Over the past 25 years, Desert Golf & Tennis has been involved with almost every type of golf and tennis tournament. We're incredibly proud that this is our 25th season creating the premier publication in the southwestern United States devoted to coverage of golf and tennis.

We are extremely proud to feature fan favorite, Rafael Nadal on our cover, and consider ourselves very fortunate to cover tennis and the BNP Paribas Open at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden. We've had the privilege and pleasure of watching the Indian Wells Tennis Garden built from the ground up into the preeminent tennis facility it is today, and also seeing the BNP Paribas Open grow to become the largest tennis tournament in the world—this year offering a record $19 million in total purse money! Please see our cover feature on page 16.

We've also covered all of the great golf events that have come to our region, including the SKINS Game, the Bob Hope Classic, the Dinah Shore, the Frank Sinatra, Diners Club and so many others.

We've watched pickleball evolve from a backyard game into a nationwide phenomenon and have supported the game and players through our involvement with the USA Pickleball National Championship, which was contested at Indian Wells through 2023. Starting this year, pickleball was front and center during the Hyundai Masters at Mission Hills Country Club, and we were there, too.

Now we watch as IndyCar Racing begins in the valley at the Thermal Club, thanks to Tim and Twanna Rogers. Race fans won't want to miss this year's nationally televised NTT IndyCar Series, which includes an event at the Thermal Club, March 22-23. In addition to bringing a new level of national and international exposure to the valley, this event will give local Indy enthusiasts all of the fast-paced excitement the sport has to offer—right in their own backyard. See our feature on pg. 22.

With this issue we also feature the PGA TOUR Champions Galleri Classic at Mission Hills Country Club, March 25-31. This second year of the tournament brings back some of the greats who have made history in golf, including champions Bernhard Langer, Fred Couples, John Daly, Retief Goosen, Steve Stricker and more. The Galleri Classic is just getting started and we hope to help its success continue for many years to come. See our feature on pg. 40

These past 25 years have been a labor of love to feature the very best of golf and tennis. Our valley offers more golf per capita than anywhere else in the world, and we have some of the best facilities in the world, including the Indian Wells Tennis Garden, LaQuinta Resort and Mission Hills Country Club. We're also blessed with some of the best weather in the United States so we can enjoy the sports we love. Here's to the next 25 seasons of Desert Golf & Tennis! We'll continue to bring you the important stories of these great sports and amazing facilities, just as we always have.

We hope you enjoy this issue as much as we enjoyed bringing it to you.

The King of Clay, Whispers of Triumph:
Rafael Nadal's
BNP Paribas Open Saga

Beneath the Californian sun, the BNP Paribas Open transforms the Coachella Valley from a shimmering oasis into a gladiatorial arena where tennis titans clash. Here, amidst the vibrant courts and desert winds, the legend of Rafael Nadal resonates not just in the echoes of clay but in the defiant whispers of victories on hard courts. While Nadal's reign on clay remains undisputed, his journey at Indian Wells paints a different portrait, one of relentless pursuit, fierce adaptation, and a hard-fought 2009 triumph that redefined his dominance beyond clay.

Nadal's first foray into the desert heat came in 2004, a fresh-faced teenager fresh off his maiden French Open glory. Though unseeded, he announced his arrival with a bang, claiming three wins before succumbing to a young Roger Federer in the quarterfinals. This early spark ignited a rivalry that would define tennis' golden age, and Indian Wells would become one of their crucial battlegrounds.

In 2007, a young Novak Djokovic challenged Nadal's authority in a semifinal showdown. In a display of fierce baseline mastery, Nadal outmaneuvered his opponent 6-3, 6-2, sending a powerful message across the tennis world. This victory marked the beginning of another epic rivalry, destined to rewrite the game's landscape.

Two years later, after a heartbreaking Australian Open final loss to Federer, Nadal returned to Indian Wells with a fire in his eyes. He carved through the draw like a desert sculptor, vanquishing up-and-coming Andy Murray (6-1, 3-6, 6-1) in a thrilling semifinal clash. In the final, he faced his arch-nemesis Federer once more. This time, it was more than just a title on the line; it was a declaration of defiance against Federer's hard-court dominance.

Nadal unleashed his ferocious baseline game and powerful topspin with renewed intensity, dismantling Federer 6-3, 6-1 in a masterful performance. This victory wasn't just a title; it was a statement, a declaration that Nadal could conquer not just clay but any surface the tennis world threw at him. He had defied the narrative, silencing doubters and rewriting his own tennis story under the Californian sun.

The years that followed witnessed Nadal and Federer locked in a gladiatorial duel. While Federer emerged victorious in 2010 (6-3, 3-6, 6-1), his serve-and-volley mastery neutralizing Nadal's baseline assault, Nadal returned in 2012, determined to reclaim his title. He overcame Andy Murray (6-3, 6-2) in the semifinals but fell short against Federer once more in the final, succumbing 3-6, 6-3, 6-0. Despite this defeat, Nadal demonstrated his unwavering desire to conquer the hard courts of Indian Wells.

In 2013, Nadal, returning from injury, found himself pitted against Juan Martin del Potro in the final. In a match etched in tennis lore, their strokes painted a captivating story on the canvas of the court. This time, Nadal proved stronger, unleashing his fierce baseline game and powerful topspin to overcome del Potro in a dramatic 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 victory. This hard-fought triumph showcased Nadal's resilience and cemented his dominance at the tournament, claiming his third BNP Paribas Open title.

The remaining years witnessed Nadal's indomitable spirit on display. He navigated challenging draws, reaching finals even as injuries and the rise of new stars tested him. In 2022, at the age of 35, he reached the final once more, only to be outmaneuvered by the rising American star Taylor Fritz (6-3, 5-7, 6-1). While not the ending he had hoped for, the tournament showcased his remarkable adaptability and fighting spirit.

Though Nadal hasn't graced the Californian courts since, his absence echoes in the desert winds. His three titles, including the pivotal 2009 victory over Federer, stand as silent sentinels, reminders of his relentless pursuit of greatness. Indian Wells, for Nadal, wasn't just a tournament; it was a crucible, a furnace where his mettle was tested and his legend forged beyond the terracotta trenches.

Rafael Nadal Career

To date, Nadal has won 92 ATP singles titles, including 22 Grand Slam men's singles titles and 36 ATP Tour Masters 1000 titles. He is one of two men to achieve the Career Golden Slam in men's singles, with titles at all four majors and the Olympic singles gold. He is the first man in history to win Grand Slam singles titles on three different surfaces in a calendar year (Surface Slam) and is the youngest (24) in the Open Era to achieve the Career Grand Slam. Following his triumph at the 2022 Australian Open, he became the fourth man in history to complete the double Career Grand Slam in singles, after Roy Emerson, Rod Laver, and Novak Djokovic. He is the first man to win multiple majors and rank world No. 1 in three different decades. [3] Representing Spain, Nadal has won two Olympic gold medals including a singles gold at the 2008 Beijing Olympics and a doubles gold at the 2016 Rio Olympics. In the process, he became the first male player in history to complete the Career Grand Slam and win Olympic gold medals in both singles and doubles. Nadal is the only Spanish player, male or female, to win all four majors twice, to rank world No. 1 for more than 200 weeks, and to win more than 20 majors. He has led Spain to five Davis Cup titles in 2004, 2008, 2009, 2011, and 2019. At the international level, he has won the 2017 and 2019 editions of the Laver Cup with Team Europe.

Historic achievements

Nadal has been the most successful player in history on clay courts. He has a 63–8 record in clay court tournament finals and has lost only three times in best-of-five-set matches on clay.[4] He has won 14 French Open titles (unbeaten in finals), 12 Barcelona Open titles (unbeaten in finals), 11 Monte-Carlo Masters titles, and 10 Rome Masters titles, and has won at least one of the three clay-court Masters 1000 tournaments every year between 2005 and 2014. His 9th French Open crown in 2014 made him the first man in the Open Era to win a single tournament 9 times, breaking a 32-year record held by Guillermo Vilas, who won the Buenos Aires title 8 times. He subsequently won his 9th title at three more tournaments; 2016 Monte Carlo, 2016 Barcelona, and the 2019 Italian Open. In 2018, he became the sole record-holder for most titles at the ATP 500 (Barcelona), Masters 1000 (Monte Carlo), and Grand Slam (French Open) levels.

He also holds the longest single-surface win streak in the Open Era, having won 81 consecutive matches on clay between April 2005 and May 2007.[5] Nadal has never been taken to five sets in 14 French Open finals, and has never lost consecutive matches on clay since the start of his professional career.[6] Many tennis critics and top players regard him as the greatest clay-court player of all time.[7][8] [9] Nadal's 14 French Open titles are a record for one player (male or female) at a single major, surpassing the old record of 11 Australian Open titles won by Margaret Court. Nadal is the only player to defeat Roger Federer in the finals of three different Grand Slam tournaments as well as on three different surfaces (2009 Australian Open on hard court, 2006 French Open on clay court, and 2008 Wimbledon on grass court). He has won 6 hard-court majors (2 Australian Open & 4 US Open titles), tied with Andre Agassi for fourth-most behind Pete Sampras (7), Federer (11) and Novak Djokovic (14) in the Open Era.

Nadal is the first player to win four Grand Slam titles without dropping a set (2008, 2010, 2017 and 2020 French Opens) surpassing the old record of three titles held by Björn Borg. He is also the first player, male or female, to win 100 matches at the French Open and holds the all-time record for the most match wins at a single major, with 112 at the French Open.[10] He is the only player, male or female, to record three streaks of four or more consecutive titles at a single major in their career (2005–2008, 2010–2014 and 2017–2020 French Open), surpassing the old record of 3 consecutive Wimbledon titles won by Sampras twice (1993–1995, 1997–2000). Nadal is the only player to bagel both Federer (2008 French Open) and Djokovic (2020 French Open) and defeat both in straight sets in Grand Slam finals. He has won the most ATP titles (30 titles) without dropping a set, with 26 of these titles won on clay courts and 4 on hard courts.[11]

US Open 2017

Roland Garros 2015

Nadal is the sixth player to be ranked ATP world No. 1 for more than 200 weeks. Nadal has qualified for the ATP Finals for a record 16 consecutive years (2005–2020).[12]

Nadal is the third male player to win over US$100 million in prize money after Djokovic and Federer.

