PUBLISHER'S NOTES

WWW.DESERTGOLFER.COM

We are most proud to feature Rita Hayworth on the cover of this edition of Desert Golf Magazine. The tournament bearing her name raises thousands of dollars for Alzheimer's disease, an affliction Ms. Hayworth developed early in her life. Many of us with family members who have suffered from Alzheimer's disease understand the debilitating quality of life for victims and the enormous difficulties family members are burdened with. The legendary actress's daughter, Princess Yasmin Aga Kahn, and her friends in the desert began this tournament last year to raise both money and awareness in the fight against this terrible disease. We are proud to participate in this event and to join with the Alzheimer's Association in the effort to fight for a cure.

Desert Golf Magazine works with numerous tournaments and charity events throughout the southwest. While we cannot participate in all of them, we do want to help promote all of them. Should you have an event or charity cause you would like to have featured, please contact us to promote your event in the charity registry section of our magazine. Many charities need your help and support to benefit causes such as Alzheimer's, and we hope that many of you will enjoy the game of golf as a vehicle to support your favorite cause.

This issue is our last of the season, although plans for expanding in the near future are under consideration. Over the next several months we will analyze the market to determine if six issues a year makes more sense than four. Desert Golf Magazine, now in its 10th season of operation, will continue to upgrade and provide you with the most comprehensive golf publication in the southwest. As always, we welcome your comments and suggestions.

Have a great summer!

INVITATIONAL

BY FRANÇOISE RHODES

JOIN PRINCESS YASMIN AGA KHAN FOR THE 2007 RITA HAYWORTH INVITATIONAL.

IT'S NOT EVERY DAY THAT A REAL PRINCESS AND DAUGHTER OF A LEGENDARY FILM STAR INVITES YOU TO JOIN HER IN A ROUND OF GOLF ON ONE OF THE DESERT'S MOST EXCLUSIVE GOLF COURSES, TO HELP HER RAISE FUNDS FOR LOCAL PROGRAMS. BUT YOU CAN LIVE THAT DREAM THIS SPRING WITH PRINCESS YASMIN AGA KHAN AT THE 2007 RITA HAYWORTH INVITATIONAL, APRIL 15-16

Rita Hayworth is remembered for her sexy, glamour-girl image on and off the silver screen in the 1930s and '40s. A frequent guest at the famed Villa Altamira in Palm Springs, Hayworth was often seen on the golf course by day and dancing the night away at Casa Blanca Lounge by night.

During the second annual Rita Hayworth Invitational, however, the legendary actress will be remembered in a different light – for bringing worldwide attention to the disease she once suffered from,

Alzheimer's. So little was known about the illness in the late-1950s that Hayworth's early symptoms went unnoticed, even though they were impacting her work. As the disease progressed, Hayworth had difficulty memorizing her lines and became increasingly hostile and argumentative. By the time she made her last film, Wrath of God in 1971,

PRINCESS YASMIN AGA KHAN

she had to be cued for every line. It wasn't until 10 years later that Hayworth was finally diagnosed with Alzheimer's. Princess Khan cared for her mother until Hayworth's death in 1987 at the age of 68.

“The biggest misconception of Alzheimer’s is that it only strikes the elderly. People do not realize that my mother showed no signs of early onset in her early 50s,” says Khan.

A life member of the Alzheimer’s Association National Board, Princess Khan is known worldwide for her efforts in fighting the disease.

residents, and to help support the new Memory Assessment Center, a partnership between the Alzheimer's Association, USC Keck School of Medicine and Eisenhower Medical Center."

The two-day event begins Sunday evening with a dinner, dance and live auction at Thunderbird Country Club in Rancho Mirage. Jacket and tie for the gentlemen and cocktail attire for the ladies keeps the evening casual-chic, as only the desert can do.

On Monday, golfers begin the day with a continental breakfast before the 8:30 a.m. shotgun start at the fabulous Bighorn Golf Club in Palm Desert, host course of the LPGA's Samsung World Championship. Following an exciting day of golf, there's an awards luncheon and raffle.

Several sponsorship packages are available, ranging from $2,500 up to $25,000. Golf and dinner for one is $1,250, and dinner-only tickets are available for $1,000 per person. Ever dine with a Princess? Dinner at Princess Khan's table is $2,500 per person, an opportunity that can only add to what is already certain to be a memorable evening.

Jacques Gevril became the first exporter of Swiss timepieces when he was called upon by Spain in the year 1758 to produce a timepiece for His Majesty, the King. Gevril set out on a historic journey to Madrid to present his masterpiece in person.

The King was so impressed with Gevril's creation, he appointed Gevril Royal Watchmaker to the Crown. Gevril became known for his impeccable craftsmanship and for creating timepieces of unmistakable quality and beauty.

HISTORY AND HERITAGE REFLECTED IN A GOLF-COURSE DESIGN THAT IS AMONG THE MOST UNIQUE IN THE NATION

BY CHRISTINE LOOMIS

WHEN HISTORIC JENSEN QUARRY SHUT DOWN IN 1979, IT WAS UNFORTUNATE FOR THE COMPANY THAT HAD BEEN COAXING MARBLE AND SOME 88 VARIETIES OF MINERALS OUT OF THE ROCK WALLS SINCE THE DAYS OF WORLD WAR I. BUT IT WAS ULTIMATELY VERY FORTUNATE FOR GOLFERS, WHO NOW HAVE A COURSE THAT IS AS RICH IN DRAMATIC TOPOGRAPHY AS IT IS IN HISTORY

Crafted by the team of Champions Tour star Dr. Gil Morgan and Schmidt-Curley Design, the 7,002-yard course is laid out in and around the old quarry, its holes named for the editor of Golf Digest said of this hole, "This is a national park of golf, the Yosemite of the golf world, and this rock wall is its El Capitan."

The course is best known for No. 14, also called Spinel Slide, a 214-yard par 3 with a massive white-faced rock wall framing the peninsula green. Ron Whitten, respected architecture

Not surprisingly, the 14th hole has been named both the prettiest and toughest par 3 in the region, and one magazine rated it the best par 3 in Southern California, an area with no shortage of famously designed holes. Oak Quarry itself was named the "Number One Golf Course in Inland California" by Tee It Up magazine.

minerals once mined here – Pyrite Perch, Gypsum Gully, Opal Outcrop, Garnet Meadow and Zircon Tumble, to name just a few. One of the only golf courses ever designed in an historic quarry, the Oak Quarry golf course is nothing if not memorable.

"When a golfer comes here," says general manager, Hank Schiller, "he remembers it; it is distinctly different than any other course."

In a world where golf-course one-upmanship has led to ever more dramatic and unusual design elements, Schiller is not exaggerating Oak Quarry's uniqueness. Even those who review golf courses for a living, those who have seen the most impressive championship layouts in North America, have said that no photo does justice to Oak Quarry (but go ahead, check out the club's website pictures anyway).

Word of the course has spread not just across California but also across the globe. "We've had people come from as far away as England, Switzerland, Ireland, Holland and Germany who tell us they've heard that this golf course has the incredible par 3 and they want to see it," says Schiller. "After seeing it," he adds, "they almost always stop in the golfshop to say that the course is even more incredible than they thought it would be from seeing the photographs."

Oak Quarry Golf Club, which was opened in late 2000 by Landmark Golf Company and is currently owned by Koss Oak Quarry LLC, has a lot going for it in terms of drawing players to its tees. It's ideally situated exactly 60 miles from both Los Angeles and Palm Springs, and it is easy to get to from major highways. It's also a daily-fee course open to the public, though it rivals area private clubs, too, offering several membership levels that come with such perks as advanced bookings for tee times and unlimited play. There are individual, family and corporate memberships available at several different price levels.

In spite of its dramatic setting and an acknowledged tough par 3, Schiller says that any golfer can play Oak Quarry and enjoy it. "Ability is not a factor because it's not an inherently difficult course — but it can be." He points out that even though there is a 400-foot elevation difference across the course, every hole plays on level ground — just another of Oak Quarry's unique design attributes.

