The Inaugural Galleri Classic

Toms was one of 20 major tournament winners in the 78 player field

David Toms is the first champion of The Galleri Classic

Mission Hills Country Club

David Toms became the first champion of The Galleri Classic with a 16 under par performance besting the 78 player field on the PGA Champions Tour newest stop. Toms fired a final-round seven under par, 65 giving him a wire-to-wire victory. Steven Alker, the reigning PGA Tour Champions player of the year, fired a final round 67 to move into second place at 12-under. The wire-to-wire victory which earned the 53-year old Toms a $330,000 check from the $2.2 purse was Toms second PGA Tour Champions win in his last three starts and fourth overall. Toms was one of 20 major tournament winners in the 78 player field. He stood on the final green with the Galleri Classic trophy in hand, thanked the fans and volunteers, but refused to continue the long tradition of jumping into Poppie's Pond, set by LPGA champions, saying "he did not like the color of the water."

It has been said that when one door closes, another one opens. And that was just the case for the Inaugural Galleri Classic golf tournament held at Mission Hills Country Club in Rancho Mirage, California March 20-26th. After fifty-one years of celebrating the best players in the women's game saying goodbye last April the PGA Tour Champions picked up where the LPGA left off with a fresh event in the California desert. It was a natural flow into the schedule for the senior men professionals having just completed their event in Newport Beach.

March 2023 marks the first PGA Tour Champions event in the Coachella Valley since 1993. Indian Wells Golf Club hosted the Gulfstream Aerospace Invitational, which was held in the Coachella Valley from 1983 to 1993.

This year's field of 78 pros teed it up in the event claiming 20 major tournament champions and a combined 292 PGA Tour Champions titles. The tournament was played over the Dinah Shore Tournament Course that has been one of the deserts premier layouts for since opening in 1971. Many of the players remarked that it was one of the best conditioned courses that they play though out the year.

GRAIL, the host sponsor has committed to a five-year agreement to stay in the valley. Galleri is the name of the early detection screening test they have created where a simple blood sample can reveal warning signs of up to 50 different types of cancer. Fans attending the event were allowed to receive the free test on the grounds any day of the tournament. Bio-tech company Grail jumped into its first sports sponsorship believing it had an excellent opportunity through golf and the desert population to reach its most sought after demographic - those 50 and older.

Tournament director Michelle DeLancy, says “ it is a five-year commitment to start for the Galleri Classic and I think the opportunity for a major tournament is possible. A major has been here and I know it can play well here.” We will do a great job and the players will feel like they are playing in a major” There are a lot of golf fans here in the desert that will come out and support such a move by the PGA Champions Tour.

Longtime Tour professional, John Cook, who lived at Mission Hills and played the tournament course hundreds of times before turning pro said “this is a major championship course and always has been, the ladies had a great run here for 51-years with the Dinah Shore and the ANA. It is classic and old-school,” Cook chose this event to end his playing career and concentrate on his Golf Channel reporting job.

Over 500 tournament volunteers turned out in support of the Inaugural event to make sure it was a success. Great weather and snowcapped mountain views made it a most enjoyable place to watch some great golf with everybody already looking forward to next year’s event. Toms said “this was a true test of golf on a classic course and I will be back next year to defend. The 2024 Galleri Classic will be played March 26- 31st and who knows, maybe as a major on the PGA Champions Tour.

Grail: Shifting from one cancer at a time to one individual at a time

Bob Ragusa, Grail's Chief Executive Officer

The future is now. Thanks to Grail, LLC, a visionary healthcare company based in Menlo Park, California, the way we detect cancer is changing before our eyes. Grail's signature development, the Galleri multi-cancer early detection test, is the namesake behind the first annual Galleri Classic, part of the PGA Tour Champions, which recently wrapped at the Mission Hills Country Club.

The half century age of 50 years old usually marks the point when we start scheduling mammograms and colonoscopies. Unfortunately, many cancers go undetected until they have progressed to an advanced stage and people show symptoms. Recent research shows that adding a multi-cancer early detection blood test, such as Galleri, to the currently recommended screening tests may shift cancers that can be detected to earlier stages and may lead to a 39 percent reduction in five-year mortality for cancers that can be detected (or an approximate 26 percent reduction in overall cancer deaths).

Grail's first product, the Galleri test, launched in June 2021, is a groundbreaking multi-cancer early detection blood test with the potential to transform cancer care by detecting a shared cancer signal across more than 50 types of cancer, over 45 of which have no recommended screening today. Designed for those over 50 and/or with elevated cancer risk, the Galleri test results have a false positive rate of less than one percent, whereas single cancer screenings each has a false positive rate of 5 to 15 percent.

Multi-cancer early detection (MCED) is one of the most promising new tools in the war on cancer. Recent next-generation sequencing and machine learning advances have enabled the development of these tests that can identify a signal for many cancers from a single blood draw.

Multi-cancer early detection blood tests analyze DNA that has been shed by all cells, including cancer cells, into the bloodstream, looking for abnormal methylation patterns on those cell-free DNA fragments that indicate the presence of cancer. The Galleri test can also accurately predict the origin in the body from where that cancer signal originated.

Bob Ragusa, Grail's Chief Executive Officer, said, "This is the most direct applied application to change the mortality curve for cancer." As expected, Ragusa recognizes the significance for population health in democratizing access to cancer screening and saving millions of lives.

Megan Hall, Ph.D., Grail's Vice President of Medical Affairs, emphasizes that the Galleri test is a vital adjunct to standard of care cancer screenings (breast, colorectal, lung, cervical and prostate). She notes that we screen for these five common cancers, yet about 70 percent of people die from cancers for which screenings aren't taking place, such as pancreatic, brain, bone, stomach and others.

She notes, "The Galleri test doesn't replace our everyday cancer screenings. Rather, it's an important part of the equation to accurately detect and subsequently be able to diagnose cancer. The Galleri test complements these other screenings by extending the benefits of early detection."

Grail's President, Josh Ofman, MD, MSHS, said, "Cancer used to be a death sentence. This test changes all that, with early localized solid cancers being imminently treatable. Early vs. late detection is what leads to survival."

The test is currently an out-of-pocket expense for patients, but Grail is working with a coalition to find a pathway for insurance coverage and FDA approval. This will also help determine legislative measures required to gain Medicare and Medicaid (Medi-Cal in California) funding approval for administering the Galleri test to clients through CMS (Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services). These advances are aimed to make the test more affordable across various socioeconomic levels, incorporating the important elements of healthcare equity and access to care for patients.

In the meantime, Grail has forged more than 40 commercial alliances with employers, health systems and other stakeholders in 2022 and has over 60 partnerships. For physicians who are already implementing the Galleri test, Grail provides support services including education and awareness materials to make sure that patients can understand the process.

Clinical validation is key to demonstrating safety and efficacy. As such, Grail currently has over 300,000 people enrolled in clinical trials. This includes 140,000 people in the United Kingdom currently taking part in an NHS (National Health Service) trial, the largest-ever study of a multi-cancer early detection (MCED) test.

In addition to partnering with the PGA Tour Champions for The Galleri Classic in March, Grail brought a mobile blood draw unit to Rancho Mirage to the event to offer the Galleri test to attendees.

As for other projects that will impact public health, Grail is developing solutions to help accelerate cancer diagnoses, blood-based detection for minimal residual disease and other post-diagnostic applications.

Ragusa said, "We are excited that Grail could work with the PGA for The Galleri Classic as a platform to inspire fans and peers to be proactive about their health. Patients with cancer are not statistics. They're real people with hope for the future."

Ryder Cup: A Roman Holiday

Marco Simone Golf & Country Club

This coming September 29 through October 1, partisan fans from both sides of the Atlantic will wildly cheer on their teams in the biannual Ryder Cup matches. As the top American pros square off against Europe's best, it is the first Ryder Cup to ever be played in Italy, at Rome's spectacular Marco Simone Golf & Country Club. This is one tournament where pros compete not prize money, but for national pride.