Nadal is one of three male players in history to have won at least two Grand Slam titles each on grass (2), hard courts (6) and clay (14), alongside Mats Wilander and Djokovic.

Nadal won five straight French Open singles titles from 2010 to 2014 to become the only player in the tournament's history to win 5 consecutive singles titles, breaking the previous record of 4 titles held by Paul Aymé and Borg. In 2017, by winning his 10th French Open title, Nadal became the first man to win a milestone 10 titles at the same major. He has played 32 matches against his primary rivals — Federer and Djokovic — in majors and leads 21–11 (10–4 vs Federer and 11–7 vs Djokovic). He is 14–2 on clay and 7–9 off clay against them.

In 2018, Nadal became the first player, male or female, to amass 450+ match wins on both hard and clay courts, with 514 and 474 wins respectively. His 500+ hard court wins rank him No. 4 on the Open Era list, and his 1000+ total match wins have only been achieved by four other players in the Open Era.[13] He holds the record for winning at least one Grand Slam title in 10 consecutive years (2005–14) breaking the previous record of 8 consecutive years held by Borg, Sampras and Federer. He also holds the record for most years (15) winning at least one Grand Slam title (2005–14, 2017–20, 2022).

In 2008, Nadal became the second Spanish man to win Wimbledon. Nadal is one of only two male players in history to have won the French Open and Wimbledon in the same year at least twice, after Rod Laver and Borg. In 2009, Nadal became the first Spaniard to win the Australian Open.[14]

He is also the first of two male players to win three consecutive Grand Slam tournaments on three different surfaces (clay, grass, and hard courts) in the same year (2010), a feat later achieved by Djokovic (2021).[15] By winning the 2010 US Open, Nadal completed a men's singles Career Grand Slam at the age of 24, making him the youngest in the Open Era to do so. He is the 7th male player in history to achieve this feat. In addition, Nadal has completed the Career Golden Slam and is only the second male player in history to attain this after Andre Agassi. By winning the 2022 Australian Open, he became the fourth man in history (joining Roy Emerson, Rod Laver, and Djokovic) to complete the Double Career Grand Slam, by winning each Grand Slam title at least two times. Nadal has won ATP tournaments in 19 countries throughout his career.

He is the only male player to win the French Open and the US Open in the same year four times (2010, 2013, 2017, 2019). Both Ivan Lendl (1986, 1987) and Laver (1962, 1969) achieved this feat twice.

Nadal has won 36 ATP Masters 1000 titles, four behind Djokovic's 40, and reached 53 finals, a record 76 semi-finals, and a record 99 quarter-finals.

2024 BNP Paribas Open: Feel the Magic of Tennis Paradise

Roger Federer

Carlos Alcaraz

Indian Wells Tennis Garden is preparing for yet another memorable championship

Last year, the BNP Paribas Open was named the ATP Tour Masters 1000 and WTA 1000 Tournament of the Year for the ninth straight time—an all-time record.

Shortly afterwards, the tournament released its new campaign for 2024, known as “Feel The Magic”, a follow-up to its “New Era” campaign in 2023. If last year’s turnout (more than 450,000 attendants) and storylines (Carlos Alcaraz’s and Elena Rybakina’s singles victories, in particular) provide any indication, the 2024 BNP Paribas Open is bound to be one of Tennis Paradise’s best yet.

First off, current and up-and-coming stars are either seeking their first BNP Paribas Open or striving to add to their trophy collection. At the same time, legends like Novak Djokovic, Roger Federer and Rafael Nadal may appear too, depending on their health once the tournament begins (set to be held March 4-17).

Of course, if just one of these legends chooses to play, the championship will become even more popular, potentially leading to record attendance. In anticipation of what’s to come (and what may occur), here are some of Desert Golf & Tennis’s predictions.

Rising Stars are Preparing to Make History

There is no doubt about it. A huge void has been created in the world of tennis, due to the absences of Federer and Serena Williams. Unfortunately, Federer’s career may be nearly (if not completely) over, while Nadal’s playing days are potentially numbered as well. And, although Djokovic won three Grand Slam titles last year, he is 36 years old, which is certainly considered “old” in the tennis industry.

Elena Rybakina

Daniil Medvedev

Thankfully, there are a wide array of extremely talented tennis players that are preparing to become the sport's next big names. Some have already proven themselves on the grandest of stages, whereas others are still looking to shine at the biggest events. With this in mind, Desert Golf & Tennis expects some of this young talent to challenge for the BNP Paribas Open title this year.

First, there's no reason to believe the men's singles defending champion, Carlos Alcaraz, won't contend for the title yet again. After all, last year, he defeated Daniil Medvedev 6-3, 6-2.

"It feels amazing to lift the trophy here," the then 19-year-old said. "I would say this has been the perfect tournament. This [is the] tournament that I really wanted to win."

Since then, the ATP Tour's No. 2 ranked player has won his second Grand Slam singles title, as he captured the 2023 Wimbledon Championships, while defeating Djokovic in the final, 1-6, 7-6, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4—a victory that proved he can beat the best of the best.

Meanwhile, Medvedev, who will be 28 years old once the 2024 BNP Paribas Open begins, is another favorite to win. The 2021 US Open champion will likely be joined by 22-year-old world No. 4 Jannik Sinner and 26-year-old world No. 5 Andrey Rublev, who are seeking their first BNP Paribas Open titles, too. At the same time, past champions like Taylor Fritz and Dominic Thiem will potentially be competing for their second titles.

On the women's side, world No. 3 Elena Rybakina will be contending for her second consecutive BNP Paribas Open title. By defeating the current world No. 2 Aryna Sabalenka 7-6, 6-4 during last year's final, she became the event's sixth straight first-time women's singles champion. In addition, she added her name to the record books: as the first woman to defeat the WTA Tour's No. 1 and No. 2-ranked players, prior to winning the BNP Paribas Open.

"It's always a pleasure to play against Aryna, and it's always a tough battle," she said. "Hopefully I will come back next year and repeat this result."

She will possibly be joined by other recent winners like world No. 1 Iga Świątek (the 2022 champion), Paula Badosa (the 2021 champion) and Bianca Andreescu (the 2019 champion). At the same time, plenty of other highly talented professionals, like Sabalenka, world No. 4 Coco Gauff, world No. 5 Jessica Pegula and world No. 6 Ons Jabeur, will likely be showcasing their talents at Tennis Paradise as well—further examples of the ways that tennis fans will "feel the magic" yet again this spring.

The Big Three Set for a Big Comeback?

The legacy of 20-time Grand Slam singles champion Roger Federer will remain fully intact at Indian Wells Tennis Garden forever. After all, he won the championship five times, a record he shares with Djokovic. Upon claiming the title back-to-back-to-back in 2004, 2005 and 2006, he won it again in 2012 and 2017, proving that he was not only capable of dominating the sport, but also maintaining longevity.

However, despite his longevity, as he won Grand Slam titles from 2004 to 2018, everything eventually comes to an end. Prior to the 2022 Laver Cup, he announced the event would be his final professional tournament on the ATP Tour. Will he change his mind and play professionally once again though? If he does, it will only further enhance 2024 BNP Paribas Open fans' experiences, but the tournament's overall "magic", too.

The two other members of the Big Three—Djokovic and Nadal—may or may not appear in the BNP Paribas Open as well. Djokovic, who won the championship in 2008, 2011, 2014, 2015 and 2016 (but had to withdraw last year, due to visa issues), has encountered a wrist injury from time to time during the last few months. On the other hand, Nadal had to withdraw from the 2024 Australian Open, a championship he won in 2009 and 2022, as his hip muscle was injured.

"I have worked very hard during the year for this comeback," Nadal said. "We all remain positive with the evolution for the season [though]."

While looking ahead to the 2024 BNP Paribas Open, there is certainly much to be positive about, regardless of whether or not the Big Three contends. From rising stars, to expansive, top-of-the-notch facilities, to breathtaking mountain views, thousands of fans will soon "feel the magic" of Tennis Paradise once again.

Note: As of Jan. 9, 2024, when this article was completed, the 2024 BNP Paribas Open's final contestant list had yet to be released. All world rankings in the article were accurate as of Jan. 9.

Life in the fast lane:

The Thermal Club experience offers the golden ticket for race car enthusiasts

The $1 Million Dollar INDYCAR Challenge will heat up the course on March 22-24

Visitors to The Thermal Club may see the world through a different lens after discovering life inside this oasis of opulence. The energy as well as the gears start to shift the moment one passes through the unmarked gates which are tucked between acres of farmland and date palm groves, five miles from the Jacquelyn Cochran Regional Airport in Thermal, California at the base of the Santa Rosa Mountains.

The Club is a posh resort for mega well-heeled (as in average $30 million net worth each) motorsport enthusiasts who can savor race car action at their doorsteps and over their private balconies. You might say they're the one percent of the one percent. First opened in 2013, the Club offers four (soon to be five) racing circuits, karting and autocross tracks, designed by Alan Wilson. Each track has its own covered paddock and a full pit crew. The tracks can accommodate any vehicle at any speed, from F1 to high performance exotics to vintage motorsports racecars.

The grounds feature gas pumps, car washes, detailing equipment and full-time mechanics and driving instructors. When members wish to sell their classic Ferrari for the newest Porsche, there is a salesperson onsite to ensure Club members receive a fair price. There are also 24-hour armed guards and an 18-foot high barrier sound wall.