Then again there are the lakes originally created during excavation at Jensen Quarry, lakes that ultimately led to the quarry's demise. In trying to get to deeper minerals, workers hit the water table. Today, those scenic lakes are about 80 feet deep, so if your ball finds its way to the water don't even bother looking — the lakes can be a golfer's demise, too.

In addition to the much-heralded golf course, Oak Quarry also has a 7,200-square-foot clubhouse with dining (breakfast and lunch are served daily), as well as meeting space for corporate outings and private weddings, all graced with a most impressive backdrop. "Weddings are hosted on the putting green below the clubhouse," says Schiller, "overlooking two lakes and a quarry-wall feature."

Schiller is justifiably proud of Oak Quarry for its design and for the great golf that the course provides. But he points out that the club has also been important to the landscape and to the surrounding community of Riverside, Calif.

Before this golf club was sculpted out of the land in and around the historic quarry, the quarry had been abandoned for some 35 years. It sat unused, becoming an eyesore where people dumped trash. "We shaped the landscape and the neighborhood in a new and incredible way," Schiller says.

While golf courses are sometimes at odds with the natural landscape into which they're laid out, Oak Quarry has been a wholly positive and defining influence on the community of which it is a part.

"We at Oak Quarry have always been proud of our rich heritage," says Schiller. "Our entire image reflects our roots and the quarry gives the course a layout as dramatic as anywhere in the United States."

No one is arguing.

The Giddings Cup

THE GREAT SENIOR AMATEUR EVENT HAS AGED TO PERFECTION

BY FRANÇOISE RHODES

For the past 25 years, an elite field of amateur golfers has converged on the Coachella Valley for four days of knee-knocking, unpredictable yet phenomenal golf. Introducing the Giddings Cup, one of the year's most popular senior amateur golf events, and one that annually boasts a stellar roster of players from across the country and the globe.

In addition, players must be 55 years of age or older, have amateur status, carry a five handicap or less and find a partner filling the same criteria. If all that works out, you then have to hope that the golf gods smile upon you.

The Giddings Cup was the brainchild of World Golf Hall of Fame inductee Ernie Vossler and longtime Executive Director of the

The first tournament was held in 1983, but the conceptual roots of the Giddings Cup date back to 1952 and a tournament in Phoenix, Ariz. where two excellent golfers, Ernie Vossler and Dick Giddings, met and began a friendship that would span four decades.

"There was never a question about naming the tournament in honor of Dick Giddings," Vossler says. "It was a addition, players must be 55 years of age or older, have amateur status, carry a five handicap or less and find a partner filling the same criteria. If all that works out, you then have to hope that the golf gods smile upon you. The Giddings Cup was the brainchild of World Golf Hall of Fame inductee Ernie Vossler and longtime Executive Director of the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic, General Bill Yancey. The tournament was originally based on the idea of creating an event that would bring great amateur golfers to the desert, and consequently to the properties that the Landmark Land Company, Inc. was developing.

Seniors champions were Paul Ladin and Jim Ono.

The host course for this year's tournament is The Golf Club at Terra Lago in Indio. Past tournaments have been held at Landmark Golf Club, Desert Willow Golf Resort and La Quinta Hotel & Resort.

"The Giddings Cup was created as a scratch competition where you get the best partner you can, come on out to the desert, have some fun and see who you can beat," remarked Giddings before his passing in 2002. What has now become Giddings' legacy is strongly supported by Carol Giddings, who remains very interested in her late husband's favorite event.

As a testament to this successful amateur tournament, each year more than 65 percent of the previous field returns, including consistently strong players Roger Brown, Bill Heldmar, John Olive and Bob Hullender. And as the golfers mature, the tournament continues to grow; a 'Super Seniors' division was added in 2002. To qualify for this division, the combined ages of both partners must be 135 years or more, and both must be at least 65 years old.

The event begins with the Monday night opening party and ends with the Thursday awards luncheon. The format, which has remained unchanged since its

SHELTER FROM THE STORM'S GOLF-AND-GALA FUNDRAISER WOWS 'EM YEAR AFTER YEAR

BY LISA PERRY

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT, PORCUPINE CREEK IS A STUNNING FIXTURE IN RANCHO MIRAGE. A SPECTACULAR 32,000-SQUARE-FOOT MANSION ON 240 MANICURED ACRES, THE PROPERTY IS HIGHLIGHTED BY WATER FEATURES AND A PRISTINE, CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF COURSE. FOR THE UNINITIATED, IT'S NOT A COUNTRY CLUB BUT THE ESTATE OF VIBRANT PHILANTHROPIST EDRA BLIXSETH. APRIL 20-21, BLIXSETH OPENS PORCUPINE CREEK TO THE PUBLIC FOR THE SIXTH TIME AS THE SITE OF THE SHELTER FROM THE STORM (SFTS) ANNUAL GALA AND GOLF TOURNAMENT. IN AN AREA THAT IS ADMITTEDLY SATURATED WITH FUNDRAISERS, MORE THAN ONE PERSON HAS DESCRIBED IT AS "THE HOTTEST TICKET IN TOWN"

What makes the gala-and-golf weekend such a standout? Blixseth says that beyond the fun-focused festivities and superb setting, it's the warm and welcoming ambiance among hosts and participants alike.

"People are already in a festive mood when they arrive, because it's more like a party than an event at a home where the backyard happens to be a golf course," she says. "My four kids are all grown and I have five grandchildren, so the atmosphere here is people feeling it is a family place where they can enjoy the comforts of home. The property really is unique and this event exposes people to the cause. There are charity golf events, but Porcupine Creek is totally private, for family and friends, so the draw may be that this is the only time most can play it. Feedback on the course is that [participants] feel at home and welcomed. Overall, people expect a fun time and plan on staying long and late."

A golf devotee, Blixseth always participates in the tournament, and for the last few years has put together a female foursome of good friends: Mary Hart of "Entertainment Tonight," Congresswoman Mary Bono and fellow SFTS board member Mary Heckmann. Blixseth says the group plays well, is usually in the hunt with their varied handicaps and has even won once or twice.

The weekend generally garners half-a-million dollars for SFTS, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to helping adults and children hurt by domestic violence. A complete golf-and-gala entertainment package is $2,250, a dinner-only ticket comes in at $500 per person and tables for 10 with added perks are $10,000 to $25,000.

Lynn Moriarty, SFTS executive director, says, "It's a fun event, with dinner and dancing, entertainment and a live auction. It is probably the most spectacular event I have ever seen in the most magnificent setting you can imagine. It's breathtaking. The food is fabulous and it's decorated so that when people go down to dinner they are aghast – it's that beautiful. The golf course is exquisite, manicured to the nth degree. And the generosity of someone opening her home to this words cannot describe it."

The 2007 event is another in a series of annual sellouts and Blixseth hopes potential participants put it on their calendar for next year. "Or we hope people will think of us when they're writing a check for a charity," she says. Before 2001, SFTS had a fundraiser gala already in place, but after Blixseth's golf course was

It happens again and again — it’s not an isolated case. In 1987, Blixseth wrote Uncharged Battery, her own experience and advice about domestic violence. After the book was published, she was introduced to SFTS, became a board member and subsequently board president. “I had been to a lot of shelters but was extremely impressed with [the SFTS] philosophy.”

She says the goal is not a quick fix but more centered on long-term solutions to change the lives of women and children. SFTS has 11 counseling offices and more than 200 beds, with emergency shelters that can accommodate victims for up to 60 days and transitional housing for two years. The organization has been making an impact against domestic violence in the Coachella Valley for more than 18 years.

BEYOND THE BASEBALL FIELD

Johnny Bench

THIS DAD, BUSINESSMAN AND, YES,
GOLFER, IS AN ALL-STAR IN EVERY WAY

BY FRANÇOISE RHODES

HALL OF FAME CATCHER JOHNNY BENCH IS HAPPY TO DISCUSS HIS AMAZING CAREER IN BASEBALL. INQUIRE ABOUT THE NEW ADDITION TO HIS FAMILY, HOWEVER, AND THIS 60-YEAR-OLD BASEBALL LEGEND BEGINS TO GUSH WITH EXCITEMENT

Justin Palmer Bench was born April 1, 2006 in Palm Springs, Calif. to Johnny and Lauren Bench. "Justin is named after Lauren's brother and Arnold Palmer," says Bench, who also admits to very little sleep and plenty of diaper duty since Justin's birth.