It all started in 1927, America professionals against England, with a cup donated by English businessman Samuel Ryder. The Yanks and Brits each won the Cup twice in the first eight years. But then the Yanks shut out the Brits from 1935 all the way to 1957 and again through 1983. It was so one-sided for America that most golf fans couldn't care less about the Ryder Cup. It was a ho-hum yawner, not even fodder for front-page sports news. Who cared?

Then in 1979, it all began to change when the British PGA started inviting players from all over the continent, including the likes of Spain's Seve Ballesteros and Germany's Bernhard Langer. The Europeans won two straight Ryder Cups in 1985 and 1987 and retained it with a tie in 1989. The rivalry was back on. It took losing to get American fans' competitive spirt spewing. In fact, since 1985, the Europeans are 11-6-1 while often playing the role of David against Goliath, winning several times against elite, highly favored US teams.

With this regenerated rivalry, there have been haunting chokes and unforgettable comebacks on both sides. There was Europe's "Miracle at Medinah in 2012. Down 10-6 the final day, Europe won eight of the twelve singles matches and tied one to retain the Cup and leave Americans everywhere shell-shocked and humiliated.

The most remarkable comeback for the USA was no doubt in 1999 at The Country Club in Brookline. Europe led by the same 10-6 margin that had faced them at Medinah. They seemed a cinch to clinch. The night before, team captain and golf historian Ben Crenshaw had rallied his American troops by reminding them that there was magic at this old club. That it was here in 1913 that Brookline former caddy Francis Ouimet shocked the world, winning the US Open by catching English legends Ted Ray and Harry Vardon the final day then whipping them in a Monday playoff.

In his press conference after the third disappointing day of matches, Crenshaw wagged his finger emphatically at the cameras and said in a prophetic tone that now sounds like a premonition: "I'm gonna leave you all with one thought. I'm a big believer in fate." He let that sink in a few beats then added, "I have a good feeling about this."

The American team caught fire in the morning, winning the first six matches and clinching in the afternoon when Justin Leonard—down four holes after ten—holed a 45-foot putt to close out José María Olazábal and secure a 14.3-13.5 victory as Leonard's emotional teammates stormed the green. It seems almost spooky that Brookline's #17 green is directly across the street from Ouimet's boyhood home.

This year, the Europeans surely should be obsessed with revenge after getting trounced in 2021 at Whistling Straits. The youngest American team in the history of the Cup roared to a 19-9 victory, the largest margin in a Ryder Cup since 1967.

And while the war between the PGA Tour and the Saudi-backed LIV tour rages on, the American team will have to make a decision about allowing LIV players on the team. The Europeans have already said that LIV players can make the team by earning points in various ways. But the Americans are still balking. US Team Captain Zach Johnson publicly warned Americans playing the LIV tour that they may not be eligible for the team. Spain's Jon Rahm reacted in a recent CBS television interview. "I hope the PGA of America and European Tour make a decision together," Rahm said. "I don't think it would be smart to have one team allowing LIV players and one not to."

Rory McIlroy has been one of the biggest detractors of PGA Tour players who defected to the LIV tour. But he recently admitted that LIV golf has made a positive impact on the professional game. In an interview in early March, he said, "I'm not going to sit here and lie; I think the emergence of LIV or the emergence of a competitor to the PGA Tour has benefited everyone that plays elite professional golf."

No matter which way that LIV controversy falls, one thing is sure: Everyone who loves the game and can't be there in person will be glued to their TVs as the drama unfolds in yet another historic battle for national pride.

BNP Paribas Open:

A New Era has Dawned?

2023 men's singles
BNP Paribas Open
champion Carlos Alcaraz

Without question, the future of tennis is here—right now.

There's no denying that the future is bright for Carlos Alcaraz, a 19-year-old Spaniard who has already claimed eight ATP Tour singles, including the 2022 US Open and three Masters 1000 titles.

His third Masters 1000 title was the 2023 BNP Paribas Open, as he became the tournament's youngest men's singles champion and the first teenager to win it since Boris Becker—36 years ago.

Defeating 2021 US Open champion Daniil Medvedev (who entered the finals with a 19-match winning streak) 6-3, 6-2 in 1 hour and 10 minutes, Alcaraz reminded the tennis industry yet again that he could be the sport's next "big thing".

After all, he not only easily ended Medvedev's spectacular streak. He also never dropped a set, an achievement no one has accomplished since Roger Federer in 2017. And he claimed the No. 1 world ranking once again. Not too shabby for a 19-year-old.

He's quite humble for his age too, as evidenced by his encouraging words for 18-time ATP Tour singles winner Medvedev.

"You are an amazing player. You are working very hard," Alcaraz told his opponent after his victory. "I want to congratulate you for the work you have done in the last few months. Winning three titles in a row and reaching the finals here is an amazing achievement."

Medvedev, who, like Alcaraz, was playing in his first-ever singles final at a BNP Paribas Open, also praised his opponent. While reflecting on his latest winning streak and the ways he had overcome an ankle injury, he couldn't help but focus on Alcaraz's stunning achievements, too.

"I would like to congratulate Carlos. You already have amazing achievements in your career, and I'm sure many more to come," he emphasized on court during the post-match trophy ceremony. "Today's one more—winning Indian Wells. I also dream of it, so maybe next time."

Without question, Medvedev's time will come at the BNP Paribas Open, perhaps as early as next year. In addition, tennis fans may have witnessed the beginning of a potential rivalry: between one man who attained the No. 1 ranking roughly a year ago, and another who has become the first teenager to ever be No. 1 in the ATP Tour's world ranking.

Elena Rybakina Seeks Revenge Against Aryna Sabalenka

After losing to Aryna Sabalenka during the finals of this year's Australian Open, Elena Rybakina had a chance to retaliate roughly two months later, as she faced Sabalenka yet again in a finals match—this time at the renowned BNP Paribas Open.

Now ranked No. 7 in the WTA Tour world rankings, Rybakina, who was the No. 10 seed, defeated Sabalenka, who was the No. 2 seed, 7-6(11), 6-4, leading to her fourth WTA Tour singles title and first-ever WTA 1000 singles title. A winner of the 2022 Wimbledon Championships, the 23-year-old continues to display her immense potential, as she became the first female to defeat the WTA Tour's No. 1- and No. 2-ranked players at the BNP Paribas Open, in order to win the tournament.

The sixth straight first-time women's singles winner at the BNP Paribas Open, Rybakina also claimed her first victory since winning the Wimbledon Championships last summer.

"Hopefully I will come back next year and repeat this result," Rybakina stressed after reflecting on her hard-fought victory, as she ultimately defeated Sabalenka in 2 hours and 4 minutes.

2023 women's singles
BNP Paribas Open
champion Elena Rybakina

"Today I would say that I was super disappointed with my serve, so I was back to old habits," Sabalenka emphasized as she attempted to explain her loss. "I was like a little bit overreacting on things, and I wasn't there in the first two games in the second set."

Nonetheless, Sabalenka is a 12-time WTA Tour singles winner and a Grand Slam champion. Holding a 318-161 career record in singles, the future is certainly bright for her. And an entertaining rivalry has potentially begun between her and Rybakina. After all, they're only the third duo to ever compete in the Australian Open and BNP Paribas Open finals in the same year.

"It's actually the first time it went my way," Rybakina said, as she remembered her Australian Open loss.

"I will make sure it was the last one," Sabalenka quickly responded, much to the delight of tennis fans around the world.

Now is the time for more great tennis rivalries. Keep your eyes on this pair too, as they may have a tremendous rivalry as well.