In the past two decades, there's been a marked increase in the number of women participants in the sport of racing, both behind and beyond the wheel, proving that women wear the firesuits well. These days, race tracks see any number of female lead performance engineers, gearbox mechanics, drivers and fans. At The Thermal Club, there are two female members who are the primary drivers in their family, and they participate in nearly every member racing event.

On March 22 through 24, 2024, The Club will host the $1 Million Dollar INDYCAR Challenge, an exhibition race for the NTT INDYCAR Series, to be televised on NBC on March 24. While Championship points will not be on the line, the event will feature a multi-million dollar purse. A draw party to begin the event will embed members of The Thermal Club with each of the 27 race teams and drivers. The weekend format will include a qualifying session and two heat races, with the top six from each heat advancing to an All-Star showcase. The top five finishing teams will split their earnings with The Thermal Club members, including a $1 million prize awarded to the winner.

The NTT INDYCAR Series hosted a successful Open Test on the 17-turn, 3.067-mile layout last February to jump-start the 2023 racing season, setting the scene for the 2024 season. Prize breakdown will be $700,000 for second place, $500,000 for third place, $200,000 for fourth place, $100,000 for fifth place and $23,000 each for sixth through 27th place.

Spectator tickets start at $2,000 each, and the VIP experience includes lunch, beer and wine, parking, pit access and a premium view of the track. Tickets may be purchased at: universe.com/events/indycar-1-million-challenge-at-the-thermal-club-march-24-2024-tickets-VXP3L7?ref=ticketmaster. There's also a member's race over the weekend for which limited amateur slots are available for $150,000 each. Each entry will ensure a $5,000 donation to Martha's Village & Kitchen.

The Thermal Club was established and financed by car collectors and enthusiasts Tim and Twanna Rogers, who amassed their $75 billion in sales by buying and supplying fuel to 7-Eleven convenience stores and gas stations as well as owning Tower Energy Group (as in Tower Markets). The Club provides amenities including a motorsports village, spa, hotel for guests with 48 casitas, fitness center, tennis courts and a pool.

Thermal Club Villa

Thermal Club Villa

In order to open it up on the track as a member of The Thermal Club – either with one’s own racing vehicle or with a car ordered for the day provided by The Club – the buy-in is $200,000 initiation fee, $2,400 per month membership fee and purchase of a lot with the firm commitment to build a luxury villa within five years, minimum 6,500 square feet. Most homes average 8,000 to 15,000 square feet, while Rogers’ is 24,000 square feet. Garages are two and three stories, often with viewing lofts from inside – think modest airplane hangar. Keep in mind these are second, third or fourth dwellings for most of these billionaire residents, who include a famous athlete’s son, a celebrity musician, a prominent entertainment executive and the son of a recently deceased political kingmaker and philanthropist.

Membership includes access to all tracks and amenities, and the standard membership is vertical, including the primary member, spouse, children and children’s children. Out of the 276 available lots, 140 have currently been sold, according to Rogers.

A three-person design review committee that includes Tim Rogers, his construction manager and main architect must approve the design of each villa, which usually falls into Spanish style or clean-line minimalism.

And Rogers maintains the right to expel any member for lack of compliance such as abusive behavior to staff or failure to move forward with building. When asked if he’d ever had to exercise this authority, he responds, “Absolutely.” Rogers says, “The point is to develop the property, not leave these sites vacant for years.”

Each residence has custom touches such as a concealed, year-round Christmas room behind cleverly camouflaged bookshelves, state of the art surveillance cameras, wine cellars on every level, and upper story patio grass for the pet pooch’s convenience. For those concerned about lack of a golf course, not to worry. Most members and homeowners can play where they keep their other homes at The Madison Club, The Quarry Golf Club or in another palatial So Cal community.

Tim Rogers estimates that he's spent $350 million to date to develop the 425-acre property, but he doesn't cut corners. He says, "During COVID, we never closed. It was important to stay open, including our restaurants, for our members as well as to keep our 165 employees working." The three restaurants have their own executive chef from France and pastry chef, and they serve breakfast and lunch seven days a week with dinner on Friday and Saturday nights.

Savvy businessman that he is, Rogers has ensured revenue opportunities for The Club such as a 70-car storage facility for members' race cars with untold millions worth of Lamborghinis, Ferraris, Porsches, Mercedes and LMP2 race cars inside. Indigo Auto Group maintains a storage property on site to assist with client sales, and BMW operates its Performance Driving Center West on property for a rental fee of $300,000 each month.

One prominent member who graciously provided a home tour – while hosting a holiday gathering for Club employees who spent the day "racing" on the 40-foot model track built above the garage – noted that it's the excitement of watching the racetrack from one of his and his wife's many panoramic patios that's the appeal here.

He says, "The mountains are gorgeous and all, but sitting around watching them just doesn't do it for me. I want to see action."

Rogers is supportive of the community, having provided hundreds of thousands of dollars in improvements such as constructing the Borrego Health building (now occupied by DAP Health Center) and funding a local park for $150,000. He supports events at or near The Club including a recent charity event for DAP Health and an upcoming Sheriff's conference. One event he particularly enjoyed was a recent night driving event for members of the CIA, FBI and MI-6 who took their vehicles up to 125 miles per hour then enjoyed a gourmet dinner.

When Rogers is asked if there is anything or anywhere else like The Thermal Club in the world, his response is simple: "No. It's one of a kind." He adds, "An invitation to race and be a part of The Thermal Club is considered the golden ticket."

Whether new driver, gentleman or lady racer or seasoned professional, the motto is the same: drive fast or go home.

Desert Smash Courts Hollywood, Tennis and Music for Charity

Nick Kyrgios and Victoria Azarenka add their fancy footwork to the lineup

Nick Kyrgios

Victoria Azarenka

Let the games – and the charity - begin!

The sophisticated yet laid back desert culture is like no other, making it a draw for visitors and those who call it home. Desert Smash has found its ideal home, celebrating its 20th anniversary this year on March 4-5, 2024. Amalgamating tennis, music and Hollywood, this friendly and festive competition is produced by Epic Sports, founded by Ryan Macaulay, and Brand Innovators.

The extravaganza brings together Hollywood's biggest celebrities and the world's best pro tennis players at the prestigious La Quinta Resort & Club in La Quinta, California. It's very purposefully held to coincide with the start of the BNP Paribas Open, the 5th largest tennis tournament in the world, in adjacent Indian Wells.

The Tuesday, March 5 afternoon event takes place at the Resort's Stadium Tennis Court with fan options ranging from VIP on-court seating to live ball playing experiences. The 2024 event will introduce a pickle-ball component on Monday, March 4. Attendees will be able to watch celebs and pros compete against each other with the same festive spirit that has come to characterize Desert Smash as a command performance for stars, tennis fans and media outlets.

Two-time Australian Open champion (2012 and 2013) and longtime Desert Smash friend, Victoria Azarenka, will return to the games this year. The Belarusian is a former world No. 1 in singles and the only Belarusian player to win a Grand Slam singles title. ATP superstar Nick Kyrgios, from Australia, will make his first Desert Smash appearance. Kyrgios has won seven ATP Tour singles titles, including the 2019 and 2022 Washington Open, and he reached eleven finals, most notably a major final at the 2022 Wimbledon Championships and a Masters 1000 final at the 2017 Cincinnati Masters.

Alumni members who've graced Desert Smash, encompassing pro tennis players, entertainers and celebrities, have included Maria Sharapova, the Bryan Brothers, Serena Williams, Frances Tiafoe, Hyeon Chung, Lisa Leslie, Wanda Sykes, Donna Mills, Randy Jackson, Nicole Ari Parker, Boris Kodjoe, Joel McHale, Kevin Spacey, Rebel Wilson, Jon Hamm, Joe Pesci, Lance Bass and yes, even Novik Djokovic, who was part of the event in 2003 during its very first year and is of course now ranked ATP No. 1 in singles in the world.

Throughout the event there's a "Desert Smash Village" of brands and sponsors showcasing their products, celebrities working the red carpet, margaritas at multiple premium hosted bars and DJs spinning tunes.

Kevin Hart & Will Farrell

Bryan Brothers

Macaulay emphasizes that ultimately the event points to something bigger than each of us. Desert Smash has raised $3.6 million during the past 20 years for various charities, which have included Cancer for College, Variety the Children's Charity, Sophie's Voice Foundation, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Yetunde Price Resource Center and Playing for Change Foundation, among others. The first year of the event in 2003, proceeds benefited the Tim and Tom Gullikson Foundation which funds programs to help brain tumor patients and their families with the physical, emotional and social challenges presented by the disease. The Foundation was established by Gullikson's twin brother Tom, after Tim passed away in 1996 from a brain tumor. It was a painful commemoration for Macaulay, for whom Tim had been a friend and a mentor, but it also inspired him to help others through charity in Gullikson's memory and set the charitable tone for the future of Desert Smash.

Eugenie Bouchard

Macaulay makes it clear that supporters including the La Quinta Resort & Club along with Todd Marker of Marker Broadcasting have been integral to the success of Desert Smash. The La Quinta Resort collaborated early on and is now in lock step as the world-class hospitality partner. Gulf Broadcasting and KESQ-3 have committed significant support for two decades, and Desert Smash attracts media coverage from Entertainment Tonight, Access Hollywood, Hollywood Reporter, Vogue, Vanity Fair and dozens of others.

As for the inside baseball, so to speak, VIPs can look forward to the mother of all afterparties, the Desert Smash Bash, at Zenyara, the 50 acre, 11-bedroom, ultra luxury mega estate in Coachella that offers swimming, golfing, lounging on a man-made white-sand beach and a host of upscale recreational activities.