Justin brings a new level of activity into Bench's life, but it's a life that has been fast-paced and full of surprises since the start of his incredible career.

John Lee Bench was born in Oklahoma City and grew up in the small town of Binger, Okla. nurturing a dream of Bench is remembered primarily for his great offense, but he impacted baseball in another way, too, by being one of the first players ever to use a protective helmet in the field. At the plate, Bench popularized catching one-handed and kept his throwing hand behind his back to protect it from foul tips. As for that great arm, he once said his father taught him "to throw 254 feet, twice the distance to second base, from a crouch."

So why does a baseball legend name his son after a golfing legend? Because Bench is an accomplished golfer and Arnold becoming a major league baseball player. It was his father who suggested that the position of catcher was the most direct route to realizing that dream. Taking his father's advice, Bench played behind the plate and was ultimately signed by the Cincinnati Reds in the 1965 amateur draft. The rest, as they say, is history.

Bench's many baseball triumphs include National League Rookie of the Year in 1968, National League Most Valuable Player in 1970 and 1972 and World Series MVP in 1976. He was an All-Star 14 times, won 10 Gold Gloves and was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989.

Palmer is one of his good friends. "Arnold and I became friends through the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic; I've played with the King 10 times and spent many a jam session entertaining everyone on the bandstand."

Bench says he first picked up a golf club at the age of twelve with a neighborhood friend. "A kid moved into my hometown of Binger whose father had a set of golf clubs, which was actually unbelievable to us because it was such a small town. We would go out back in the plowed ground behind the cotton gin and swing at the golf ball. We'd hit it across the pasture and it was fun."

MIKE SCHMIDT, ROLLIE FINGERS AND JOHNNY BENCH

Later, it was his father who took up golf, prompting Bench's renewed interest in the game. Yet it wasn't until he signed his first professional baseball bat contract with Louisville Slugger that he acquired his initial set of clubs.

"I had the choice of $500 or a set of golf clubs and a bag," he says. "I took the clubs."

During spring training in 1966, golf became a large part of Bench's life. "We had finished the day and a couple of the players asked me if I wanted to go play golf. I said sure, had my new set of clubs and I was on my way."

In 1970 the catcher joined Bob Hope on his around-the-world USO tour, and the two formed a friendship. Hope invited Bench to play in the 1971 Bob Hope Desert Classic – the first of 25 in which Bench has played.

Cincinnati is currently Bench's main residence, which allows him to stay close to his 16-year-old son from a previous marriage, who also lives there. "After my son graduates we plan on spending most of our time in the desert," says Bench, who has been a homeowner at Mission Hills Country Club in Rancho Mirage for 20 years.

Holding a single-digit index of 3.6, Bench is a member of the Celebrity Players Tour and plays golf as often as possible – when he's not working. He's still a consultant for the owners of the Reds and continues to work for the Bank in Cincinnati where he's been a spokesperson for 33 years. He also still has Johnny Bench Enterprises, which involves motivational speaking, appearances, clinics, outings and card shows. A new brand of Scotch called Five, in honor of Bench's jersey number, has also been in the works.

"I play in several charity golf tournaments each year," says Bench, "and one that I never miss is the Warren Smith tournament at the Cherry Hills Country Club. The event is about honoring the old pro there, Warren Smith. It's a two-day event that I look forward to every year."