On St. Patrick's Day, 43-year-old Rohan Bopanna proved that age is just a number, as he teamed up with Australian Matt Ebden, a two-time Grand Slam doubles champion (one in mixed doubles and another in men's doubles), to win the 2023 BNP Paribas Open men's doubles title.

A winner of 24 doubles career titles, Bopanna now has a 463-350 career record in doubles events. He has also been placed in the top five of the men's doubles world rankings, rising to as high as No. 3 in 2013, three years after he nearly won the 2010 US Open men's doubles title—and four years before he won the 2017 French Open mixed doubles title.

On the other hand, Ebden now has nine doubles career titles, one of which was last year's Wimbledon Championships. Currently maintaining a nearly .500 career record in doubles events (124-125), Ebden also won the 2013 Australian Open mixed doubles title.

As a result of the duo's 6-3, 2-6, 10-8 victory over Wesley Koolhof and Neal Skupski, who are both ranked No. 1 in men's doubles and have 27 doubles titles between them, Bopanna became the first Indian man to win the BNP Paribas Open men's doubles title since Leander Paes claimed it in 2007.

He also became the oldest man to ever win a Masters 1000 doubles title, just 13 days after he turned 43. Prior to the 2023 BNP Paribas Open, Bopanna had won four other Masters 1000 doubles titles.

"It's called Tennis Paradise for a reason," Bopanna said, while reflecting on Indian Wells Tennis Garden and his victory at the world-renowned facility. "I'm so happy that Matt and I were able to get this title here."

"We want to win the Slams, the Masters, the 500s and try to get to that No. 1 ranking," Ebden stressed. "That's what it's about. Today's a big step in that direction."

And who's to say they won't? After all, Ebden has showcased his talents at significant tournaments before, while Bopanna just proved that age is nothing but a number. And there's no reason to think their successful partnership won't continue throughout the remainder of 2023—and beyond.

Krejciková and Siniaková Dominate Yet Again

Meanwhile, although they're only 26 and 27 years old, respectively, Katerina Siniaková and Barbora Krejciková proved that experience is key at the 2023 BNP Paribas Open.

As the top seeds, with regards to women's doubles, Siniaková and Krejčíková defeated Beatriz Haddad Maia and Laura Siegemund 6-1, 6-7(3), [10-7] to claim their 15th women's doubles title together.

So far, Siniaková has won 22 women's doubles titles, including all Grand Slams, and three singles titles. Krejčíková, on the other hand, has triumphed at 16 women's doubles events, including each Grand Slam too, and six singles events, including the 2021 French Open.

Prior to the victory, the duo had finished second at the 2019 BNP Paribas Open, as they lost to Elise Mertens and Aryna Sabalenka. They certainly sought out revenge this year, defeating Haddad Maia and Siegemund in less than 2 hours. And no one can deny their recent run, especially in Grand Slams, as they've won four of the last five Grand Slam women's doubles titles, while also winning 24 consecutive Grand Slam women's doubles matches.

During the 2022 US Open, the duo also became the seventh team in the Open era to complete the career Grand Slam in women's doubles.

"There's a lot of emotions, but you just need to pick every ball and keep fighting," Siniaková said. "I think that's what's helping."

Undefeated in 2023, as the duo has a 11-0 record, Siniaková and Krejčíková haven't had as much success at WTA 1000 events though, as they hadn't claimed one since May 2021 and have only won three so far.

Perhaps this is the beginning of WTA 1000 greatness for the duo? No matter what happens, no one can deny their recent dominance.

"I'm really happy with how the match turned out at the end," Krejčíková stressed. "It's very nice to win another title."

Is yet another title in store for the duo in the near future? As

2023 women's doubles champions Katerina Siniaková and Barbora Krejčíková evidenced by their dominance, there's no reason to not expect greatness for years—perhaps even decades—to come.

The Agua Caliente Cultural Plaza

Celebrates ancient tradition in a modern way

The Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians will celebrate its history, culture, and modern-day life with visitors from around the world when the Agua Caliente Cultural Plaza opens this year.

The presence of the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians in the area now known as Palm Springs precedes any written calendar, record or memory. The Agua Caliente Indian Reservation was established in 1876 and expanded in 1877. The Reservation includes land in what is now Palm Springs, Cathedral City, and Rancho Mirage.

Today, the Tribe has more than 500 members and is one of the largest employers in the Coachella Valley with its Tribal government, three casinos, a resort hotel and spa, and attractions such as the Indian Canyons, Tahquitz Canyon, Indian Canyons Golf Resort, and the new Agua Caliente Culture Plaza in downtown Palm Springs, which includes the Agua Caliente Cultural Museum and The Spa at Séc-he.

The Spa at Séc-he opened April 2023

For the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians, no ancestral site is more significant than the Hot Mineral Spring on its ancestral land in downtown Palm Springs. The hot water, known to the Tribe as Séc-he, has effervesced for thousands of years. Bathing, or “taking the waters,” is an ancient tradition.

Just as the Hot Mineral Spring is the heart and soul of the Tribe, so it is for the newly opened The Spa at Séc-he, which offers 22 private mineral baths to guests.

“The opening of The Spa at Séc-he is a defining moment for the Tribe,” says Chairman Reid D. Milanovich. “The hot spring water means everything to us. It’s at the heart of tribal life and has been a cultural resource for us and our ancestors for thousands of years. The power of these healing waters is real, and we are proud to offer the experience to all who come.”

The Spa at Séc-he offers:
22 private mineral baths
15 treatment rooms

- Two couple’s treatment suites
- Two halotherapy salt caves
- Two float pod suites
- Two pools
- Four whirlpools
- Four luxury sun cabanas
- Four nesting day beds
- Acoustic wellness lounge
- Cryotherapy chamber
- Eucalyptus steam room
- Grounding room
- Menthol dry sauna
- Tranquility garden
- Fully equipped fitness center
- Full-service salon with scalp treatment beds
- Málmal Café, an indoor café with juice bar and Mediterranean-inspired favorites
- Pál Bar, a poolside bar with healthy comfort food selections

Learn more at thespaatseche.com. For reservations, call 866-PSSECHE (777-3243).

Agua Caliente Cultural Plaza to open late 2023

The Agua Caliente Cultural Museum will be a cultural heritage attraction and an educational institution with a mission to share and celebrate the story of the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians. Many artifacts, such as manos, metates and projectile points, were recovered from the Plaza site during construction in 2018. Many of these items will be displayed to demonstrate the Tribe’s enduring habitation of the region. Some items radiocarbon date as far back as 8,000+ years.

The Agua Caliente Cultural Plaza will be a cultural heritage destination. A sacred place for Tribal members and guests to celebrate the history, culture, traditions, and modern life of the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians. To learn more, go to visionaguacaliente.com.

3rd Annual Grant Fuhr Celebrity Invitational

By Wayne McCollum

The 2023 Grant Fuhr Celebrity Invitational will be held May 5th and 6th. Just like the 2022 event, the charitable funds raised will stay in the Coachella Valley in support of the Hazelden Betty Ford Foundation, a cause that Fuhr and his wife Lisa have a deep devotion.

Fuhr, is also intent that everyone that signs up to play has lots of time to mingle with celebrities in a relaxed atmosphere. The event kicks off on Friday May 5th, with a pairings party at the Hotel Paseo in Palm Desert, California, providing food, entertainment, and silent auctions. Saturday the event moves to the beautiful Desert Willow Golf Resort for a shot gun start and closes with an awards party on the Desert Willow Golf Resort patio.

The beneficiary is The Hazelden Betty Ford Foundation, an addiction treatment and advocacy organization that was created in 2014 with the merger of the Minnesota-based Hazelden Foundation and the Betty Ford Center in Rancho Mirage, California. The organizations had a long history together. Hazelden Foundation was founded in 1949, and Betty Ford herself visited the Minnesota headquarters in 1982 when she was planning to open the facility in Rancho Mirage.