Celebrity entertainers who have participated in and/or entertained at Desert Smash include Gavin Rossdale, Lifehouse, Sia, Natasha Bedingfield, Nelly, Boyz II Men, Justin Bieber and both Robin Thicke and Pink in 2023. There's a live auction with prizes such as celebrity interactions, BNP Paribas VIP box seats, Masters' passes and, like last year, two exclusive concert packages to see Pink.

Macaulay and his Brand Innovators partner and colleague, Andrew Sokolsky, emphasize that as much as the event is centered around entertainment value, star power and, of course, tennis, it's mostly about shedding pretense and creating good will for causes that change lives for the better. It's a way to make a difference in a setting that captures Hollywood history, the carefree desert lifestyle and a scenic backdrop sought-after in every corner of the world.

As Macaulay says, "It's about making people happy."

Sensei Porcupine Creek

Offers science-backed practices in a serene desert escape for a world-class wellness experience

Exclusive retreats with best-in-class golf and tennis instruction

It's an ambitious goal: guiding the world to greater wellbeing. It's the mission behind the entire Sensei Porcupine Creek guest experience, which provides the components for healthier, happier lives in a multi-sensory, eco-friendly setting.

Julie Oliff, general manager, says, "It may sound pie in the sky, but it's sincere and heartfelt by every member of the team. We believe that encouraging guests to even take baby steps at their own speed is significant, whether it's on the golf course, tennis court, during yoga, exploring the sensuous gardens, admiring the world class art or just achieving inner peace through a sense of restoration."

Opened to the public in fall of 2022, the thrust of the 230-acre estate owned by technology pioneer and co-founder of Oracle, Larry Ellison, is fueled by science and infused with personalized and luxurious touches to impress even the most discerning globe trotters. The estate was purchased by Ellison in 2011 shortly after he assumed ownership of the Indian Wells Tennis Garden and the BNP Paribas Open in 2009, launching a sort of cultural renaissance in the Coachella Valley.

Ellison partnered with oncologist David Agus, M.D. to develop a wellness platform based on movement, rest and nourishment, which mirrors the program at the flagship Sensei Lanai, A Four Seasons Resort which opened in 2019. Dr. Agus is a global leading oncology physician and scientist, researcher, The New York Times best-selling author, CBS News contributor and professor of medicine and engineering at the University of Southern California Keck School of Medicine and Viterbi School of Engineering as well as the Founding Director and CEO of the Lawrence J. Ellison Institute for Transformative Medicine.

This retreat in Rancho Mirage, however, is standalone, fully managed by Sensei. Nestled in the foothills of the Santa Rosa Mountains, Sensei Porcupine Creek features an intimate, adults-only environment where guests are supported by highly trained Sensei guides, wellness practitioners, sports professionals and a culinary master. (Teens 16 and older are allowed when in the company of adults).

Oliff notes that it's an extremely low-pressure environment. There are no forced crack-of-dawn hikes, unless one chooses them. But there are multiple fitness offerings scheduled throughout the day to invigorate and energize, such as morning meditation and yoga, a Desert Ridge hike, mat Pilates, tennis basics, a strength circuit, an art tour and so many others.

As for art, "There's a piece for every person, mood and time of day," according to Oliff. Visual and tactile artistic expression is an integral part of Sensei Porcupine Creek, with unique works found throughout the grounds. A tour of the property includes the Keith Haring Self Portrait sculpture with its joyful, primal colors; an enormous sea snail dreamcatcher in the lobby; one of Yoshitomo Nara's whimsical giant white dogs; Numbers sculptures by Robert Indiana; and Jaume Plensa human face sculptures.

A la carte experiences for registered guests are available, such as massages, and a round of golf or one-on-one meditation session to prepare for (or recover from) the round of your life, whichever strikes the player's fancy. Tee times are spaced generously apart, so that pace of play is never an issue. The golf neophyte can feel free to take as long as he or she wishes to finish a hole and replay it multiple times if so desired while playing among nearly 75 acres of turf and sand bunkers highlighted by glimmering lakes and streams. Rental sets are available upon request.

The tennis courts offer an opportunity to elevate one's game with best-in-class tennis instruction. Open exclusively to Sensei guests, their clay and hard courts were designed to match the professional courts played on by the champions training for the nearby BNP Paribas Open.

Private tennis lessons are a solid way to strengthen one's game under the tutelage of Director of Tennis, Caroline Vis, a professional player turned instructor. She has achieved nine WTA doubles titles and brings over 15 years of coaching experience to Sensei guests, where she provides focused instruction and personalized guidance to create a fun and inviting atmosphere for players of all levels. Originally from The Netherlands, Vis turned pro in 1989, eventually achieving a career-high doubles ranking of No. 9 in the world, which makes for a fun and encouraging atmosphere when she leads complimentary weekly tennis classes suitable for all levels.

Meals at the on-site Nobu restaurant were devised with superstar chef Nobu Matsuhisa along with Dr. Agus. Exclusively open to resort guests, diners can enjoy Sensei by Nobu for breakfast, lunch and dinner al fresco amid lush gardens or in the elegant interior of the dining room and sushi bar. There's also poolside and in-room dining. Menu options present tuna ginger Tosazu, black cod miso, rock shrimp tempura, eggplant spicy miso, prime tenderloin and many others. And, yes, there's a dessert menu, with gourmet treats such as honey pistachio semifreddo and whisky cappuccino.

For a highly curated dining meets golf immersion, registered guests are invited to participate in Omacourse, an exclusive Sensei by Nobu and 18-hole golf pairing. The culinary journey features decadent bites and top shelf sips while playing through the 18-hole Sensei Porcupine Creek Golf Course. In addition to indulgent surprises at various holes, chair massages are presented at the midway break. From oysters and caviar, espresso martinis and Krug Grand Cuvee, to A5 wagyu and king crab handrolls, this limited-time experience is memorable for golf enthusiasts as well as culinary aficionados.

Accommodations on property include estate rooms, casitas and seven villas with patios and heated spas (two or four bedrooms each). Each residence is designed around open concept living, with soaring ceilings, light natural woods and expansive windows framing the lush desert landscape. Vistas are enchanting, with vibrant green fairways, immaculate gardens and expansive water features. Every design feature reinforces the sense of tranquility and serenity perpetuated by abundant waterfalls and ponds to encourage each guest to reconnect with their surroundings.

The Guided Wellness Experience is a popular three-night wellbeing package for guests to acquaint themselves with all that Sensei has to offer, or to simply experience a wellness tune-up. The package includes two spa treatments, a health assessment with a dedicated Guide and two private sessions focusing on mindset, nutrition, yoga or fitness. Also included are daily wellness activities and access to the world-class golf and tennis facilities. At the culmination of the stay, the Sensei guide reviews specific learnings with a targeted “My Plan” session and provides an actionable “Guide to Growth” report to help continue the practices at home.

In short, Sensei is a global movement for sustainable living, powered by science, data and technology. Sensei Porcupine Creek as a wellness retreat is bringing new lifestyle opportunities to travelers open to discovery about ways to pursue enhanced wellbeing. Intended to provide a serene and supportive environment to align actions with intentions, Sensei Porcupine Creek’s mission is consistent with the very origins of Palm Springs and the Coachella Valley as a hub for healing, self-improvement and restoration with its warm climate, bubbling hot springs and soothing spas.

As Oliff says, “The most important thing is that we continue to make a difference in the lives of others.”

Teeing Up for Triumph:
The Galleri Classic®
Promises Excitement and Evolution

By Kathleen Bennett

David Toms picked up his second win of the 2023 PGA TOUR Champions season by going wire-to-wire last year.

John Daly

Picking up on where the inaugural Galleri® Classic left off in March, the PGA TOUR Champions golf tournament is ready to replicate its success with the Coachella Valley community and all golf fans. The Galleri® Classic, named after title sponsor GRAIL's multi-cancer early detection test, will feature 78 PGA TOUR Champions professionals, including World Golf Hall of Fame members, playing 54 holes, and three rounds of stroke play for a $2.2 million purse. The Galleri® Classic's ticket and Pro-Am offerings and volunteer registration are available at the tournament's official website, www.thegallericlassic.com, and can be secured ahead of the second edition of the event, March 25th-31st.

"We encourage everyone to join us in 2024 at The Galleri® Classic, whether as a spectator, a Pro-Am participant looking for the most personalized experience inside the ropes with golfing legends, or a volunteer," says Michelle DeLancy, tournament director of The Galleri® Classic. "We expect to host a field of the world's best 50 and over players that are similar in strength to our 2023 event and who are recognizable to our supporters, many of whom grew up idolizing this era of champion golfers."

This year's event marks not just the second iteration of the tournament, but a pivotal chapter in the narrative of professional golf and its evolving landscape. The PGA TOUR Champions, a stage reserved for veterans, those with major championship wins, or a distinguished career, brings together legends whose names whisper past glories and ignite anticipation for present feats.

Headlining the roster are icons like Bernhard Langer, whose 11 major titles on the PGA TOUR Champions, the most of all time, and John Daly, whose swing generates power and distance. Joining them are household names like Fred Couples, Steve Stricker, Miguel Ángel Jiménez, and Retief Goosen, each a veteran carrying a legacy of audacious birdies and unforgettable moments.

But the Galleri® Classic transcends mere nostalgia. It's a platform for these golfing masters to showcase their enduring mastery, proving that age merely refines the art of the swing. Witnessing their precision drives, their delicate chips, and their unwavering focus is a masterclass in strategy and mental fortitude, a testament to the enduring love for the game that burns bright long after the peak of physical prowess.

Beyond the individual triumphs, the Galleri® Classic champions a cause larger than the green. GRAIL, a multi-cancer early detection test, underscores the tournament's commitment to health and wellness. With early detection playing a crucial role in combating cancer, the event raises awareness and funds for this critical cause, weaving a thread of hope into the tapestry of competition.