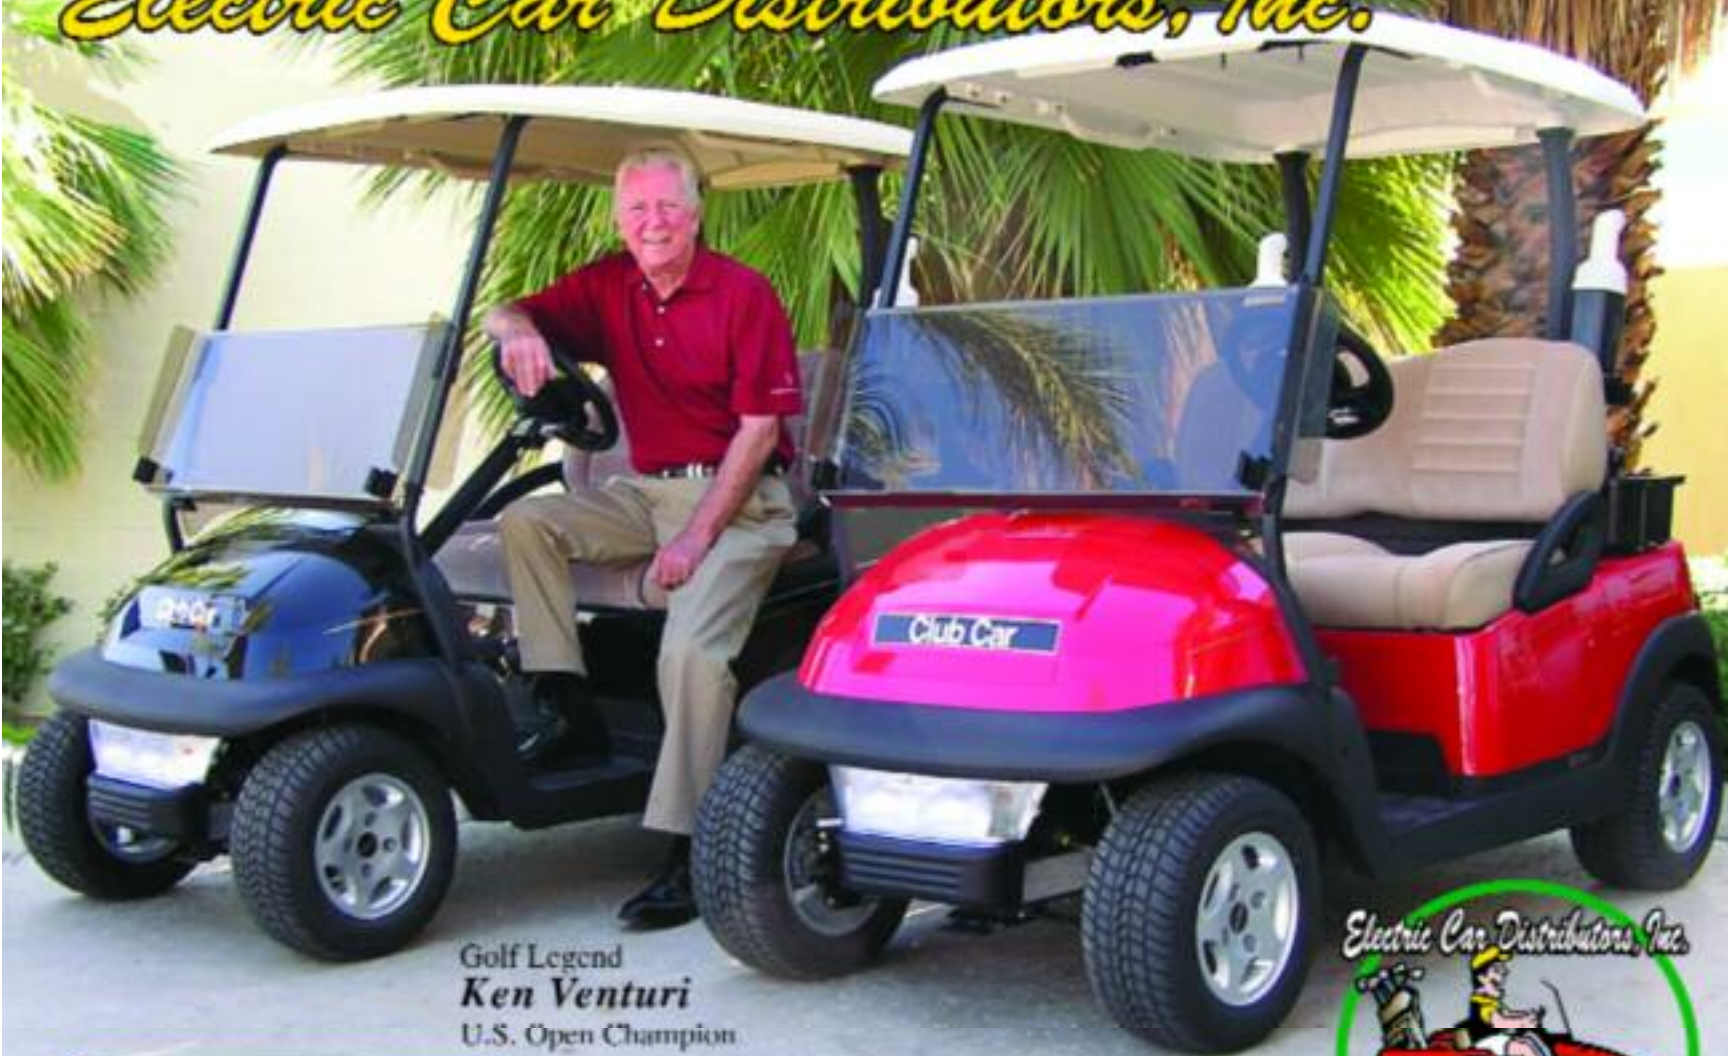

When asked who would make up his ultimate foursome, there's no hesitation. "My dad Ted, Arnold and Freddie Couples. My Dad passed away but I know he would come back if I could set up that foursome," Bench quips with obvious affection.

And when asked to describe his life, the answer comes just as quickly. "Awesome!"

IN GOLF, THE WORLD HAS GONE SQUARE

CLUBS ARE ABOUT AS BIG AS THEY CAN LEGALLY BE, SO WHAT'S NEXT?

BY SCOTT MARTIN

ORLANDO, FLORIDA – IN THE PAST FEW YEARS AT THE PGA MERCHANDISE SHOW, THE “NEXT BIG THING” HAS BEEN SIZE. SINCE 2002, THE GOLF WORLD HAS BECOME INCREASINGLY SUPERSIZED WITH DRIVERS, IRONS, WEDGES AND PUTTERS ALL GETTING A LOT BIGGER. WITH DRIVERS NOW AT THE LEGAL LIMIT OF 460CC AND IRONS AND PUTTERS AS BIG AS CAN BE CALLED LOGICAL AND SENSIBLE, THERE IS A GENERAL SENSE THAT MANUFACTURERS ARE SCRATCHING THEIR COLLECTIVE HEADS TO FIND THE NEXT INNOVATION THAT WILL ENTICE GOLFERS TO PLUNK DOWN THEIR CREDIT CARDS

The PGA Merchandise Show is the annual gathering of the golf industry; it takes place each year in late January in Orlando. Approximately 45,000 people in the golf industry attend the show each year. Most manufacturers have traditionally displayed their new and current products here; however, several major manufacturers, including Nike, Titleist and Ping, did not attend this year's show.

Proof that the focus of golf manufacturers may be shifting can be seen in current advertising and marketing, with several prominent and second-tier names starting to stress accuracy over raw distance. TaylorMade even went retro with the return of the Burner ($299-$399), the new version is significantly lighter to promote faster clubhead speed for the average golfer. The new Burner looks like a solid option for TaylorMade fans who find the variable weights of the weight-technology systems in clubs like the SuperQuad to be a bit much. Buyers looking for the ultimate TaylorMade driver should opt for the new flagship TP r7 SuperQuad 460 Titanium ($699), new cone technology means a larger sweet spot, plus there's a proprietary shaft for added distance.

For a company that's produced its share of visually remarkable clubs, Callaway has outdone itself with the new Ft-i Tour drivers ($499) that come in neutral and draw biases. The club is square with an oval titanium face; it has composite construction that has helped Callaway develop what it calls the straightest driver on the market. The better player should opt for the neutral model while the less-accomplished amateur with a bit of a slice should look at the draw bias model.

Hybrids continue to provide the golf industry with growth and every major manufacturer is now solidly in on the action. Far and away the best-looking hybrid on display belonged to Ben Hogan, part of the Callaway empire. The Hogan CFT-ti Hybrid ($139-$155) offers more distance and height than previous models and even includes the famous 'speed slot' from many moons ago. The Hippo XXL Weighted Tech Hybrid ($59.99) is an excellent choice for the budget-conscious golfer who wants a solid hybrid with some adjustability; the club comes with separate weights. The Srixon AD Hybrid ($149) has clean lines and offers a larger sweet spot than some comparable models.

For those who have come to love their hybrids and have been thinking, "If I could only have a full set of these, I might be a pretty good golfer!" then your day has finally arrived. Tour Edge, one of the first companies to produce serious hybrids, now offers a full set of hybrids up through pitching wedge in the Bazooka JMAX

Iron-Wood ($599). For the golfer who prefers the look and feel of an iron with hybrid-like benefits, the Bazooka JMAX QL Irons ($550) are a good choice. There's even a set for those who can't decide between the two: the JMAX Combo set ($599) lets you mix and match between the Bazooka JMAX Iron-Wood and the JMAX QL Irons. Nickent is also offering a complete set, the 3DX Hybrid Irons ($750) with a low center of gravity that makes it easier to get the ball up in the air.

These are, for the most part, generally bad times for purists who like irons that look like a work of serious craftsmanship. Led by industry leaders Callaway and TaylorMade, irons have become significantly easier to hit but are not getting any better visually. Still, results are results and mid- to high-handicappers should take a serious look at the TaylorMade R7 Draw Irons ($599-$799), which use the same technology as the line's popular drivers. TaylorMade has positioned the center of gravity back and toward the heel and built in expanded COR for greater yardage. The most technology-packed iron set is probably the Callaway Fusion Wide Sole Iron ($800-$1,299). The set features a combination of materials, including titanium; the design includes tunite sole weighting for a very low center of gravity and a wide sole design to increase playability. While the R7 and Fusion irons are clearly designed to help just about any golfer hit more greens, they are perhaps the ugliest clubs ever made.

For the traditionalist looking for a degree of playability and exceptional feel and feedback, the star of the show was the Mizuno MP-67 ($850), which is the latest of the company's impressive cut-muscle line. The key to these irons is the neutral center of gravity placement in each club. The long and mid irons have a mid-high trajectory while the shorter irons have a slightly lower trajectory for more accuracy.

Wilson brought a solid line of new equipment to the show, including the sensibly priced Ci6 irons ($499-$599) that are perfect for the weekend warrior mid-handicapper, and the 8862, a version of the 8802 combining the classic look with the latest insert and material technology.

Now that manufacturers have conquered large and gone (mostly) ugly to help golfers find more distance and achieve more accuracy, what's next? With very little wiggle room left when it comes to USGA regulations, the upcoming years will be curious — at least based on the offerings at this year's PGA Merchandise Show. Will the golf ball soon become square?

Each course has its own distinct personality and together they provide more than a vacation's worth of exceptional play in a resort that truly has something for everyone — on and off the golf course.

Nicklaus North Golf Course

Set on the shores of pristine glacier-fed Green Lake, the Nicklaus North course is undoubtedly one of the country's most picturesque playing fields. Challenging par 3s and distinctive Nicklaus bunkering are hallmarks of this par-71 championship course, and five sets of tees ensure playability for all types of golfers. But something else makes the course unique: This Jack Nicklaus Signature Design is the only golf course in the world to which Jack has been inspired to add his own name.

In addition to its accolades, which include a spot in SCORE Golf magazine's "Top 25 — Canada's Best Golf Courses" and four stars in Golf Digest's "Places to Play," Nicklaus North hosted both the 1997 Export 'A' Skins Game and the 2005 TELUS Skins Game, making it the first course in the event's 13-year history to garner a return visit.

Whistler Golf Club

It isn't difficult to understand why Arnold Palmer chose Whistler for his first Canadian design. There are, of course, the spectacular views of Whistler and Blackcomb mountains that are guaranteed mountain golf. Carved from the side of Blackcomb Mountain, this Robert Trent Jones Jr. layout incorporates the area's rich natural features into its design, from exposed rock faces and mountain ledges to stunning ravines and waterfalls. Among its most dramatic attributes is an elevation change of over 400 feet resulting in swing-stopping views of Whistler Valley. The par-72, 18-hole course opened in 1993 and is deservedly rated four and a half stars by Golf Digest.