The Hazelden Betty Ford Foundation bases its residential and out-patient services on a Twelve Step abstinence-based treatment model for individuals with addiction to alcohol and other drugs. The Foundation also includes the nation's largest addiction and recovery publishing house in a fully accredited graduate school of addiction studies, an addiction research center, prevention training and an education arm for medical professionals, family members and other loved ones, as well as a children's program.

Both Grant and Lisa Fuhr believe that this tournament is an opportunity to give back to the community and is reason enough to carry on this fun event as a tradition here in the desert. Should you be interested in participating, single spots are $1,000, or $3,800 for a foursome. For more information contact the Grant Fuhr Foundation at 760-902-0090, or visit grantgurhrcelebrityinvitational.com or email at gf31foundation@gmail.com

2nd Annual Charity Golf Classic & Dinner Show

The Mama's House 2nd Annual Charity Golf Classic & Dinner Show at Indian Wells Country Club hit a winning combination to rave reviews! This year's event was even bigger and better than the inaugural event last year. Visionary Event Co-chairs Dr. Vincent Nola, Jeroen Sparreboom, and Yin Tchen, returned to lead a thrilling day of golf followed by an elegant and super-entertaining dinner show. It was a stellar celebration of the 10th Anniversary milestone of Mama's House, which is the only residential home within the Coachella Valley providing shelter for women facing unplanned pregnancies or are otherwise at-risk women with children and/or victims of abuse, who are vulnerable with no place to go or no means of support. With loving support, these mothers are being equipped with necessary life skills for stability, recovery, and self-sufficiency.

"Mama's House has always dreamed of hosting an Annual Charity Golf Classic," said Jan Lupia, Founder & Executive Director of Mama's House Ministries. "So, when our Founding Board Member Dr. Vincent Nola informed me his neighbors, Jeroen Sparreboom and his wife Yin Tchen wanted to help us launch it, I was thrilled. This year's event raised much-needed funds for the Mama's House mission, and also supports our Expansion Project for the new Anne Silverstein Campus For Mama's House. Construction is expected to be completed by year's end on this second residential property, enabling Mama's House to quadruple the number of moms and infants it will serve. I want to thank everyone for giving of their time, in-kind and financial donations to further the good work of Mama's House Ministries."

A full field of golfers played on the renowned Cove Course, at Indian Wells Country Club, a par-72 classic designed by the Club's Founder, Eddie Susalia and Ted Robinson, Jr.

"We are grateful to the staff at Indian Wells Country Club, as well as all the volunteers who made this event successful," said Co-chair Jeroen Sparreboom. "Each child saved by Mama's House is a part of the future of our beloved country."

The not-to-be-missed dinner show featured a musical tribute to Frankie Valli & The Four Seasons. This blockbuster musical performance featured many hits from the dynamic songbook of those boys from Jersey including Sherry, Big Girls Don't Cry, Walk Like A Man, Can't Take My Eyes Off You, Working My Way Back To You, Let's Hang On, and Who Loves You. Oh What A Night! featured all the original hits, as well as many top 10 releases. This included Frankie Valli's biggest solo hit from the movie Grease! In 1990, Frankie Valli & The Four Seasons were inducted into the Rock n' Roll Hall of Fame.

Media Sponsors included Presenting Sponsor THE DESERT SUN & LOCALiQ, KESQ News Channel 3, and Alpha Media – Palm Springs.

By Madeline Zuckerman

Desert Arc scored a Hole In One and realized overwhelming community support at its 13th Annual Golf Tournament Fundraiser at Eagle Falls Golf Course at Fantasy Springs Resort Casino. Showcasing a full flight of dedicated golfers and more than 160 dinner guests, this highly-anticipated annual event was a tremendous success.

“It is my honor once again to Chair this Golf Tournament to benefit the many outstanding Desert Arc programs,” said Nancy Singer. “We are grateful for the outpouring of support from the community, as well as Board and staff members, as we continually strive to enhance the lives of over 700 people with disabilities.”

The camaraderie of guests was evident all day long, with many of the golfers returning year after year to play on this renowned Clive Clark designed par 72,6715 yard golf course. Avid golfers and guests enjoyed the day’s jam-packed festivities, which featured a BBQ Lunch, Shotgun Scramble, and a sumptuous Awards Buffet Banquet Dinner, lovingly prepared by Fantasy Springs’ renowned Chef Freddy.

“It is so terrific to continue the legacy Desert Arc has created over the last 64 years for adults with disabilities and their families in our community," said Celebrity Emcee Brooke Beare. "The services and opportunities we are able to provide, thanks to the contributions of the players and sponsors, reflects in our uniquely comprehensive programming."

Honma BERES Black

BERES Black offers sleek elegance that stands out on the course, plus Honma's timeless design. Its beautifully shaped driver efficiently transfers energy and generates consistent ball flight. Each clubhead is coated with a jet-black PVD process for a striking finish.

While Mizuno, Miura, and PXG may currently be better known in the golf domain as premium club manufacturers, NOTHING manufactured today compares to Honma's Black BERES clubs. Five stars should really be 10 stars as this series of clubs are nullus secundus – second to none compared!

What really provides the power to this driver is Honma's original shaft - the ARMRQ MX. These shafts are made in Japan using the highest quality materials at Honma Golf HQ in Sakata. They feature proprietary designs using NEW 10 Axis Sheet Metal Hybrid Armour Technology (4-Axis Aluminum and 6-Axis Carbon) to deliver Counter-Balance designs for added clubhead speed, along with industry-leading Toray Composite T1100G Carbon.

Lofts are available in 9.5°, 10.5°, and 11.5°, each with a lie angle of 60° and a 46" length. The ARMRQ MX Black shafts are available in R2, R, SR, and S and feature a mid-low kick-point and an average torque of 75°. The driver's GR Honma Rubber 41GD grip weighs 41 grams in an M60 size.

The Bushnell Ion Elite GPS Watch

The pages upon pages of reviews about just how great the Bushnell Ion Elite watch are true.

Of all the watches I have tested, this is the one watch that outperforms every other GPS watch on the market. It is so fully feature laden that it is like having a desktop or iPad strapped on your wrist.

From the super easy-to-read Color Touchscreen, to the HoleView and shot planning feature, to the weight and comfortableness, it has no match! The HoleView screen allows you to view the layout of the hole, and with Shot Planning on, you can get precise distances to any point on the hole.

Another USP (Unique Selling Proposition) is that the Ion Elite is the first watch to feature Bushnell Golf's patented Slope Technology.

What is very cool is the green view, with a movable pin placement which allows the golfer to see the shape of the green and adjust for the location of the pin for heightened accuracy.

Another feature I really like is the ability to move forward or backwards to a hole to verify information, or to simply let the Ion Elite auto hole advance from hole-to-hole without pushing any buttons. The shot distance calculator, scorekeeping and auto course recognition, just make this watch so very enjoyable to use.

It is exceptionally easy to charge, with its magnetic USB charging cable that lasts easily for two rounds.

Garmin Approach S62, Premium Golf GPS Watch, Built-in Virtual Caddie

Garmin has recently announced the release of the Garmin S62 which is an upgrade on the existing S60 Approach watch.

The 1.3" easy-to-read color touch screen with a scratch resistant ceramic bezel and interchangeable QuickFit bands, still has the same look and feel of the S60. Garmin has added two on screen buttons that let you toggle through screens, various hazards and Green and course view. Battery life: up to 20 hours in GPS mode, 14 days in smartwatch mode.

Another great feature is that you can target any position on the course with a tap on the screen, and the compass feature will still show you the distance and direction to the green at all times.