This year's tournament also sees the introduction of the Pro-Am, where amateurs tee off alongside the legends, experiencing the thrill of a professional setting firsthand. This unique opportunity fosters camaraderie and mentorship, bridging the gap between generations and igniting a passion for the game in aspiring golfers.

For spectators, the Galleri® Classic offers a kaleidoscope of experiences. From basking in the desert sun amidst the picturesque Coachella Valley backdrop to indulging in gourmet fare and world-class entertainment, the event becomes a multi-sensory extravaganza. Whether a seasoned golf enthusiast or a curious newcomer, the atmosphere promises to be electric, charged with the thrill of competition and the camaraderie of a shared passion.

Ultimately, the 2024 Galleri® Classic isn't just a golf tournament; it's a microcosm of life itself. It celebrates the enduring spirit of excellence, the power of community, and the unwavering pursuit of personal victories, both on and off the course. It's a testament to the fact that age is not a barrier to achievement, but rather a canvas upon which new chapters can be etched with strokes of grace and determination.

So, mark your calendars and visit Mission Hills Country Club, to witness the legends rewrite the rulebook of age, and experience the vibrant tapestry of human potential woven on the emerald stage of the Galleri® Classic. It promises to be a journey not just through the intricacies of the game, but through the very essence of what it means to strive, to inspire, and to triumph.

Ches Gibson

Director of Racquet Sports,
Mission Hills Country Club

Meet Ches Gibson, Director of Racquet Sports. Gibson grew up in a small town in southeastern Kentucky by the name of Corbin. Growing up in Kentucky, basketball was Gibson's first love followed by tennis. He began playing tennis for fun around the age of ten and started taking it a bit more seriously at 12 years old. In Gibson's sophomore year of high school his family moved to Paducah, Kentucky where he started as point guard for his high school basketball team and continued playing tennis.

Once graduated from high school, he had two options. Gibson could play D2 or D3 basketball or take a stab at D1 tennis. Deciding the best choice would be to take the tennis route, he attended Murray State University and played for the team while majoring in Business Administration. While in college he spent the summers at the Nick Bollettieri Tennis Academy, currently IMG Academy, as a summer coach for four summers.

In December of 2007 Nick Bollettieri Tennis Academy offered Gibson a full-time job teaching at the Academy which resulted in a 15-year career at IMG. Having several areas of responsibility while at the academy which included video analysis, weekly camp director, ITF traveling coach, player recruiting, and many more. "IMG Academy taught me how to motivate and teach players the game of tennis and more importantly, how to mentor them both on and off the court."

Gibson was fortunate to travel with Nick Bollettieri on several occasions to places like Wimbledon, Miami Open, the US Open, Rio de Janeiro and many crazy car rides listening to jazz music and turning up the heater in the car because Bollettieri liked heat and would fall asleep while Gibson drove. "Bollettieri was a very special man to me and I cherished every minute I got to spend with him before his passing in 2022. It is truly amazing how much he did for my career as a coach."

In the Spring of 2022, Gibson was introduced to the idea of joining the team at Mission Hills Country Club. "I have been at the Mission Hills Country Club for over a year and a half, the club is truly special. Where else can you get all three tennis surfaces hard, clay, grass tennis courts, 20 pickleball courts, four croquet lawns, as well as bocce and badminton?" Currently the Director of Racquet Sports overseeing Tennis, Pickleball, Croquet, Bocce Ball, Badminton, and the retail shop, Gibson is most proud of the team that he is fortunate enough to work with daily, he is also a USPTA-certified professional tennis coach.

More than 1,000 pickleball players, including multiple well-known tennis players, competed in the first Hyundai Masters Tournament, a Professional Pickleball Association event at Mission Hills Country Club on January 9 – 14, 2023. The tournament is one of four grand slam events of the year on the Carvana PPA Tour and featured the likes of professional pickleball stars Ben Johns and Anna Leigh Waters and tennis professionals Genie Bouchard, Jack Sock, Donald Young and Sam Querrey, each of whom made their PPA Tour debut. Johns and Waters each previously won a triple crown, earning gold medals in singles, doubles, and mixed doubles in a master's event.

Indian Wells Golf Resort

Technology is on full display at the Indian Wells Golf Resort, but it is the one-on-one face-to-face exceptional service that makes this iconic and well-established destination stand out. They have embraced the technology with the personal touch that remains at the forefront. From the time the golfers or guests arrive to the time they leave, they are given first-class attention. Creating that memorable guest experience is what it is all about and that is why they come back over and over again. The tone is set early on for the guests as they arrive with valet service. New technology moves very fast today, but it is important to keep the people at the center of the service strategy. "The goal here is combining the latest technology with a motivated staff and creating a warm and friendly atmosphere whether it is on one of our golf courses, dining or just relaxing in our clubhouse or attending one of our social events," says General Manager Robin Graf.

Owned by the city of Indian Wells, the resort is located within walking distance of four luxury hotels; Hyatt Regency Indian Wells Resort & Spa, Renaissance Indian Wells Resort & Spa, the Indian Wells Resort Hotel, and the Tommy Bahama Miramonte Resort & Spa. Indian Wells Golf Resort has become more of a year-round destination with an increased flow of Southern Californians evident this past year. A two-and-a-half-hour drive from Los Angeles or San Diego makes it an easy getaway to this premier golf destination. Golfers and non-golfers enjoy world-class amenities in the resort's stunning Vue Grille & Bar housed on the top floor of the 53,000-square-foot clubhouse.

The resort boasts as the only facility in California with two courses ranked in the Top 20 "best courses you can play" in California by Golfweek Magazine. In recent years it has become the ideal location for tournaments, corporate events, and group outings in the desert. Formally built in 1986, both city-owned golf courses were completely renovated and opened in 2006 starting with the Celebrity Course designed by John Fought and followed by the Players Course designed by Clive Clark in 2007. Both courses are managed by Troon Golf and feature top conditions and over-seeded turf during the winter and spring months. The courses have been given the name of “Beauty and the Beast” and certainly live up to their reputations. Both courses are enjoyed given the lush green fairways and beautiful mountain views. Most recent accolades have been given by Golf Magazine as “Best Courses You Can Play in California” Players Course ranked #16, Celebrity Course ranked #30. John Fought also created the Indian Wells Putting Course, a lighted, 18-hole natural grass putting area.

SHOTS IN THE NIGHT

Shots in the Night is Coachella Valley's best outdoor golf entertainment experience. First is Laser Putting on seven real greens. You get to choose from a variety of greens all controlled by an iPad. Putters and balls are provided. This activity is great for all ages. Second is the Toptracer Driving Range. Once the sun goes down the Toptracer Range becomes a Glow Range. It has the availability to play games against the computer or other people. With glow balls and light-up targets on the range this is a fun activity for those that are familiar with a driving range.

LEVERS

By Becky Fossum

HAPPY GOLF MONTH. Let's have some golf fun feeling this winter & get you feeling some DISTANCE. Today's golf tip is "LEVERS". Levers can also be called = hinge, flick the wrists, "L", whip, or other golf "terms" to increase "clubhead speed". When you add "LEVERS" you can create massive speed in the golf swing. 2 things traveling at different speeds = your turn & your LEVERS ADD DISTANCE.

LEVERS: SEE PHOTO "L" in my WRISTS

- After my turn... I added a "LEVER"... The hinge of my wrists
- The LEVER IS ADDED ABOUT AT 3 & 9 o'clock or waist high in the golf swing
- You can do this on both sides of the golf swing (takeaway & follow through)
- The feel is to create some "speed/ whip or difference between the shaft & the forearms"
- Watch your grip pressure. If it is too tight this won't feel right.

Beginning golfer Drill

7 iron = small golf swing (like chipping) ADD 1 LEVER... THE WRIST... FLICK THE CLUB
(feel like you are swatting at the ball then add a bigger swing)

Intermediate - Advanced Drill

7 iron = FEET TOGETHER DRILL (1/2-3/4 swing)... slow speed, feet close together... just work on your LEVERS

I look forward to helping you add distance to your golf game with LEVERS. I feel this is a huge element the LEVERS to get DISTANCE to your golf game. I look forward to seeing you on the golf course or driving range. Happy Golf Feels!

Exquisite Eats at the BNP Paribas Open

By Alison Elsner

Award winning chefs and charismatic cocktails fit for kings, queens and tennis fans

Let's be honest. It's not JUST about the tennis.

It's only fitting that one of the world's most alluring and enjoyable sporting events also offers tennis lovers a chance to indulge in delectable dining ranging from snacks on-the-go to sit-down meals prepared by world renowned chefs. The culinary experience at the BNP Paribas Open is second to none, with cuisine that will leave even the most discerning foodies feeling satisfied. Several blue-ribbon restaurants set up shop this time of year, with views of the Santa Rosa mountains as well as an overlook onto the sizzling tennis action on Stadiums 1 and 2.

Whether you start out at the Circle of Palms Champagne Bar for bottle service or you decide to head straight to Nobu for oysters with wasabi salsa, you'll find yourself immersed in an unparalleled taste experience.

It's well worth admission as a tournament spectator for the opportunity to wine and dine at any one (or all) of these exceptional eateries.

Fresh Agave Mexican Bar & Grill

All ticket types

Overlooking Stadium 2, this mouthwatering Mexican restaurant has a wide following in the Coachella Valley at its Palm Desert location. This hotspot pours flavorful cocktails, tequilas and ice cold margaritas, featuring Cadillac, skinny, spicy and Jimador margarita, lemon drop, Mexican mule, mojito and cosmopolitan. A complete array of red and white wines as well as micheladas and Chavelas all go down easily.

You'll exclaim "love" with an appetizer such as ceviche in lime juice mixed with tomatoes, onions, cilantro and avocado or the campechana with shrimp. Another surefire option is to order the queso fundido, a Mexican fondue with melted Monterrey jack cheese.