Fairmont Chateau Whistler Golf Club's Practice and Learning Centre is home to Canada's only David Leadbetter Golf Academy, and its double-ended, 350-yard-long facility features extensive putting greens, practice bunkers, chipping and pitching areas and two indoor video classroom bays where you can review your swing.

Big Sky Golf and Country Club

Just 25 minutes north of Whistler is a golf setting that is truly magnificent, even in this area of an embarrassment of riches when it comes to magnificent settings. Situated at the base of the massive, snow-capped Mount Currie in the lush Pemberton valley, Big Sky Golf and

Country Club boasts an award-winning design by Robert Cupp that features bent grass from tee to green, Ravensdale sand bunkers, four sets of tees and superb course conditioning. At 7,001 yards from the back Big Sky is the longest of Golf Whistler's four championship courses, yet it's eminently walkable because it is set among the mountains rather than carved into their slopes.

Beyond its setting, Big Sky is renowned for the Big Sky Golf Academy. In addition to a grass-tee driving range, the facility features the new executive Academy Course, which allows for practice in a game-like setting. The nine-hole course complements the Academy's extensive learning programs, including two-day, three-day and custom itinerary golf schools.

Play and stay

It's not just championship golf courses that have made this four-season destination into the vacation mecca that it is. Resort amenities include luxury accommodations, fine dining, sensational shopping and rejuvenating spas to pamper golfers and non-golfers alike.

The Fairmont Chateau Whistler Resort is famous for its distinct mix of alpine comfort and uncompromising luxury. Its distinctive setting at the base of Blackcomb Mountain, impeccable service and elegant décor complement each of its 550 guest rooms and suites. The Fairmont also offers several unique dining outlets, a 28,000-square-foot conference facility, an extensive slopeside health club and a full service Vida Wellness Spa. For après-activity there's the lounge and mountainside terraces. In addition, the hotel's heated outdoor pool, indoor and outdoor whirlpools, dry sauna, eucalyptus steam rooms and fitness centre provide a relaxing after-golf escape.

Whistler's golf season runs from May through October, and golf-and-stay packages at the Fairmont Chateau Whistler start at US $172 per person per night. To learn more or to book your next golf vacation, phone 866.357.4026 or visit www.golfwhistler.com.

Ground Breaking News

THE LATEST IN REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENT AND BUILDING ACROSS THE DESERT

BY FRANÇOISE RHODES

With “Ground Breaking News” we have one goal in mind: to keep our readers abreast of real estate developments in Southern California, Arizona and Nevada. Our primary focus is on new golf-course communities and new residential communities within established golf-course developments as they emerge on the market.

According to the National Association of Realtors (NAR), pending home sales are up, affirming that stabilization is occurring in the real estate market. NAR’s chief economist, David Lereah said, “It appears buyers are becoming more comfortable, sensing the timing is good and that their local market has bottomed out. I expect modest sales gains throughout the year with what I believe are sustainable levels of activity. 2007 promises to be the fourth best year on record.”

Speaking of local markets, April is here and desert dwellers know what that means – the snowbirds will begin migrating back to the Midwest, Canada and beyond. Real estate agents not familiar with this yearly occurrence might panic; not to worry, the southwestern market continues through the summer, just with a different type of buyer. In this seasons buyers are homeowners who haven’t seen their residence (a.k.a rental unit) for several months, and upon returning are thinking about larger units, newer units or upgrading to a master-planned, golf-course community with all the amenities of a luxury resort.

Southern California's Desert passed on the "Bursting Bubble Theory"

According to the majority of local real estate agents, the Coachella Valley's bubble never really burst. A definite slowdown, yes, but a definite rebound is what everyone is talking about now. The Desert Sun reports a surge of home sales in the last two months, and the so-called "housing planned community from SunCal Companies, is promising interested buyers. According to the website, coming soon is an 18-hole Schmidt-Curley-designed executive golf course that will keep residents close to home. More on Avalon as it develops.

In addition to the fresh new face being carefully applied to the Palm Desert Country Club in Palm Desert, casita starts in the high $200,000s, in a four-bedroom casita in the high $400,000s. Among The Retreat's notable founding members: Microsoft's Bill Gates III, PGA professional Peter Jacobson, Guthy-Renker's Greg Renker and Nordstrom's Bruce Nordstrom.

Escena Palm Springs, the first new gated, golf-oriented residential retreat bubble" that some feared would mean plummeting home prices in the valley never materialized. In fact, home sales increased 20% in December compared with the month before, resulting in a reduction of inventory for the first time since last summer.

With interest rates hovering in the 6 percent to 6.25 percent range, it is still a great time to buy a vacation home or permanent residence. You might have to look a little harder, but there are good bargains to be had, and that makes the extra legwork worth it.

"Different and dynamic" is what Avalon, the new Palm Springs master-that city also boasts the ultimate in desert living at The Retreat at Stone Eagle.

The Retreat at Stone Eagle offers a luxurious, 44-home development replicating the architectural details of Sardinia's northern Costa Smeralda. The $2.2 to $3 million residences built by Ministrelli Homes are nestled in a cove at the foot of Stone Eagle Golf Club, the private golf course designed by Tom Doak. Also offered at this exclusive project is The Residence Club, a fractional-ownership development near the clubhouse for nonresident members. Pricing for a one-eighth interest in a two-bedroom to hit Palm Springs in 20 years, features a Jack Nicklaus-designed 18-hole golf course that is now open to buyers. Developed by Lennar Communities, there are two distinctive residential series here. The Spanish Series, inspired by the Spanish Revival movement first seen in Palm Springs in the 1920s and 1930s, and the Modern Series. The Modern Series offers a selection of boldly designed detached residences that capture the essence of desert style. The Alcala models are fairway estates in the much-anticipated Spanish Series. Pricing for the Modern Series starts in the low $600,000s;

Life Just Got Better.

IN THE TRADITION OF THE ANCIENT ANDALUSIA REGION OF SPAIN, THESE GRACIOUS NEW HOMES PUT COMFORT ABOVE ALL ELSE.

Inspired by the casual lifestyle and striking architecture of Southern Spain, the homes of Andalusia at Coral Mountain seamlessly combine tranquil exterior spaces with their grand interiors.

Dramatic entry porticoes welcome you into peaceful courtyards.

And spacious great rooms open to relaxing covered patios. These exceptional fairway homes occupy one of the desert's most beautiful sites, with breathtaking views of the Santa Rosa Mountains beyond the championship golf course.

Furnished model residences along the fairways are open daily from 9am to 5pm, at Madison Street and Avenue 58 in South La Quinta, California. From the low $1,000,000s. For general information, please visit AndalusiaAtCoralMountain.com or call 760-777-1000 or 866-414-1525. For golf membership information, call 760-777-1050. Broker Cooperation Invited.

AT CORAL MOUNTAIN

Spanish Series preliminary pricing is from the $800,000s.

Andalusia at Coral Mountain is the newest luxury golf community in La Quinta. Importing the character of Andalusia, Spain's ancient southern region, the dramatic guardhouse, magnificent clubhouse and a world-class racquet club and fitness center reflect that heritage in their painted tiles, graceful arches, sunny courtyards and cool patios. The private homes within the community will share those architectural schemes, as well as sweeping vistas of the fairways and sparkling lakes along the club's private Rees Jones-designed championship golf course. There are six styles to choose from, all with spectacular golf course views, priced from $1,125,000 to $2,050,000.

Desert Hot Springs has been in the real estate news of late — unfortunately not in a positive light.