The S62 is like a personal golf caddy. The watch gives you distances to the front, middle and back of the green, and it will show you various layup options for each hole.

Another huge benefit we found is the versatility, because not only does it work on the course, but also off it. There are also loads of fitness tracking options, such as allowing you to connect to your phone via Bluetooth, and so allowing you to get smart notifications like text, emails and calls, directly to the watch.

The S62 has 41,000 courses worldwide that will load automatically once you arrive. A primary and useful feature of the S62 is its ability to take the slope into account for your distance to the green.

Cleveland Launcher XL HALO Hybrid Irons

If you are looking for irons that make your life easier, the latest HALO irons are your answer.

I personally have been enamored with the HALO ever since its introduction many years ago. I love the way they "launch" the ball.

Although these oversize hybrid-style irons might not appeal to everyone, especially more skilled golfers, the technology can benefit just about anyone because the size and hollow body allow weight to be placed where it's needed most—low and back to get the ball launched.

The Launcher XL Halo uses AI Design that produces variable-thickness patterns milled into the back of each face to provide added ball speed, while removing mass, resulting in maximum forgiveness across the face.

The irons are huge and they are hollow compared to other irons on the market, BUT, they perform exceptionally well, especially if you have struggled with longer irons previously.

The Launcher XL Halo's explosive ball speed will increase your distance on every shot, even when you miss the sweet spot. Expect both a bona fide Hybrid performance from every iron and at least 5-10 yards additional distance per iron.

The HALO Hybrid irons are so good that they received Golf Digest's 2023 Hot List Gold Medal!

WEDGES (ball position & shaft lean)

This past week I had the pleasure of golfing with a few of my clients & meet new golf friends. I feel excited to share some of these golf wedge tips with you. This month's golf topic: wedges, ball position, shaft lean, weight distribution and club selection. Today let's work on the basics of wedges & then you will feel a better wedge game.

You will need: your Sand Wedge (56*) for all of these drills (start out simple, then add: lob wedge (60*, then gap wedge 52*)

Ball CENTERED:

Ball position: place the golf ball in the center of your stance

Feet together : then move your feet to a 7 iron width in a slightly "open stance" (left foot is back & right foot is slightly forward)

Torso (I call it the zipper of the body): is upright & more over the ball

Weight distribution: more on the left side (10-20%) the more you lean left with your weight the more the ball runs as well

Shaft lean: stays NEUTRAL, inside left leg for normal trajectory (the more you lean your SHAFT .the lower the golf ball runs or releases due to the delofting of the club)

Hands: slightly stronger grip thumbs to 2:00-2:30 pm

Notice in photo: the golf ball ejects at a normal trajectory (loft of the club)

Ball FORWARD:

Ball position: place the golf ball in the FRONT of your stance (more toward your left heel)

Feet together : then move your feet to a WIDER "hybrid / or fairway" width in a more "open stance" (left foot is back & right foot is slightly forward)

Torso (I call it the zipper of the body): is upright & more over the ball

Weight distribution: more on the left side (10-20%) the more you lean left with your weight the more the ball runs as well

Shaft lean: stays NEUTRAL, or slightly BEHIND THE BALL .inside left leg for normal trajectory (the more you lean your SHAFT .the lower the golf ball runs or releases (due to the deloft of the club)

The shaft lead is also "lower", super close to the thighs feel like the club in on your lap

If you do shaft lean back: OPEN UP YOUR BLADE & use the bounce of the club more

Hands: palms facing "up to sky more" (stronger grip) .you could face the up to the sky (thumbs to 3 pm)

Notice in photo: the golf ball ejects at a HIGHER trajectory (loft of the club IS INCREASED DUE TO BALL POSITION)

Ball BACK:

Ball position: place the golf ball in the BACK of your stance (more toward your RIGHT heel)

Feet together : then move your feet to narrower stance a 9 iron width in a slightly “open stance” (left foot is back & right foot is slightly forward)

Torso (I call it the zipper of the body): is upright & more over the ball

Weight distribution: more on the left side (10-20%) the more you lean left with your weight the more the ball runs as well

Shaft lean: stays LEFT, or slightly TOWARD THE INSIDE TO OUTSIDE OF THE LEFT LEG ..(the more you lean your SHAFT the lower the golf ball runs or releases (due to the deloft of the club)

If you do shaft lean: square blade then experiment with: hooded, then open, then really open blade

Hands : palms facing “up to sky more” (stronger grip) .you could face the up to the sky (thumbs to 3 pm)

Notice in photo: the golf ball ejects at a LOWER trajectory (the club is “delofted” just by the ball position)

Ball BACK

DRILLS:

BEGININGS GOLFERS: 10 balls of each ball position .then work up to 50 balls

REPITIONS DRILLS : 50 balls of each swing (gain skill & knowledge, then feel)

El Dorado Country Club

Terry Beardsley

Terry Beardsley joined El Dorado Country Club as the Head Golf Professional in 1977. The road to this impressive accomplishment, began when he moved to Rancho Mirage when he was ten. His father passed away at the tender young age of 13.

A golf course was under construction in Rancho Mirage by Jimmie Hines, the developer of what is now Eldorado Country Club and Beardsley, 13 at the time, interviewed to be a range boy. The Head Professional at the time was Bill Ogden who in time, became very important to Beardsley's life and filled an important role as Beardsley's second father and mentor. Ogden taught the young Beardsley how to play golf and a work ethic by believing in hard work and figuring things out on your own. From an early age, these traits have been the catalysts that have followed him throughout his career in both in his professional and personal life.

Upon graduating from Palm Springs High School, Beardsley attended San Jose State University on a four-year scholarship, and graduated with a B.S in Management. During his college years, his passion and dedication was to excel at golf. He qualified to play in four NCAA Division One championships.

Beardsley's commitment to his craft and his community is evident in his numerous accolades and accomplishments. Recognized as the Southern California PGA Section's Golf Professional of the Year and the Horton Smith Award Winner. Beardsley served on the Desert Chapter PGA Board of Directors and has been instrumental in the success of several local charity events, including the Palm Springs International Film Festival Golf Tournament and the former Humana Challenge, known now as the American Express.

Over the years, Beardsley has earned a reputation as a true ambassador for the sport, helping to promote golf and grow the game in the Coachella Valley. Beardsley is dedicated to providing an exceptional golf experience to every guest. Taking great pride in helping players of all skill levels improve their game, Beardsley is passionate about promoting the sport he loves to a new generation of golfers.

Beardsley's story is one of hard work, dedication, humility, self-motivation and infinite determination from an early age. His journey has been full of exciting adventures and accomplishments. Beardsley's constant visibility on and off the course, is a rare characteristic found in club professionals these days. He exemplifies the perfect professional and teaches those around him to do the same. He is providing assistant professionals and his staff the same lessons and expectations.

We asked Beardsley what do you do different at El Dorado Country Club for your members? Beardsley shared, "we try to execute the gold standard of service on a daily basis by being visible to the membership and putting our best foot forward." Beardsley was involved in Sunnylands as being Mrs. Annenberg's personal golf professional and would be available, occasionally on Tuesdays, for a couple hours to go meet with Mrs. Annenberg. We also asked Beardsley "What was it like being a personal professional at Sunnylands on Tuesdays to meet and greet Mrs. Annenberg and be on call and play with guests who were visiting? Beardsley proudly shared "meeting the types of political figures and being able to play golf with them was very intriguing for me. The art work at the estate was very educational and I enjoyed learning about something so new to me."

Beardsley and his wife Karen run the golf shop at El Dorado Country Club with Karen having won 18 Merchandiser of the Year Awards over these many years. The Beardsley's have been married 40 years and have three lovely daughters, Sara, Kelly and Beth and are beaming grandparents to five grandchildren. Eldorado members are proud to have the Beardsley's running their golf operations.