Salads spotlight tostada fresca with fajita beef or chicken, fresh cilantro salad, Caesar salad with fajita beef or chicken and jumbo grilled shrimp and fajita salad with shrimp or calamari.

Platillos de la casa present platters such as salmon a la Mexicana, camarones Costa Azul (jumbo shrimp stuffed with Monterrey jack cheese stuffed in bacon) and pollo en mole (seasoned chicken breast in homemade mole sauce). There's also a full vegetarian menu.

Multiple visits are likely, and we wouldn't expect anything less.

Porta Via

Porta Via (new this year!)

Stadium 1

Proprietor Peter Garland brings his cooking philosophy to the BNP Paribas Open: “combine the best seasonal, organic ingredients and prepare them simply.”

A family of neighborhood restaurants with a world-class feel and a thirty-year pedigree, Porta Via arrived at The Shops on El Paseo in Palm Desert in summer 2022 with a modern Italian inspired, scene defining menu. Favorites include grilled Ora King salmon, butternut squash ravioli, pappardelle ai funghi and the famous “Porta Via Salad.”

Cocktails and wines are sustainable and organic, pouring Domaine Dupuy de Lôme Rosé and Ashes & Diamonds Cabernet Sauvignon. Other drinks include cali cleanse and summer in a glass with vodka, watermelon, lemonade and mint.

An appealing menu features chilled seafood, sandwiches, salads, pastas and more, including New England lobster roll, rigatoni spicy vodka sauce and Cobb Salad. For noshing between sets, try the tuna tower and Porta Via veggie roll.

House specialties while overlooking Stadium 1 include grilled skirt steak and miso-glazed Chilean seabass. The vegan burger is light and a little spicy, with house-made jalapeño-cilantro sauce. The caviar service offers a selection of Siberian, Royal Ossetra or Imperial Ossetra, with blinis, crème fraiche, egg whites, egg yolks, red onion and parsley.

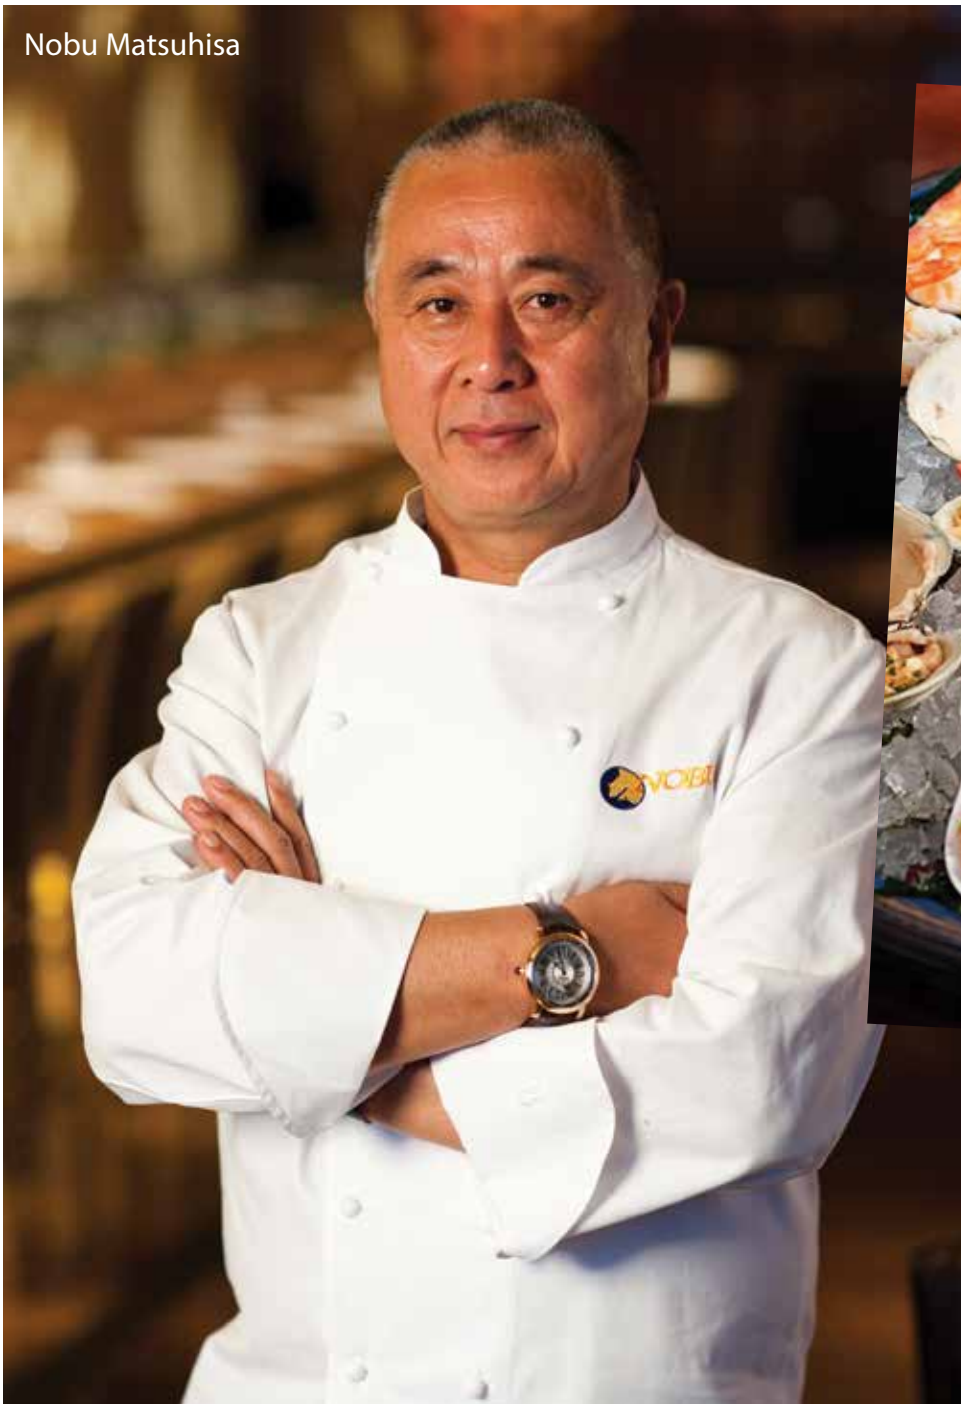

Thanks to Porta Via, courtside caviar may be our favorite match at the BNP!

Nobu Matsuhisa

Nobu

All ticket types

Even though Nobu Matsuhisa's acclaimed restaurant is a year-round fixture at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden, somehow the black cod tastes more buttery and the Wagyu beef seems more tender while overlooking the tennis on Stadium 2. Matsuhisa, who hit the dining scene in the 1980s with his first restaurant in New York, today boasts satellite establishments throughout the world.

The superstar James Beard chef's signature blend of traditional Japanese dishes with South American ingredients and specially sourced seafood and beef include Arctic char with chimichurri, lobster with wasabi pepper sauce and many others. Hot special dishes cover squid pasta with light garlic sauce, eggplant with miso and rock shrimp tempura. Cold special dishes showcase salmon spicy cilantro with paper thin vegetables, live octopus shabu shabu and baby artichoke salad.

There's a sushi bar with first-come, first-served seating that includes the finest sushi, sashimi, tempura, noodles, Nobu-style tacos and salad. Cocktails flow with shiso mojito, yuzu margarita, spicy mango, lychee or Matsuhisa martini and others, and there is a full selection of sake.

Desserts are a smash, preparing taste treats such as bento box with Valrhona dark chocolate fondant and imperial matcha gelato.

Whatever happens, just hope you don't have to choose between the seafood and the beef.

Ristorante Mamma Gina

Ristorante Mamma Gina

All ticket types

Sometimes only pasta will do, and for those times during tennis paradise, Ristorante Mamma Gina comes to the rescue. The Indian Wells Tennis Garden location is every bit as hip and happening as the El Paseo locale, with tantalizing menu offerings including soups, salads, appetizers, pastas and fresh meats and seafoods all prepared with a traditional Italian flair.

Mules are served in copper mugs — we should hope so — with choices such as Moscow, cucumber and dark and stormy. Specialty martinis and an expertly curated wine menu complement the cuisine.

Go-to selections include polenta pasticciata al gorgonzola (baked polenta with sweet truffled gorgonzola cheese), calamaretti fritti, spaghetti alla carbonara, cannelloni alla Fiorentina, New York alla griglia (16-ounce prime New York steak grilled and served with mushroom medley, roasted potatoes and spinach), branzino alla Tony, and brodetto di pesce fresco (cioppino style fish stew with calamari, salmon, mussels, clams, scallops and shrimp in a light saffron tomato broth).

Delectable side dishes are essential for any meal, with items including Tuscan style cannellini beans, steamed asparagus with parma and butter, eggplant parmigiana and sauteed portobello mushrooms.

Scrumptious desserts offer crème brûlée, lemon crème tart and panna cotta. You'll want to save room — trust us.

Mimmo's Italian Restaurant and Bar

daily, reminiscent of Mimmo's home town of Bagheria, Sicily. The restaurant's logo, which features a lemon and lemon flower (zagara), serves as a symbol of Sicily's illustrious history of lemon cultivation and exportation. Moreover, it holds personal significance for Mimmo, evoking memories of picking lemons in his grandfather's groves.

Whether visiting for happy hour or dinner, a great start is with the addictive garlic bread while enjoying a glass of wine or a specialty cocktail, such as a pommardini, limoncello drop or monte Negroni. The first course offers creamy soups, salads and appetizers such as special bean soup, iceberg wedge with prosciutto, homemade Italian sausage and numerous others that will bring pure joy.