The Sierra Club has filed a lawsuit against the city of Desert Hot Springs to stop the enormous Palmwood Golf Club resort that, according to the Sierra Club, will destroy acres of pristine habitat occupied by several species of plants and animals unique to the desert. Plans for the Palmwood Golf Club includes a 27-hole Phil Mickelson-designed golf course, 400-room hotel, a secondary golf course, 1,800 homes and 700 acres of open space and trails, making it the largest and only resort of its magnitude in Desert Hot Springs. Also in the news, developer Mayer Luce Companies put its ambitious 505-acre, $1 billion Tuscan Hills development on hold until the sluggish Desert Hot Springs housing market shows signs of rebounding, thus making local residents wait a while longer to enjoy Tuscan Hills' 18-hole Johnny Miller-designed course.

Arizona is showing market stability

Phoenix seems to be Arizona's hot ticket item right now as seen in its recent rise in home sales. Analysts are looking at an exceptionally sound February during which sales were up 14.4 percent and the price-per-square-foot increased $4, up to $171. A key notable fact is that after a year's worth of fluctuation, the price-per-square-foot is the same as it was 12 months ago, making Phoenix the most stable city in the valley. As the inventory of homes increases, buyers are expressing confidence in the market. But beware: Those on the fence waiting for the lowest possible price should know that interest rates are projected to increase to 6.7 percent in the next six to nine months.

Phoenix may be the hot ticket item touted by analysts, but go just a short distance and resort style, golf-course communities abound. Offering a private Jay Morrish-designed golf course, Talking Rock is located 20 minutes from Prescott. Buyers can choose from a variety of custom-home sites from 0.4 to 1.5 acres and with mountain, valley or golf course views. Sites are priced from the $200,000's to the mid $400,000's.

Kingman may be a tad far for some, but perfect for many. The new Valle Vista Country Club, with its 18-hole championship golf course, is located just off Historic Route 66. From the community center to the neighborhood park, Valle Vista has it all, and at affordable prices. Semi-custom homes range from 1,467 to 1,745 square feet and are priced at $205,000 to $237,000. Included at no extra charge: dramatic views of the majestic Hualapai Mountains.

Sterling at the Villages at Queen Creek is nestled among the fairways of the acclaimed Las Colinas Golf Course. With luxury living at your doorstep, you can walk to your next tee time, visit the pro shop along the way and then relax at the clubhouse after your round. Built by Richmond American Homes, Sterling at the Villages at Queen Creek has a variety of distinctive home sites with elegant elevations available. Single-family homes are priced from $318,990 to $411,990.

Statesman's Toscana of Desert Ridge is a master-planned community fostering a lifestyle of relaxation and Course. There are 18 floor plans to choose from and condos are priced from $253,900 to $468,900.

Located in the booming master-planned community of Palm Valley in Goodyear is PebbleCreek Resort. This world-class community offers residents more than $10 million in recreational amenities and services, including two championship golf courses, multi-million dollar clubhouses, tennis, swimming, arts and crafts and fitness. A rarity in Arizona, homeowners here may enjoy using their own golf carts with no trail fees. Homes range from 1,280 to 3,408 square feet and are priced between $199,400 and $426,900.

Nevada understands employment

Las Vegas continues to be a one-of-a-kind city with a formula for socialization. The community enjoys a premium Scottsdale location that is surrounded by shopping and restaurants within the Desert Ridge marketplace and backs onto the Nick Faldo Championship Wildfire Golf employment development. The low unemployment, skilled labor force, exceptional tax structure, pro-business environment and a great climate have kept Las Vegas ranked first nationally in employment growth since 1995. The current population is estimated at 1.6 million, and each month 2.5 million visitors and 6,000 new residents flock to this economically prosperous city, meaning much-needed housing is springing up across the region. Regardless of where you live in Nevada, the term “cutting edge” applies given the state’s vibrant lifestyle.

Mountain Falls, a 1,050-acre master-planned community by William Lyon Homes, is located just 45 miles west of the Strip. Currently selling are the communities of Cascata Ancora, Tramonto and Bella Sera, priced from the low $200,000s. Buyers can select from 11 single-story floor plans ranging from 1,429 to 2,897 square feet, with some models including as many six bedrooms and four baths. Anchoring this community is the Mountain Falls Golf Club with its 18-hole parkland course featuring four different teeing areas and playing to 7,082 yards from the tips. Debuting soon are the communities of Classic Homes, Desert Wind Homes and Celebrate Homes. On completion, Mountain Falls will include dozens of neighborhood mini-parks and a walking trail approximately four miles long.

Word is spreading quickly about Montreux Golf & Country Club, which borders Toiyabe National Forest in the Sierra Nevada mountain range near Lake Tahoe. Unparalleled beauty earmarks this community featuring Alpine-style homes up to 4,000 square feet in size. The 34,000-square-foot western lodge-style clubhouse has it all—wine cellar, pro shop, fitness center, dining rooms and more. The 7,552-yard Jack Nicklaus Signature golf course is complete with three practice holes and a 19th hole designed by LPGA Hall of Famer Patty Sheehan. Pricing for lots begins at $365,000, the luxurious homes range from $1,125,000 to $1,999,000.

Redrock Country Club is still listed as one of the hottest communities in Nevada. Maybe that’s because the community has its own incredible casino and resort. This private, guard-gated community is set on 738 acres within the Summerlin master plan. The community will have two Arnold Palmer-designed championship courses, an 8,000-square-foot fitness center and a

Where to Stay and Play in Aspen: Hotels You Won't Want to Leave

LUXURY, STUNNING DESIGN AND INCREDIBLE VIEWS ARE DE RIGUEUR

BY CHRISTINE LOOMIS

Summer in Aspen means music, culture and outdoor adventures set against the backdrop of rocky peaks and verdant alpine valleys. The historic town long ago lost most signs of its humble mining origins, replacing them with a spirited sophistication that effortlessly melds elegance, style and luxury with mountain charm. Whether you visit Aspen to attend one of the many festivals, try a new world-class restaurant or take on the area's superb championship golf courses — or all of the above — summer in Aspen is an experience to be savored. So stay awhile. Here are our picks for some of the best places to stay and play.

ST. REGIS RESORT

St. Regis Resort Aspen

Not only does the St. Regis Resort epitomize the culture and beauty of Aspen in its opulent amenities, services and design, it offers guests exclusive access to private Ironbridge Golf Club in Glenwood Springs. A stone's throw from the Gondola, hub of summer mountain activities, and all that downtown Aspen offers, the 179-room St. Regis has been named among the great resorts of North America and the world. Guest room amenities include flat screen TVs, Internet, marble baths and luxurious linens. And then there's the Remède Spa offering a comprehensive menu of customized and restorative treatments. Olives Aspen, the resort's fine dining restaurant, stands out with a sophisticated menu created by Chef Todd English. Après golf, one can also relax in the Shadow Mountain Lounge and enjoy live jazz and piano along with a selection of fine spirits. The St. Regis concierge can arrange tee times at Ironbridge, as well as other summer activities from rafting and fly fishing to horseback riding and hiking. 970-920-3300, stregisaspen.com

Snowmass Club

With its own championship golf course, the Snowmass Club is paradise for vacationing golfers. Guests have the luxury and spaciousness of two- to five-bedroom condominium units with fully equipped kitchens, fireplaces and stunning views, along with the attentive service of a dedicated staff. On the top of most guest lists is play on the Jim Engh designed Snowmass Club golf course, an 18-hole beauty stretching 7,008 yards with plenty to challenge every level of player. Off the course, Snowmass is more than Aspen's neighbor; it's a world-class destination in its own right, with everything from tennis and adrenaline-charged mountain biking to workshops at the acclaimed Anderson Ranch Arts Center (andersonranch.org). The club also has a fitness center and pools. The resort's primary restaurant, Sage, offers a casual yet elegant atmosphere and a menu featuring classic and inspired dishes made with fresh Colorado ingredients. For guests who bring along their families, Snowmass Club also offers an on-site kids' club, with day care for younger children and numerous activities for older kids, including golf and tennis lessons, clinics and tournaments 800-525-0710, 970.923.5600, snowmassclub.com

