of other Wildflower designs.

Designer Paul Morelli, who works exclusively with yellow gold and platinum, has a Flower Power collection featuring pieces made in yellow gold with diamonds, with the end result being bright, cheery daisy pieces full of sparkle. Pave diamonds are inlaid in the gold for a dazzling, upscale look to a retro-shaped flower. The Flower Power necklace features bumblebee clasp accents, and coordinating bumblebee earrings are available.

Giovanni Designs International, known for its collection of 18-karat-gold glazed flower jewelry, has a new line called the Birth Flower Collection. Like birthstones, there is a flower for each month of the year. July is water lily, August is poppy and September is morning glory, for instance. Each flower also has a special meaning. Water lily, for example, represents “undying love” while carnation means “sweet and lovely/pure love.” The large gold flowers in this collection are made with a glazing process that creates a high luster. They can be worn as a pendant or as a brooch, and matching earrings also are available.

Tiffany & Co. has a new collection called Tiffany Garden. The graceful, feminine line is based on diamond floral brooches created by legendary designer Paulding Farnham (1859-1927). Trained in botanic illustration, Farnham was chief designer of Tiffany’s exhibits that won gold medals at the great World Expositions in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Today, the collection’s petite flower pendants include citrine and diamonds in 18-karat yellow gold, lavender amethyst and diamonds in 18-karat rose gold and peridot and diamonds in 18-karat yellow gold. The collection also includes coordinating earrings and rings.

Chanel, the legendary Paris-based fashion house known for chic women’s dresses and tailored suits, also has an equally chic jewelry line. The Camilla flower was often featured in the late Coco Chanel’s designs, and today the Camilla is still prominently featured in current Chanel collections. The Chanel metal and glass pearl ring is a gold-tone Camilla flower with pearls and the signature interlocking Cs logo. There also is a long necklace with hand-enameled metal flowers and glass pearls, and a set of five interlocking rings decorated with hand-enameled metal flowers. The spring/summer 2010 Chanel jewelry collection includes a clear resin bracelet with inlaid one-of-a-kind, handmade silk tulle flowers, in red, white and blue.

Style Report: Swimwear

Make A Splash With Bright Colors, Bold Prints

By Dana Lauren Berry

Where there's a country club, in addition to 18 holes of golf, there's usually an amazing pool. And if you're dressed to the nines in golf attire, there's no excuse not to look equally stylish when suited up poolside. Today's swimwear is as flattering as it is fashionable, and there are many trends and classic looks to choose from this season.

Graphic Prints

The Aerin Rose Swimwear collection for women, known for its signature custom fit in bra sizes B through G, has several lines in bold, striking prints. The Marrakesh design blends hues of bright aqua, dusty pink and plum in a paisley/floral pattern. The Ikat print is a Mediterranean-inspired design, available in black or in a bright turquoise/lime. Aerin Rose pieces are sold as separates, in a

Tie-Dye

The Aerin Rose Waterfall collection has a design that is reminiscent of tie-dye, with a blended mix of violets and blues. This line has a top with gold-ring decoration at the ties, and a bottom with gold rings on the hips. The "Koh Phi Phi" suit, by Guria Beachwear, is tie-dye in a Caribbean blue and white pattern; it's available in three different tops and bottoms, with accents such as side ties and a center top tie. Guria's bikinis are offered from sizes XS to XL. Guria bottoms are cut low and offered in both American and Brazilian cuts, while tops are also offered in D and DD cups. Vix Swimwear's sunset ripple designs mimic tie-dye with a pattern featuring one color that softly fades. Letarte Swimwear has a tie-dye bikini in sea foam with tiny ruffled edging along the top and bottom waistbands.

Letarte Swimwear

Aerin Rose
Waterfall collection

variety of options so you can mix and match between the pairs. Tops come in tankinis, halters or bra tops and bottoms come in scoop, scoop with ties or high-waist bottom. There also is a one-piece design with a halter neckline and a flattering shirred middle. Vix Swimwear offers a peacock print suit in bright pink and turquoise with a feather design, outlined in bronze stud detailing. It even has a matching tunic cover up, pretty enough to wear as a top, with a pair of white pants or a long skirt.

Vintage/Retro

The Aerin Rose shirred halter one-piece is retro based on its square design that is longer over the hips. Available in five colors, including black and Mediterranean blue, it offers a convertible style by tying the halter straps behind the back for a strapless look. Jantzen, one of the oldest and most recognized brands in swimwear and a member of the Perry Ellis International family of brands, is marking 100 years this year as a leader in swimwear design. Kicking off this milestone is the Heritage Collection by Jantzen — classic Jantzen reinterpreted for the modern woman with five new suits. The company has re-launched Curvallure by Jantzen, which first launched in the 1940s. Today's suits offer contouring and a slimming design, including tummy control and lifting features, without sacrificing style. Jantzen's new designs, such as the 40s-Inspired bikini and the Pleated Swimdress Maillot, are elegant and very much evocative of 40s-era glamour. The swimdress is a hot trend for summer, with lines such as Juicy Couture also offering a sexy version; Juicy's Ruffled Plisse Swimdress has a deep v-neckline with ties in the back and a ruched middle with a fluted, ruffled miniskirt. Cute and sassy, the swimdress also hides imperfections and slims, for a flattering look.