Anthony Anderson Celebrity Golf Classic

By Alison Elsner

A charitable party with a purpose to benefit minority businesses and give back to kids in Compton

Anthony Anderson describes himself as “just a kid from Compton.” The actor, comedian, game show host and philanthropist never forgets where he came from and walks the walk when it comes to giving back.

The 5th Annual Anthony Anderson Celebrity Golf Classic presented by Lexus has become one of his signature events, raising over three quarters of a million dollars over the past five years to benefit minority businesses and inspire kids of color. This year's event will take place May 21-22 at Bighorn Golf Club in Palm Desert and will be produced by Hammond Entertainment.

The tournament raises funds for The Anthony Anderson Family Foundation which supports Children's Hospital LA, Boys & Girls Club of America, The Black Academy of Arts & Letters, Los Angeles Mission, Compton Jr. Posse (CJP) Youth Equestrians, Tomorrow's Aeronautical Museum, Children Striving Together, Compton Initiative and Compassion for Teen Life Foundation.

The two-day event starts on Sunday, May 21 with a VIP Reception and Pairings Party held at the Canyons Steak House. Immediately following, Anderson and coordinators will host a Private VIP Celebrity Cigar Lounge. The next day, Monday, May 22, players will take to the Tom Fazio designed Canyons course where participants can expect superlative golf. At the conclusion of golf, attendees will gather for a reception and awards ceremony at Canyons Steak House.

Commensurate with the A-list power that Anderson commands, the tournament will host a star-studded line-up of athletes and entertainers including Julius “Dr. J” Erving, Cedric The Entertainer, Barry Bonds, Ozzie Smith, Marcus Allen, Derrick Brooks, Mike Woodson, Phillip Bailey, Steve Garvey, D.L. Hughley, Tisha Alyn, Chandler Parsons, Norm Nixon, Maranie Jaslowski, Greg Lloyd, Seth Joyner, Jessica Maceira, Jack Wagner, Michael Irby, Kate Shee, Isabelle Shee, Peter Mackenzie, Galen Gering, David Justice, Maiya Tanaka, Misa Tanaka, Carter Thicke, Patrick Warburton and Sterling Sharpe, to name a few and subject to change.

Anderson said, “I am honored to say that after many years of playing in other classics and supporting charitable causes around the world, I can host my own for the fifth year. The AACGC has become a renowned two-day event of great golf, fun, laughter and most importantly, charitable giving to causes near and dear to my heart.”

Emmy and Golden Globe nominated actor Anderson is the star and executive producer of ABC's multi-award nominated sitcom “black-ish.” He portrayed Andre “Dre” Johnson, a family man who struggles to gain a sense of cultural identity while raising his kids in a predominantly white, upper-middle class neighborhood.

Anderson also hosts his third season of the ABC game show “To Tell the Truth,” a popular primetime re-imagination of the beloved classic game show of the same name. He is also producing “grown-ish,” a “black-ish” spin off on Freeform.

Anderson joined the cast of the long-running NBC crime drama television series, “Law & Order” in 2008. After three seasons (18, 19, and 20) as Kevin Bernard, he reprised the role upon the series’s revival in 2022, concurrent with the final episodes of “black-ish.”

Anderson has hosted several episodes of “Jimmy Kimmel Live,” standing in for Kimmel. He made his directorial foray in October of 2022 when he and his mother Doris began filming “Anthony Anderson and Mom: European Vacation” to be aired on the E! network.

Anderson’s series “Eating America with Anthony Anderson” was a summer show in 2014. He visited different towns in America that host food festivals highlighting specific types of food. He was a frequent judge on “Iron Chef America,” and he was one of the few judges to taste dishes from all the Iron Chefs on the show. In the “Ultimate Bar Food” battle, he served as bartender and sous-chef for Iron Chef Bobby Flay opposite Masaharu Morimoto and fellow judge Simon Majumdar.

Anderson started out in stand-up comedy. He is an alumnus of the Hollywood High School Performing Arts Magnet’s Class of 1988 and graduated from Howard University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in 2022.

Active in his community as an advocate and philanthropist, Anderson’s previous Golf Classics have benefited the American Diabetes Association, Los Angeles Mission and Boys & Girls Club of America. He also proudly serves on the GOOD+ Foundation’s Fatherhood Leadership Council and was recently inducted into the Class of 2017 Boys & Girls Clubs of America National Alumni Hall of Fame. Anderson has Type 2 diabetes and is an advocate for diabetes awareness and a spokesperson for the “Get Real About Diabetes” campaign.

Bill Hammond, president of Hammond Entertainment which produces the Golf Classic, noted that an important part of the success of the tournament is the venue. Bighorn Golf Club represents a first-class experience, ushering in welcome patronage and business support for local Coachella Valley restaurants, bars and hotels and reinforcing the existing sense of community.

Sponsorships that offer player spots start at $1,500 for one player and go up to $100,000 for title sponsorships which include six foursomes each paired with a celebrity player. Hole and tee sponsorships are available for $750, and admission to the Sunday VIP reception only is $500 per person.

Anderson said, “We cannot do this without our supporters, and together we can make a huge impact to create a better community and world. I am especially honored to be able to give back to my hometown of Compton. It is your generosity of time, money and donations that make dreams come true.” For information to play or sponsor, contact nicole@hammondentertainment.com or hammondentertainment.com/projects/anthony-anderson-cgc.

Dine In and Rock Out at

By Alison Elsner

Big Rock Golf and Pub

Having a good time just took on new meaning. The ultimate experience will be found at Big Rock Golf and Pub, where guests can dine and drink, watch live entertainment and play a round of golf.

Immediately captivating is the extensive collection of rock and roll artwork on display on the walls and in display cases throughout the pub, including autographed guitars and one-of-a-kind memorabilia from generations of rock stars and music legends. Lunch and dinner somehow taste even better while taking in the spectacular views of the mountains and the lush golf course from each of the three dining patios or inside the main restaurant. A fire pit and outdoor pool tables add to the ambiance.

The authentic bier garden is fully inspired by the real thing in Bavaria, pouring a wide selection of draft and bottle beers, IPAs and craft brews. A welcoming environment decorated with trees, flowers and strung lights creates an inviting space surrounding picnic tables meant for making memories with new friends.

Music plays on a state-of-the-art sound system throughout the pub. While drinking or snacking, guests are able to watch favorite music videos, rockumentaries, concerts and sporting events on large-screen televisions positioned all around the dining room and bar.

During most evenings, live music packs the dance floor with acts such as Michael Keith, The Shadow Band, Electric Feel, SK Jive, Derek Jordan Gregg and others.

The pub menu is like no other, serving up starters such as smoked hot wings and rock nachos. Soups and salads feature smoked brisket chili and cornbread, BBQ chicken salad, spinach salad, classic Caesar and more. "Sandwiches and Stuff" keeps friends and family happy with offerings such as lamb burger, sloppy Joe grilled cheese, Nashville hot chicken sammie and Italian sub.

Large plates are extra satisfying, serving pancetta carbonara, cedar plank salmon, Cajun ahi, jambalaya and fish and chips. The pizza menu covers every taste, with selections such as carnivore, Mr. 59, Hawaiian, margherita and works. For those with particular cravings, custom pizzas are available where guests can build their own pizza by selecting sauces, cheeses and toppings.

It's not a cliché to advise diners to save room for dessert, as these are some of the best in the Coachella valley, with bananas foster bread pudding, churros and peanut butter cup.

Brunch is also popular at Big Rock, with biscuits and gravy, chilaquiles, fruity pebbles French toast, cheeseburger and Cali club, among other choices. There's even a kids' menu.