Hotel Jerome

Historic elegance — that's what Aspen's famed Hotel Jerome is all about. From the architectural splendor of the lobby to excellent restaurants and luxurious guest rooms, the Hotel Jerome delivers a rich experience to its guests, as it has since 1889. There's a reason Luxury Travel Magazine named it among the area's Top 10 hotels. Each of the 92 well-appointed guestrooms and suites are designed in warm, sophisticated décor, and then there's the almost sinful comfort of the private label beds draped with cozy down comforters. Yet there's something about sinking into the plush sofas in the lobby sitting area to read the paper or sip a cup of coffee that can't be beat. After golf or dinner out on the town, the renowned J-Bar is the place to see and be seen. On a sunny Aspen afternoon, there's lunch on the Jerome's Garden Terrace, which is transformed each summer evening into a "candlelit oasis" under starry Aspen skies. And for those who are chocoholics, please note that the Jerome's pastry chef, Heather Campbell, was honored at the 16th Annual Chocolate Classic for the most impressive dessert. Need we say more? 330 East Main Street, Aspen. 800-331-7213, 970-920-1000; hoteljerome.com

Hotel Lenado

Those looking for luxury on an intimate scale should consider the Hotel Lenado, a 19-room boutique hotel next to Aspen's Whitaker Park. Each room defines mountain elegance, featuring four-poster hickory or carved apple wood beds, down comforters, plush robes and, naturally, Bose Wave Radio/CD players. Book the Smuggler room with its wood burning stove and private balcony for the ultimate in luxury at a property that offers nothing but. The hotel offers a full gourmet breakfast including fresh coffee and orange juice, fruit plates, pancakes, eggs cooked to order, ham,

HYATT GRAND ASPEN RESORT

bacon, assortment of cereals and more – noted by locals as arguably the best breakfast in town. Although the Lenado is small, it offers full concierge and bellman services, INCLUDING MAKING TEE TIMES, and guests can enjoy complimentary hors d’oeuvres and lemonade (hot apple cider in winter) in the bar after 4pm. Looking for a spectacular setting in which to relax? Indulge your senses on the rooftop deck with its hot tub and views of Aspen Mountain. 800-321-3457, 970-925-6246; hotellenado.com

Hyatt Grand Aspen Resort

The Hyatt Grand Aspen, which opened Christmas 2005, is part of Hyatt Vacation Clubs offering fractional ownership of 50 studios to four-bedroom suites. Accommodations are also available to the vacationing public and include finely crafted interiors with granite, marble, polished woods, fireplaces, beds made up with Italian linens, private balconies, spa tubs, steam showers and more. The upscale resort, one block from the Gondola, has a full-service concierge who will book tee times, make dining reservations and get guests off to all the outdoor adventures and cultural events for which Aspen is renowned.

The resort’s trendy lounge, The Wine Spot, is fast becoming the “in” place to be with its expansive wine list – more than 35 wines by the glass – along with selections of vintage champagne, “cult” wines as well as premium single malt Scotch. Common areas include a pool, year-round heated deck, hot tubs and fitness center. The hotel is just a short walk to the popular

Lexus LS 460: the Future is Here

BY AARON ATWOOD

REAR-SEAT PASSENGERS ARE TREATED TO AN UNPRECEDENTED LEVEL OF COMFORT, NOT TO MENTION THAT THE CAR PARKS ITSELF

Lexus may put driving instructors out of business. Yes, those unsung heroes of our culture should start looking for new jobs now that the Lexus LS 460 is on the market with its innovative Advanced Parking System. This car practically parks itself. Even better, it parallel parks itself!

Ask Oprah Winfrey, who demonstrated the prowess of the LS on her show. Says New Car Sales Manager at Desert Lexus in Cathedral City, Calif. Gabriel Marshall, "While she was parking it she kept screaming, 'This is so cool!'"

She's right. The navigation screen prompts drivers to indicate where they would like to park. Touch the screen, press the brake and the LS does the rest, whether it's backing into a space or negotiating a tricky parallel-only spot. The LS needs only about two more feet than the length of its body to park, which is less than some human drivers require. So cool.

Lexus is also eliminating the need to curse other drivers in stop-and-go traffic. The touch screen navigation system has a new feature that gathers traffic information and displays the trouble areas on your route — roads with gridlock turn red, smooth sailing is green. Your blood pressure drops and all is right with the world because you avoid trouble.

The LS is innovative down to its core. The eight-speed transmission, for example, is the first of its kind in a production car. Lexus engineers have one thought in mind when developing transmissions: seamless. They were so successful drivers will ask, "Does the LS 460 even shift?"

"It's almost like an electric golf cart," Marshall says. "You can barely feel it shift. I mean barely."

An electric golf cart with 380 horsepower and a 4.6-liter engine — try to get that past the course marshal next round. This eight-cylinder is getting up to 27 miles per gallon using both port and direct fuel injection, and it gets off the line fast, going from 0-to-60 in 5.4 seconds. The LS is a luxurious lightning bolt.

Trying to capture one of your own may be as difficult as catching lightning.

"I've got 30 orders that I haven't filled," Marshall says. "If you want one, absolutely get on a list. I could safely say I could get one for you, as long as you don't want the executive seat package end of May to mid June."

The executive seat package is worth the extra wait. It turns the right rear seat into the next best thing to a spa treatment with a massage system hidden under a layer of soft leather. The seat also reclines and has a legrest. Then there's the wood-trimmed table hidden between the two rear seats and the DVD system that drops from the ceiling. With all of this rear-seat luxury, Lexus may put an end to another of our cultural staples — the fight over who gets to ride shotgun.

"Everyone is pretty amazed by this car," says Billy Johnson, New Car Sales Manager at Lexus of Las Vegas. "Versus the competition, there is nothing that compares when it comes to the technology of this car."

This fully loaded brush with perfection will run around $94,000, including rear-seat massage and all the extras. One of those extras is a sound system so sublime it brings tears.

A Mark Levinson 19-speaker system gives the LS a true surround-sound experience. Seven channels dedicated to music make Beethoven's Fifth sound like its coming straight from the orchestra pit with percussion in the back and violins on the right.

Marshall gushes, "To recreate this in your home would cost about $110,000. You also get a 30-gigabyte hard drive that can store up to 2,000 songs. There's no need to take a CD in your car again."

Of course, the keyless entry eliminates the need for anything but pushbutton ignition, and there will be no more fumbling with keys to get into the car either. Instead, the LS recognizes the key in your pocket approximately three feet before you arrive and unlocks the doors for you. All of this technology is made possible with a Bluetooth component that also operates with cell phones.

After introducing your LS 460 to your cell phone, your calls come over a speaker by touching a control on the steering wheel. The controls are designed to keep drivers more focused on the road; however, Lexus understands that accidents can happen and has endowed the LS with a few safety features to help.

The pre-collision system Lexus has developed scans the road ahead. If an accident is eminent, the LS 460 pre-

Women's Hot List

Geox makes a rare hybrid of chic, functional apparel for the entire family while offering extreme "breathability." The innovative and patented breathable technology that propels sweat, in the form of water vapor, away from the body, keeps you dry and comfortable no matter what the weather brings. The patented Geox transpiration system and the ventilation bands on the shoulders make the Geox Women's Waistcoat, $152, breezy and attractive. Geox is sold at select Nordstrom locations and other retailers. Visit geox.com for more info.

The Lija Golf Cabana Culotte, $120, is an essential summer basic available in white, navy, dusk, olive and cocoa. Perfect for lunch in the clubhouse or a round of golf, this pleated culotte looks like a skirt but offers the function of shorts. Another great Lija piece is the Dista Uno Dress, $110, in navy/chambray, lawn/white, dusk/petal and olive/white. The lightweight fabric in this functional dress facilitates the transport of body moisture and increases the drying speed of the fabric, keeping the skin dry in any environment. It also provides UV protection, combining fashion and function in one great-looking outfit. Visit lijagolf.com for retail information.

Fidelity Denim is a hot new women's denim line that has quickly developed a fan base. The Plumaria jean is a skinny, straight, low-waisted jean that is a favorite of celebs like Demi Moore, Vanessa Minillo, Angelina Jolie and Eva Longoria. These jeans have a silk denim wash and 24k gold-plated hardware. Fidelity Plumaria jeans retail for $184 and are available at revolveclothing.com and in Aspen, Colo. at Boogie's.