Main course options include linguine alle vongole (with fresh clam sauce), Petrale sole or sand dabs with capers and lemon butter sauce, pollo piccata with capers, eggplant parmigiana and an innovative collection of other choices. Desserts – or dolce - are divine, with options including Sicilian cannoli and Italian chocolate mousse.

Palm Desert Food & Wine 2024

Where world renowned chefs achieve rock star status

PALM DESERT FOOD & WINE

Fans of the decadently delicious all-in-one Thanksgiving sensation The PieCaken will be elated to know that its creator, Zac Young, will be one of the featured chefs at this year's Palm Desert Food & Wine Festival presented by Agua Caliente Casinos taking place March 22-24, 2024.

The big white tent on El Paseo will transform from the west coast's premier fashion headquarters into an elegant warehouse of gastronomic glee. Accomplished chefs take on rock-star prominence, with fresh ingredients and flavorful combinations of edible delights as their prized instruments. Events will include Grand Tastings on both Saturday and Sunday March 23 and 24 ($225 or $150), as well as a Cheese Masterclass on March 21 ($75), James Beard Gourmet Four-Course Luncheon on March 22 ($250), celebrity chef reception on March 23 ($125), Sunday brunch March 24 ($165) and more.

Zac Young's groundbreaking, direct to consumer bakery, PieCaken Bakeshop, helped revolutionize nationwide shipping of specialty desserts in partnership with the online marketplace Goldbelly.

Other featured chefs who will be offering up their culinary works of art include:

- Dominique Crenn, co-owner and chef of the three-Michelin-starred restaurant Atelier Crenn in San Francisco;
- Jamie Gwen, a Culinary Institute of America and Le Cordon Bleu graduate, celebrity chef and lifestyle expert, nationally syndicated radio host, certified sommelier, and seven time cookbook author;
- Gale Gand, a nationally acclaimed pastry chef, restaurateur, cookbook author, teacher and television personality;
- Afrim Pristine, Canada's premier maître fromager (cheese master);
- Mary Sue Milliken, James Beard and Julia Child award recipient, cookbook author, media personality, food system activist, and co-owner of SOCALO, BBQ Mexicana, Pacha Mamas, and Border Grill restaurants;

- Susan Feniger, Milliken's business partner in her modern Mexican Border Grill restaurant empire;
- Megan "Meg" Bickford, executive chef of Commander's Palace in New Orleans;
- Aisha Ibrahim, executive chef at Canlis Restaurant and recently recognized as a 2023 Food & Wine Best New Chef of America;
- Acclaimed chef Angelo Sosa, renowned for his bold cooking rooted in Asian flavors and techniques, bringing over 25 years of experience that has taken him from three-star kitchens in Europe to street food stalls in Thailand;
- Hometown idol JC Marquez, former executive chef at the Palm Springs Tramway and currently with Melissa's Produce;
- Agua Caliente executive chef Juan Morales, a talented former chef at the Patina Group; and,
- Chris Oh, Michelin rated chef and owner of Um.Ma.San Francisco, Juliana Ktown, Chingu Hawaii, Von's Korean Fried Chicken, founder of Seoul Sausage Co, The Korean Bbq Kit, and Kpop Foods, winner of multiple TV competition shows, budding TV personality, author and clothing designer.

The weekend's sipping options will feature more than 60 premium and sparkling wines, representing a diverse selection of the best wines in the country and the world. Both well-known favorites and hidden gems will be poured at the Grand Tastings,

March 23 and 24, where guests can interact with the vintners and winemakers as well as purveyors of fine spirits and craft beer brewers.

Numerous area restaurants comprise the jewel in the crown of this tastefully regal event, which celebrates the area's thriving food scene. One must take in the magnitude of culinary talent with more than 40 participating local restaurants providing delectable bites prepared by each establishment's truly talented cooks and chefs.

Partnership with merchants plays a big role in the guest experience at Palm Desert Food & Wine's Grand Tastings, where there will be a variety of culinary-centric vendors offering top-of-the-line, unique and cutting-edge products such as spices, herbs, olive oils, cutting boards, kitchen appliances, cooking utensils and more.

Produced by "Palm Springs Life" magazine, a portion of the proceeds from the event will benefit FIND Food Bank.

Bringing awareness to new cultures and lifestyle experiences through cuisine seems to be the common denominator among these talented artists, along with taking a few risks in the kitchen and the boardroom. They are uniquely able to balance sweet with savory and decadence with whimsy in culinary endeavors as well as in life. The opportunity to talk to and learn from them as well as sample their innovative tastes are what makes Palm Desert Food & Wine stand out around the nation.

Fashion Week El Paseo brings style, fashion and flair

The 17th annual event celebrates designs from Max Mara, Sak's Fifth Avenue and other couture dignitaries

As Madonna would say,
"Strike a pose, there's nothing to it."

The 17th annual installation of Fashion Week El Paseo, which happens to be the West Coast's largest consumer fashion show, will take place March 15-21, 2024 at The Gardens on El Paseo in Palm Desert. And actually, there's quite a lot to it. Presented by Agua Caliente Casinos and produced by "Palm Springs Life" magazine, attendees can expect an immersive fashion adventure with plenty of cocktail receptions, pop-up shops, celebrity meet-and-greets and runway revelations.

Multiple shows, each featuring a different designer and/or theme, will highlight fashion trends and showcase a who's who of the country's top design talents (including some stars of tomorrow). This year's sponsors also include City of Palm Desert, Bobbi Lampros, The Gardens on El Paseo, El Paseo, Bentley, Indigo Auto Group, The Shops on El Paseo, Farley Interlocking Pavers, Zing Zang, Tsar Nicoulai Caviar and KESQ News Channel 3.

On Friday, March 15, the Italian luxury house of Max Mara will showcase its runway collections, reinforcing its status as a global symbol of Italian tailoring and elegance. Presented by Farley Pavingstones, proceeds benefit Safehouse of the Desert.

"LeonLeon presents Sensual Rhapsody" will take the stage on Saturday, March 16. Presented by Amsterdam's runway designer, Leon Klaassen Bos, LeonLeon uses the magic of haute couture to create innovative and sculptural designs molded to compliment the male and female bodies. Mizell Center will benefit from the evening's proceeds.

Sunday, March 17 features Simon Ungless. A long-time collaborator of Alexander McQueen, Ungless presents his sustainable collection of male and female fashions that are artfully repurposed, recreated and impeccably tailored. The benefiting charity will be Oak Grove Sanctuary Palm Springs.

On Monday, March 18, "Fifty Shades of Pink on El Paseo" will benefit the Girlfriend Factor with ten high-end El Paseo stores unveiling their latest spring / summer collections. Guests will bask in the rosy glow of pink in all shades and tones.

Tuesday, March 19 brings forth Scooter LaForge, noted New York painter and sculptor. The artist's dynamic hand painted fashions have been worn by icons such as Beyoncé, Boy George, Miley Cyrus, Nicki Manaj and Madonna. The beneficiary is AAP Food Samaritans.

On Wednesday, March 20, Istituto Marangoni Miami brings its top-tier design students into the limelight. Each student will present brand-new pieces for the runway that embody the latest trends in fashion and creativity, shaping the future of the industry and benefiting DAP Health.

“Saks Fifth Avenue Presents” closes out the week on Thursday, March 21, with luxury fashions. Its spring/summer 2024 menswear and womenswear collections promise to inspire a whole new wardrobe, offering up styles that take fashion aficionados from day to night with just the right amount of swagger. Bighorn Bam will benefit from this show’s proceeds.

Insiders know that there are usually after-parties following each fashion show at chic locations and boutique hotels all around the desert. All functions begin with cocktails at 7 p.m. followed by shows at 8 p.m. Reserved seating in the second row goes for $200 with general seating available for $95.

Front row seats are part of the Diva package, which includes two front row seats to every night of Fashion Week El Paseo, valet parking, access to the VIP lounge and exclusive events leading up to the week.

Upon arrival at the upper level of the Gardens where the festivities begin, guests can plan to take photos before entering the big white tent for cocktails and sophisticated socializing. While mixing and mingling at the reception, attendees can also experience music, sponsor displays and activations in addition to appetizer samplings and silent auctions.

Anticipating the excitement of the catwalk while lauding the newest collections of the industry’s most prominent influencers and innovators, everyday fashionistas can embrace the sartorial allure of New York or Milan with a decidedly desert vibe.

Porsche Taycan

A New Era of Electric Luxury

Porsche Palm Springs
3735 E Palm Canyon Dr
Palm Springs, CA 92264
porschepalmsprings.com
888-447-8705

In the ever-evolving landscape of electric vehicles (EVs), Porsche stands out for its commitment to blending performance and style. The 2024 Porsche Taycan exemplifies the German automaker's dedication to pushing the boundaries of possibility. With cutting-edge technology, stunning design, and exhilarating performance, the Taycan continues to redefine the electric driving experience.

One glance at the 2024 Taycan, and it's evident that Porsche has not given up on creating cars that match its unmistakably Porsche brand. The sleek lines and aggressive stance of the Taycan give a unique profile that can be only one company. Porsche designers know how to make fast cars that turn heads.

The Taycan retains Porsche's signature four-door sports car silhouette, emphasizing a harmonious blend of elegance and athleticism. LED headlights, a sculpted hood, and the iconic Porsche logo all contribute to the car's striking presence on the road. The attention to detail extends to the interior, where luxury meets innovation.

Inside the 2024 Taycan, and you are greeted by a meticulously crafted interior that seamlessly combines comfort and cutting-edge technology. Leather and aluminum, whisper sophistication. The minimalist dashboard is dominated by a large touchscreen display that serves as the command center for the vehicle's myriad features. No buttons anywhere. Behind the wheel you get a view of the road that compels you to smash the pedal hard.