Then of course, there's the golf. The Big Rock Golf Course at Indian Springs is an 18-hole public golf course and is considered one of the most "immaculate" courses in the desert with well-kept fairways and meticulously groomed greens. Comfortable for all levels of play, Big Rock offers a 6,794 yard challenging yet golfer friendly layout with 360-degree panoramic views, eight lakes, two streams and three dramatic waterfalls. It has been rated "Best Course under $100" by "The Desert Sun," and it has also been voted "Best Public Golf Course" by "Palm Springs Life" for its friendly staff and service. It is consistently the best conditioned course in the desert with tournament speed greens.

Knowing there's a bier garden, delicious dining menu and exciting live music awaiting at the end of a day of golf gives every golfer something to swing for.

Coachella Valley restaurants feature the best in Mediterranean cuisine

Azúcar

Azúcar

Located in La Serena Villas, Azúcar is reminiscent of a private European bungalow. The Spanish tile decor, courtyard swimming pool and friendly palm trees peeking out above the terra cotta roofs will convince you that the paparazzi is just around the corner.

With signature fresh and contemporary offerings, starters set the tone with yellowfin tuna tartar, roasted red pepper hummus and parmesan truffle fries. Salads include roasted beet, honey balsamic date and watermelon, among others. Lunch and dinner entrées feature grilled swordfish, filet mignon and roasted cauliflower tacos, Dungeness crab stuffed poblano pepper and Huertas pasta. Desserts shine with options such as toffee brownie and key lime cheesecake.

After dinner, a nightcap up on the Sugar High Rooftop Lounge will put the finishing touches on the evening, with options such as blood orange margarita, spicy melon or a glass of Rombauer chardonnay – or maybe all of the above. After all, it's five o'clock somewhere – especially here.

Waldo's Ristorante & Bar

From Waldo Cesoni, the owner of Backstreet Bistro, Waldo's offers a true Italian culinary epiphany. This charming eatery with a European flair pays homage to the essence of the great Italian-American restaurants of mid-20th century in New York, where delicious, exceptionally well-prepared food was served in settings that were simultaneously elegant, comfortable and unpretentious.

After sipping on a guava cosmopolitan or a Latin spritz, appetizers beckon with selections such as five cheese ravioli or roasted peppers and sausages, and the entrée menu boasts creations such as chicken marsala, cannelloni, short ribs alla Italiana, eggplant parmigiana, penne puttanesca, salmon and halibut. Portions are generous with aromatic fresh bread accompanying the meals.

Mercedes S 680 Shines

A stunning vehicle that promises to turn heads

Where to buy

Mercedes-Benz of Palm Springs
 4095 E Palm Canyon Dr,
 Palm Springs, CA 92264
 (760) 328-6525
www.mercedesofpalm Springs.com

Mercedes is getting into the fashion market. Its new S-Class limited edition offers more bling for your buck than anything else on four wheels. While Maybach is a model worthy of the red carpet under anyone's roof, now that Mercedes is in charge of the brand, Maybach has taken center stage in 2023.

This year, Mercedes-Maybach is set to release their latest luxury offering, the S 680 Haute Voiture. With only 150 models to roll off the line, it defines exclusivity.

This stunning vehicle promises to turn heads, even of the most seasoned, offering unparalleled comfort, power, and style. With cutting-edge technology and an emphasis on driver and passenger comfort, the Maybach S 680 crushes casual.

At first glance, the exterior of the S 680 whispers sophisticated. The two-tone paint combines metallic nautical blue on top which bleeds into a rose gold in the lower section. Add four nautical blue metallic rims and you have a piece of art. The animated Mercedes-Maybach lighting that illuminates the ground at night when the doors open serves to remind drivers and passersby that this isn't your average Mercedes.

The body is made from lightweight materials, which not only enhance its aerodynamics but also contribute to its impressive fuel efficiency. The car's distinctive long hood, sleek lines, and low profile create an aggressive and confident look, perfect for commanding attention on the road. The LED headlights and taillights add to the car's modern and luxurious feel, while the chrome accents provide a touch of elegance.

Under the hood, the S 680 boasts an impressive 6.0-liter V12 engine that generates a staggering 621 horsepower and 738 lb-ft of torque. This engine is mated to a nine-speed automatic transmission, allowing for a smooth and seamless driving experience. The car is also equipped with all-wheel drive, ensuring that the power is distributed evenly to all four wheels, giving drivers a sense of control and stability on the road.

Inside, the SL 80 offers a level of luxury that is unmatched. The cabin feels like a scene from a European castle as much as it does a car in the 21st Century. The seats are upholstered in the finest leather, and the interior is accented with wood and chrome detailing. The wood is etched with pinstripes to feel like a luxury suit. The headrests are pillows in the rear cabin.

The S 680 is also equipped with a host of advanced technology features, including a large touchscreen display that controls the car's infotainment system. This system includes a premium sound system, satellite radio, and navigation, as well as Apple CarPlay and Android Auto compatibility. The car also features a suite of advanced safety features, including lane departure warning, forward collision warning, and adaptive cruise control. You may want a chauffeur so that you can enjoy the full benefits of everything the S 680 offers.

Passengers are the winners in the S 680 game. A retractable roof allows passengers to enjoy the open air, while still remaining shielded from the elements. The seats pay more attention to you than a doting mother with heating, cooling, and massage functions available. Can you change your permanent address to a car? The suspension system adjust to ride any which way you want, which you'd expect given every other feature is focused on comfort.

The S 680 is also designed with convenience in mind. The car features a large trunk, which can accommodate all of your luggage and belongings, making it perfect to move right in. The car's advanced parking assist system takes all the guesswork out of parking in any situation.

Overall, the 2023 Mercedes-Maybach S 680 is an impressive feat of engineering and design. It offers drivers and passengers unparalleled luxury, performance, and convenience, making it the perfect car for those who demand the very best. Whether you're cruising down the highway or navigating the city streets, the S 680 not only gives you something unique, it gives you the sense that an engineer in Germany was thinking of you when he dialed up the features of this magic machine.

In addition to the special badge, 1/8th replica of the car in a leather-wrapped box, and unique key ring, Mercedes is also launching a bag collection to accompany the series. It will hit retail locations in early 2023 at Maybach Icons of Luxury physical and online stores. Available in different styles and sizes in a limited run, items will be comprised of select materials featured in the vehicle interior, combining Haute Couture extravagance with detailed craftsmanship.

As you would expect with the duo of Mercedes and Maybach names, the S 680 comes with a premium price tag. The starting price is expected around $250,000. While you can't wear this piece of fashion, you'll want to spend as much time in it as you can if you're lucky enough to get a model.

The sister act has attracted a loyal following of smart, sartorially savvy women with an eye for quality fabrics and inventive cutting. Zimmermann began literally and creatively in Sydney, with Nicky focusing on designing dresses and selling them at Paddington markets. During the week Nicky would design and create garments from her parents' garage in preparation for the weekend market. The markets were an opportunity for Nicky to refine her aesthetic and see first-hand how women responded to fashion.

The flowing, ladylike designs in muted colors immediately bring to mind the craggy coastlines and charming waterfront landscapes depicted in a Jane Harper Aussie novel. There's an ease and natural quality to the designs that accentuate a woman's form without trying too hard, ready to accept life's sudden surprises much like withstanding waves crashing upon the rocks.

The High Tide Nautical Crop Top in ivory linen lends a youthful air to a decidedly adult design. Embroidered circle details are placed throughout the flowing top, with a fringe trim in sheer linen. Nautical inspired lace discs are positioned throughout against organza panels. A crew neckline, loose silhouette and three-quarter sleeves keep the style casual with a button closure at the left shoulder. The hem falls to the hip. $995.