FIDELITY DENIM

The Ann Veronica new preppy Fore River bag is perfect for lady golfers. It's a tiny zippered bag with inside and outside pockets to hold all the necessities. This eye-catching accessory comes in 10 bold, beach-inspired original patterns, such as Floral Fancy and Toy Boat, as well as 14 vibrant Spring/Summer colors including Spring Green, Navy and Orange. The Fore River bag, $48, is available online at annveronica.com.

The Pahr Abigail short goes on or off the golf course. Available in a kicky green plaid or solid khaki, black or white, the longer short features detailed piping around the waist and pockets, golf ball embroidery under the front left pocket, striped flip up cuffs and accent stitching. Made from 97-percent lightweight cotton and three-percent spandex, the shorts retail for $70 at pahr72.com.

Pamper your feet while golfing with innovative foot care from Apara and Sofsole. Apara offers a line of gel inserts for golf shoes (or any shoe from high heel to slingback) to ensure maximum comfort. The Apara Steppies provide comfort on the ball of the foot, and the Apara Cushie Heels conform to the inside heel of the shoe. The SofSole Thin Fit comfort insole offers gel heel and forefoot protection, providing extra cushioning with each step. Once you try these fabulous foot care products, you'll wonder how you ever golfed without them. Prices average from $6 to $30. Available at shoe stores across the country, or visit aparafootcare.com and sofsole.com for more info.

A Cut Above

THERE ARE MANY WAYS TO CUT A DIAMOND, AND
TODAY'S JEWELERS HAVE RECENTLY CREATED A FEW NEW WAYS WITH STUNNING RESULTS

BY DANA LAUREN BERRY

TIFFANY & CO

THERE'S NO QUESTION THAT MANY COUPLES WERE ENGAGED OVER THE PAST HOLIDAY SEASON OR VALENTINE'S DAY, POPULAR TIMES FOR MARRIAGE PROPOSALS. MEN WHO HAVE RECENTLY EXPERIENCED THE TOUGH CHOICE OF NARROWING DOWN A RING BASED ON THE "FOUR Cs" – CUT, COLOR, CLARITY AND CARAT – MAY HAVE DISCOVERED THAT THERE ARE NOW NEW CUTS AVAILABLE. FOR THOSE CONTEMPLATING GOING DOWN THE ENGAGEMENT ROAD, IT'S IMPORTANT TO FIND THE RIGHT CUT WHEN SELECTING A DIAMOND, AND MORE JEWELERS ARE OFFERING EXCLUSIVE SIGNATURE CUTS WORTH LOOKING INTO

THE CUT OF A DIAMOND, WHICH DESCRIBES A DIAMOND'S LIGHT PERFORMANCE, DIMENSIONS AND FINISH, IS CONSIDERED BY MANY TO BE THE MOST IMPORTANT OF THE FOUR Cs. CUT HAS THE GREATEST EFFECT ON THE SPARKLE, OR BRILLIANCE, OF THE RING. EVEN IF A DIAMOND HAS PERFECT COLOR AND CLARITY, A POOR CUT CAN MAKE IT LOOK DULL

Tiffany & Co., one of the world's authorities on diamonds, recently launched the new Tiffany Novo ring. The Novo is a modern diamond cut and setting that is designed for brilliance, with a new facet pattern and slightly squared outline.

"Through a unique faceting arrangement, we created a brilliant cushion cut that gives the finished diamond a fantastic sparkle and a modern new spirit," says Melvyn Kirtley, Tiffany's chief gemologist.

The cut of the ring maximizes brilliance with perfectly aligned facets in a customized setting of four sleek, tapered prongs. In addition to its cut, the setting is also what sets the Novo apart. The diamond is positioned on a bead-set diamond band in platinum. The handset diamonds also circle platinum, 18-karat yellow or rose gold wedding bands that match the ring. Novo bands are designed to be worn stacked, in a seamless statement of glamour.

Hyde Park Jewelers, with retail stores in Denver, Phoenix and Las Vegas, has launched a new square-cut diamond that is available exclusively at Hyde Park and is turning heads for its innovation and beauty. Called the Classica, the cut is available for diamonds sized 3/4 carats to two carats.

Hyde Park owners Michael Pollak and Steven Rosdal, with Mark Imlay, the company's director of diamond merchandising, worked closely with diamond cutters to define precisely the proportions in a square stone that will flash the rainbow of colors normally achieved in a round diamond. The Classica incorporates a step cut on top and a modified brilliant cut on the bottom, with 70 facets in all. The corners of the stone are cut at a 135-degree angle and the tolerances for proportions are exceedingly tight, leading to incredible brilliance.

"The Classica is a Hyde Park signature," says Imlay, noting its square shape with beveled corners is designed for optimal beauty. "There's been a real renaissance in diamond cutting. This is the result of jewelers wanting to be more unique and innovative."

Imlay also notes an advantage of the Classica diamonds is that they are mined in Canada in a regulated diamond mining industry, so there is no question about where the diamond came from or how it was acquired.

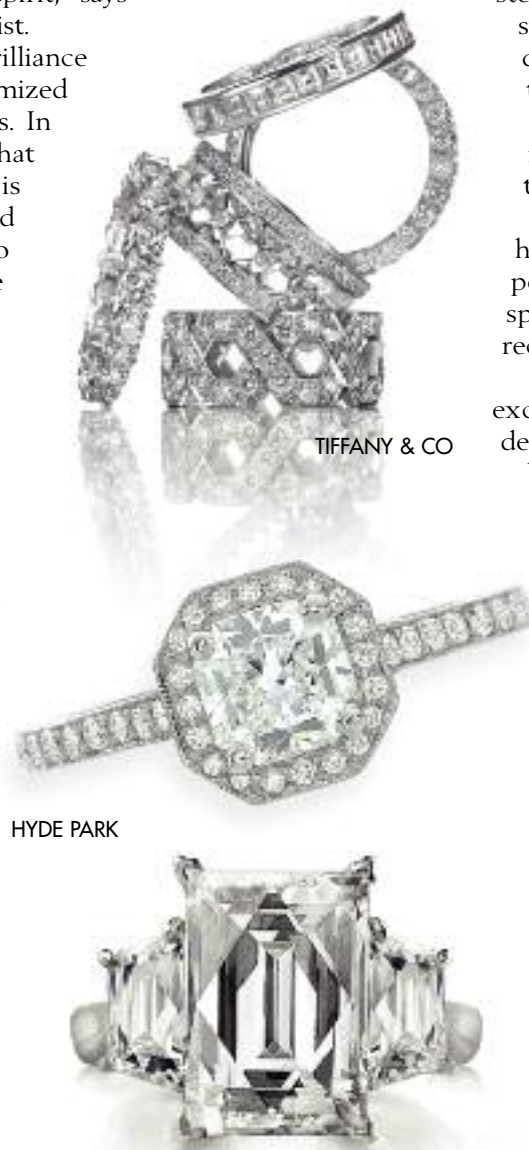

The Tycoon cut is another popular designer cut at Hyde Park. The Tycoon cut is a simple design with nine crown facets and 20 step-cut pavilion facets. Its step-cut pavilion design accentuates the stone's color, and the nine-crown facet design hides inclusions better than do traditional square designs. The Tycoon-cut diamond is available in rectangular, tapered, square, trapezoid and cut-corner shapes.

"The Tycoon is an emerald cut that has been improved upon for light performance," Imlay explains. "It sparkles more than the average rectangular cut."

Hyde Park is launching a new exclusive cut, the Virtu, expected to debut in the fall. The Virtu, which will be a modified version of the popular round cut, has already been under development for several months. "We're trying to create something with even more beauty," says Imlay.

Developing these new cuts is an expensive process; as much time and money is spent on prototyping as on actual diamonds. "It takes a lot of planning and refining," Imlay says. "We're trying to create a real brand image with these exclusive signature cuts."

When shopping for a diamond, Imlay stresses the importance of letting your eyes do the work. "So many customers rely on certificates and the facts of the 4 Cs. Those are valuable, but always remember that a diamond is a piece of art that should please your eyes and speak to you."