Embellishments & Ruffles

Decorative touches to swimwear make an added splash. Why they may not be practical for serious swimming, for sunning, these suits are stylish to the max. Boden USA's Daisy bikini comes in five brightly colored prints and has faux petals accenting the top. A tankini top with the petal trim is another option to pair with the matching scoop bottoms. Vix Swimwear's Sofia Cruise collection is full of sassy suits in great prints and fun ruffles. The cheetah-print bikini is edged in hot pink with a ruffle (like a mini skirted bottom) around the hips. Letarte's Cha-Cha bikini in navy has tiers of ruffles across the bust, and gold straps that tie around the neck, with bottoms featuring gold side ties.

Men's

Men's styles do not change as often as women's, but there are a few trendier looks this summer. Billabong has a few styles of board shorts that are on the edgier side, such as the plaid "RU Serious" board short in aqua or four other colors. Reminiscent of traditional plaid golf shorts but done in a swim trunk with a twist on the classic look, punchy colors make this short a cool choice. And for those who think men can't wear floral prints, Billabong proves this theory wrong. The "Let It Ride" swim trunk in black has a striking design with white hibiscus flowers and a gold rope print. Original Penguin offers "Nu Rave" board shorts in blue jewel (turquoise) floral for another stylish choice. For men not yet brave enough to rock the floral prints, there are plenty of lines with trunks in solid colors. Diesel makes a great plain swim trunk in royal blue, black or green. Land's End and Old Navy also offer a variety of men's swim trunks in a wide range of color options.

Sea of Dreams

Boat or waterborne rocket?
Today's custom powerboats may have you wondering.

Eliminator

Imagine skimming across a glass highway at nearly 200 miles per hour — with no brakes. You’ve just entered the dream world of powerboating.

Sleek jet boats ride on trailers across the desert southwest like sultans in an ancient caravan. They are adorned with chrome and gloss. Coats of wax make them reflective while their bodies scream speed. For those who’ve never experienced the boating scene, powerboating is a subculture all its own.

“These are folks who love to go fast,” says Billy Frenz, executive director of the National Powerboat Association based in Greenwich, Conn. “Some of these guys like to build their own boats. Others are wealthy and have boats built for them.”

Roaring engines and electric paint jobs get people’s attention. Take a closer look and you find that these are true muscle boats. Bob Leach, founder of Eliminator Boats in Perris, Calif., says that his custom-built manufacturing company has seen a lot of changes over the years.

“We’ve been doing this for 40 years,” explains Leach. “We started with a flat-bottom boat and probably got 200 horsepower and 40 miles an hour out of it. Today we’re putting in twin 1,200 horsepower engines and reaching speeds around 170 miles per hour.”

Case in point: Eliminator’s 36 Daytona Speedster, powered by two Teague Custom Marine engines that put out 1,200 horsepower each. The engines drive dual 39” propellers to give the boat some serious torque.

In the boating world, they don’t clock 0-60 time. Rather, they measure how long it takes to get “on plane.” When a boat is on plane, it’s in position to reach its top speed with the nose down and engines working full steam ahead. The faster a boat gets on plane, the faster it reaches top speed. The Speedster takes just over five seconds to get there. This 36-footer gets off the line in a hurry and handles the waves with ease. Professional golfer Bob May is a proud owner of an Eliminator 36 Speedster. eliminatorboat.com

Cigarette Racing, out of Opa-locka, Fla., is another manufacturer of high-end, custom powerboats. Its name is virtually synonymous with the sport. As such, buyers expect nothing but the best and Cigarette rolls out some very hot models for its enthusiasts.

*"Because it's never too late, to

Cigarette

A recent upgrade to the Cigarette line is the result of collaboration with the Mercedes-Benz AMG division. The Cigarette 46' Rider shares components of the new hand-built, 563 horsepower AMG. Cigarette Racing President and CEO Skip Braver is a longtime Mercedes customer and he was looking for inspiration for his newest model.

"The boat isn't a 'copy-cat' boat; neither [of the companies] wanted that," says Braver. "The boat is truly inspired by what makes AMG the performance brand of Mercedes — it embodies perfection."

More than 30 coats of paint, the exact paint used by AMG, give the boat an iridescent sheen. Two-tone upholstery and instrumentation that model the AMG look and feel set the Cigarette 46 apart from your average cruiser. Redesigned twin turbo-charged engines utilize a framework that requires no headers. Instead, the air induction and water-cooled exhaust create a simple and sophisticated new marine technology.

The twin 1,350 horsepower engines required Mercury to create an entirely new drive to handle the torque put out by this sea monster. Yes, in case you just missed that, this is a boat with 2,700 horsepower. The M8 drive handles an all new propeller system as well to give the 46

a unique powerhouse. Retail starts at $900,000 and it takes about four months to complete a custom build. cigaretteracing.com

The boating world isn't all style and sexy. In fact, powerboating has a fun side too. Many enthusiasts participate in "poker runs" in which boats race from point to point. At each location, drivers receive a playing card. At the end of the run, whoever has the best five-card hand wins a prize. Of course, regattas and races of all kinds dot the national map wherever there's a body of water large enough to handle groups of rockets racing at lunatic speeds.

Both Eliminator and Cigarette customize boats that can cost owners well over $1 million. GPS navigation and speedometers, upholstery upgrades and cabin amenities can give buyers options they may have never expected to choose when thinking about a floating car. Features like high-end stereo systems quickly reach six figures when outfitted for life at sea.