The High Tide Mini Shirt Dress offers a tailored foundation accented by details such as short puff sleeves and button cuffs. Notch lapels and a button front strike a cool balance with a pleated, belted waist and full skirt that hits above the knee. A V-neckline and three-quarter sleeves bring dimension to a classic shirtdress silhouette. Crafted of linen and silk, embroidered details throughout include hem and sleeve finishing. A subtle odyssey print depicting old world scenes and seafaring landscapes blends tones of cream, blush and sky blue. $1,750.

The High Tide Lift Off Flower Mini Dress in soft lemon yellow skims the body much like gentle waves drifting along the shore at low tide. The versatile linen-blend dress features asymmetrical spaghetti straps with floral detail along the right shoulder. The sleeveless shift silhouette has a hem that falls above the knee. Textured floral appliques are placed along the surface of the dress which fastens in back with a hidden zipper. $1,350.

Frothy and fluffy, the Lauren Long-Sleeve Embroidered Midi Dress displays a simple high crew neckline, belted waist and flounce hem. An A-line silhouette constructed of linen culminates in a hem that falls below the knee, and long, voluminous sleeves with elastic cuffs keep the look relaxed. An intricate navy baroque floral pattern incorporates tones of navy blue, peach, pale pink and deep raspberry in a repeated abstract motif. $895.

The Wonderland Printed Slip Dress is a maxi dress with a crew neckline and long sleeves. The full-length slip silhouette glides smoothly through the bodice and finishes with a draped flare along the bottom hem. Each sleeve flares slightly at the wrist, adding a splash of elegance. The peony garden floral print is a vibrant mix of greens, reds, pinks and cream with a vintage European vibe. Made from pure silk, the back zip ensures a flat contour. $1,600

The Tiggy Paneled Linen Romper knows when to be serious and when to let loose. A paneled-button front has a high collarless neckline, chest flap pockets and front and back patch pockets. Long puff sleeves and elastic cuffs suggest an easy, confident attitude. A belted waist connects to flared-leg shorts. Made entirely in linen, the khaki color is rooted in earthtones, avoiding unnecessary fuss and frills. $560

The High Tide Laced Midi Dress immediately conjures up images of beach barbecues and bonfires. This strapless and sleeveless dress features a lace-up bodice in a chevron cotton blend with a tailored navy and cream stripe pattern. Side slip pockets add ease and comfort reinforced by the A-line skirt that falls to mid-calf length. Made from cotton, polyester and acrylic and lined in cotton, the drape is soft and spontaneous. For a simple, unadorned look, wear this dress without jewelry to maintain emphasis on the overall form. $1,450

The Wonderland Picnic Dress bursts forth in vibrant red. Made from linen, the design showcases a V-neckline and smocked back. Sleeveless with slim, adjustable shoulder straps, the bodice is bordered by a wide waistband to accentuate the trim mid-section. An A-line skirt is pleated at the waist and falls below the knee to tea length. Lined in cotton, the dress is finished in back with a zipper. $695

Harakh: Joyful diamond jewelry with a higher purpose

Bringing the treasures of ancient dynasties to today's fashion

By Alison Elsner

When fourth generation diamantaire Harakh Mehta decided to establish his eponymous brand Harakh, he promised himself that the brand would also strive for a higher purpose – to give and spread joy to all those who come in contact with it. After all, the name Harakh in his native language meant exactly that: “a deep sense of joy and happiness.” The tear of joy symbol is indeed inscribed on every Harakh jewelry piece.

Like the ancestral origins of the designer, his stunning diamond jewelry is inspired by the vast treasures inherent in the lore and history of the land of Gujarat and Rajasthan in India. Harakh currently resides in Mumbai with his parents, wife and children.

All Harakh pieces are made with only colorless diamonds. Every diamond, no matter how small, is colorless with the highest color grades of D, E and F in order to integrate the message of purity and spirituality and the priority of purifying the mind, heart and soul. Wearers of the brand can rest assured about its sustainability, designed to preserve the harmony of our ecosystems, respecting life and nature and never using animal products or anything other than vegan leather.

Peacock Earrings

Depicting the grace and charm of a bird that epitomizes independence and elegance, these exquisite on-the-ear Peacock Earrings are studded with 28 round diamonds, 14 baguettes and 28 pear shaped diamonds in claw setting (11.66 tcw.). Set in 18K white gold, they fasten on the ear with omega clips and guardian posts. The contemporary design conveys the environmental consciousness and identity with which they were envisioned. $101,300.

Illumination Earrings

This pair of Illumination Earrings is artfully set with a star-like arrangement of 76 brilliant cut diamonds in claw setting, reminiscent of stars illuminating the night skies. Suggestive of a galaxy with constellations of varying sizes and luminosity, each diamond connects to several others positioned nearby. This modern design showcases traditional techniques, forms and materials for an expressive new iteration. Set in shining 18K white gold, the total diamond weight is 12.80 tcw. $114,000.

Haveli Ring

The Haveli Ring features a center colorless diamond (1.32 tcw.) and is embellished with 32 custom cut baguettes, 83 round and two pear claw set diamonds (5.25 tcw. total). Perfected in 18K white gold and designed as an engagement ring, a cluster of round and pear shaped diamonds in the center further enhances the central stone and fits in cleverly with the side pavé to re-create the experience of the Indian Haveli or royal abode, referring to the temples in Gujarat under the Mughal Empire and Rajputana kingdoms. The Harakh inscription alongside the teardrop of joy is easily visible on the interior of the band. $70,000.

Haveli Bracelet

The Haveli Bracelet captures the exotic cultural marvels of yesteryear, representing the “private spaces” or early Havelis which served Muslim rulers of the Indian subcontinent and became an important architectural component of urban environments under the Mughals. In this significant piece, a center cluster of round and pear shaped diamonds is enclosed in the Haveli outer shape motif with an elegant pavé diamond pattern fluidly following the contour of the wrist. The finished bracelet is sourced from 18K white gold and consists of 691 round diamonds and six pear cut diamonds, totaling 697 diamonds (11.50 tcw.). $148,300.

Sunlight Ring

A star is born with the Sunlight Ring, embracing a large round colorless diamond as the focal point, emanating warmth and natural light just like the center of our solar system. Three concentric circles of diamonds surround the center, in round and baguette cut diamonds (6.53 tcw.). Lending depth and dimension, the surface takes on a spherical shape, blazing even more brightly with its setting in 18K yellow gold. The band features rows of cozily nestled round diamonds. $98,500.

Raindrop Dangling Earrings

The Raindrop Dangling Earrings comprise a masterpiece of colorless diamonds. Droplets of diamonds present 16 round brilliant cut, 12 emerald cut and six pear cut diamonds that descend into this show-stopping pair of long dangling earrings, reflecting the light with every tilt of the head and lilt of the chin (32.30 tcw.). They are handcrafted in 18K white gold. It took nearly three months to sort through approximately 700 certified diamonds to come up with the perfect 34 and position them like snugly fitting puzzle pieces. $845,300.

Raindrop Earrings

These simple yet sophisticated Raindrop Earrings are designed with 12 round, 10 baguette and 20 pear shaped colorless diamonds in prong setting, set in 18K white gold. Specially aligned in an asymmetrical pattern to sway gently with every movement, they lock comfortably with guardian posts, measuring 3.21 inches from each lobe. From the Raindrop Collection, it's easy to see how they are positioned using a proprietary linking method to mimic the experience of the falling rain, bringing fresh, new beginnings. $91,000.

Rose Cut Raindrop Cuff

The Rose Cut Raindrop Cuff also from the Raindrop Collection is bejeweled with 92 brilliant round diamonds, 42 pear and 13 baguette cut diamonds, displayed in claw setting (23.85 tcw.). The diamonds are colorless and set in 18K white gold. Each piece celebrates moments of joy, recreating the magic of getting drenched in the rain. The setting and placement of the diamonds have been articulated to give the impression of falling droplets with the power to nurture all life. $206,800.