Porsche has a storied history of producing high-performance vehicles, and the Taycan is no exception. The 2024 model continues producing performance numbers that keep in the world-class category of sports cars, offering multiple model trim levels to please every driver. The Taycan 4S generates 522 horsepower with a smaller battery and 562 horsepower on the larger option. An even larger motor comes standard on the upper-tier models, the 670-hp Turbo and the 750-hp Turbo S. The Turbo S clears 0-60 mph in 2.4 seconds at a top speed of 130 mph.

The whiplash of the Turbo S comes at a price. At a suggested retail price near $200,000, the features you get are impressive. Customize nearly everything from color of the paint, interior lighting, and leather softness. The Turbo S is a machine could be said to punch above its weight class.

The precision engineering you'd expect from Porsche is all over the Taycan, from the chassis to the newly designed two-speed transmission. The Taycan gets rave reviews on its handling and acceleration. Nothing is lost in going electric. Driving modes allow you to customize the experience, whether it's a leisurely cruise or an adrenaline-pumping sprint. The performance package option provides fun rear-axle steering and torque vectoring to improve agility, the Sport Plus drive mode optimizes performance, and the active anti-roll bars aid cornering stability.

While the Taycan's range isn't impressive (246 miles) compared to other EVs in its class, but its fast-charging capabilities make up for it. Porsche estimates that on an 800-volt DC platform, it can charge from 5-80 percent in 23 minutes. This may not be the car you take on a cross-country trip, but around town it's going to work great.

Beyond performance, Porsche has designed the Taycan with more cargo space than most sedans on the market. The Taycan is a bit of a hybrid between a sports car and a crossover. With a curb weight of just over 5,000 pounds, it isn't easy to compare this car with its peers. Yet, it screams off the line and handles like a champ.

The Taycan is not just a symbol of luxury and performance; it represents Porsche's ability to work miracles with metal and wheels. Taking this much weight around a track this fast should be criminal, but instead, it's an average day in the life of a Porsche supercar. This is what the future holds for electric vehicles. With each iteration, Porsche refines its electric offerings, addressing concerns, and pushing the boundaries of innovation.

The Taycan is not just a car; it's a statement — a statement that electric vehicles can be thrilling, luxurious, and practical.

Holding court during tennis season with

Versace Active Wear

By Alison Elsner

Keeping your eye on the ball with the passion of Medusa

Versace is frequently seen on red carpets around the world, however the Medusa inspired motif also keeps style in play on the tennis court and in the gym. Founded in 1978 by the late Gianni Versace, the Italian design house specializes in sizzling glamour and consistently high fashion. Gianni's sister, Donatella Versace, has designed the label since 1997, creating luxuriously sexy dresses and separates including cutting edge active wear fashions that convey independence and an international sensibility.

Elizabeth Hurley, Jennifer Lopez, Elton John, Dua Lipa, Madonna, Gisele Bündchen, Beyonce and Lady Gaga have boosted the brand's caché over the decades. Palazzo Versace hotels now operate in Australia, Dubai and Macau as the world's first fashion-branded hotels. Ratcheting up the appeal for fashionistas who take responsibility for their choices is the fact that in 2018, Versace stopped using fur in its products and in 2020 announced it would stop using kangaroo leather.

Versace active wear is on point for playing tennis, visiting the gym or just enjoying a Bellini martini at Nobu while overlooking Stadium 2 during the BNP Paribas in Indian Wells in March.

The Barocco gym leggings leave no doubt about the Versace branding, displaying a stylish black background with yellow swirled insets along the outer thigh and lower leg. An elasticized waistband hugs the body during workouts, with a composition of nylon and elastane. The Barocco theme is characterized by a bold and intricate repeating motif of acanthus leaves, medallions and Greek frets in a vibrant yellow and black color palette. $825.

The coordinating Barocco gym sports bra is designed for low impact workouts and features a racerback and scoop neck. The breathable, stretchy material lends a "Very Versace" sensibility to this flexible interpretation of contemporary athletic wear, which can also double as a fashion forward crop top with wide leg slacks. The Barocco print appears on side panels and at the shoulders for a balanced visual, finished with the Versace imprint at the neckline. $525.

The Crete de Fleur gym leggings and coordinating Crete de Fleur gym sports bra build on the Barocco design, introducing refreshing swatches of pure white in an eye-catching silhouette on or off the court. The stretch leggings have a wide waistband, and the sleeveless sports bra offers structure with corset-inspired seams around the bustline, racerback and scoop neck. The trademark Medusa logo makes an appearance on the back of the sports bra and along the front of the leggings, reinforcing the origins of the logo, her image and spirit said to incarnate fatal passion in the fiercely headstrong woman who wears it. $950 and $595.

The Greca pleated tennis skirt is distinctively if not defiantly Versace, with the signature Greca key elastic design, showcasing a central Medusa motif in this pull-on style. The geometric Greca design has been used by the Italian fashion house since the late 1980s, displaying repeated interlocking Greek keys, a symbol of infinity and unity. A high-rise waistband and A-line silhouette flow gently into a series of mini-pleats with a hem that falls above the knee. A rich black nylon and elastane background calls attention to the mythological references in the bright gold accents. $825.

The complementary Greca border cutout active tank top pairs well with the tennis skirt, a fitted, sleeveless design with a high round neckline and back keyhole cutout. Created as a pullover style, the elegant simplicity of the top presents the signature Greca border, highlighting the primary Medusa imagery at the center front banded hem. $375.

An alternate choice to match the tennis skirt is the Greca border gym tank top, a wardrobe essential for sports or socializing.

Incorporating a built-in sports bra, the square neckline and racerback flatter well-toned arms, while the wide shoulder straps provide a deep black contrast upon which the signature Greca pattern takes prominence. Made from polyamide and elastane, the signature top is from Italy. $450.

Another way to coordinate is with the Greca high-rise active leggings from the Iconic series, revealing a seamed design and perforated panels. The signature Greca and Medusa waistband is high rise and full length, with a second skin fit. The pull-on style is constructed from polyamide and elastane and can be machine washed warm. $525.

As the sun dips behind the Santa Rosa Mountains, it's time to don the Greca track jacket. The black design constructed of pure Italian silk features the iconic Greca sleeve key trim and a chest logo patch with Medusa's watchful visage. A hooded neckline, vented back, banded hem and front zip with side zip pockets take on a relaxed fit. Long sleeves are anchored by elastic cuffs, and the Versace brand name appears on the left front upper. $1,450.

The Greca drawstring track pants in black are an activewear staple and can be worn alone as a statement piece or over leggings or bike shorts. Featuring the signature Greca key trim on the lower leg, these pants made of elastane have a high-rise drawstring waistband, side seam pockets and a single back pocket. Full length legs are finished with elastic cuffs at the ankle and are easy to pull on. $875.

The experts at the Pantone Color Institute have officially declared peach fuzz as the 2024 color of the year. We're not just talking guidelines for wall décor and stationery but rather for au courant fashion and innovative high jewelry designs. The jewelry houses of Assael, Verragio and Picchiotti have harnessed the power of the peach by tapping into its restorative powers that set the tone for healing and recalibration after a challenging past few years.

Each color of the rainbow represents a different vibration and attracts various levels of energy. Peach fuzz is an understated shade that appeals to the senses and encourages tactile sensations through gentle reflections of light, whether sporting city-chic or bucolic bliss.

The warm shades of orange, yellow, pink and red are flattering on most skin tones, and these corals and gemstones ease into the trend without being overpowering.

Sunset carnelian and diamond earrings

Assael is known for elegance with attitude, responsibly sourcing and designing the finest pearl and coral creations for those seeking the lux life. The Sunset carnelian and diamond earrings are subtle yet powerful, showcasing the gentle hues of precious angel skin coral and sunset carnelian juxtaposed with the confidence of geometric shapes and stripes. A pair of detachable round angel skin coral cabochons (16.5 mm) connects with a pair of round, striped candlelight carnelians (24.19 tcw.) from Indonesia and 200 single-cut pavé diamonds (1.14 tcw.). Set in 18K rose gold, this study in symmetry measures 1.5 inches long on each ear. $46,000.

Assael angel skin coral, spinel and diamond ring

An exquisite complement to the beaded necklace, the Assael angel skin coral, spinel and diamond ring will turn heads and capture hearts. The centerpiece is a single round coral measuring 14.25 mm nestled among two bright and brilliant red spinel trillions (1.38 tcw.). Surrounding the coral sphere are rows of 48 round diamonds (0.38 tcw.) set in a 18K rose gold, accentuating the vibrancy of the adjacent stones. $33,800.

Verragio's Reverie Gold Belle pearl and diamond pendant

Verragio's Reverie Gold Belle pearl and diamond pendant takes inspiration from engagement ring halos and delicate diamond shapes. The Reverie collection is an ode to the New York City legend of Mae Manwaring Plant, the woman who traded her home on Fifth Avenue to Pierre Cartier for two strands of natural pearls. In this design, gilded Victorian opulence is transformed into an updated, wearable classic. Twelve strikingly uniform round pearls, available in white or pink versions, are positioned around a center circle of round diamonds (0.25 tcw.). An outline of round diamonds encompasses the circle of pearls, forming a multi-point pendant along a delicate gold chain. $3,150.

Verragio Victorian pendant with diamond center

The Verragio Victorian pendant with diamond center is from the Veritage Collection, which draws on Verragio's rich design heritage. The iconic Verragio crest, signature beading and bridal-inspired settings accentuate the purity of the diamonds fashioned into a geometric halo. A round diamond takes its position at the center of the design, surrounded by a fusion of curves and angles lined in round diamonds (0.30 tcw.) Set in 18K rose gold, the popularity of the intricate patterns proves that what was formerly reserved for bridal and engagement ceremonies can now be celebrated as everyday jewelry fashion. $2,000.

Verragio pearl and diamond toi et moi ring

The Verragio pearl and diamond toi et moi ring emerges with a pop of luminous pearlescence. Also from the Reverie Collection, two sizeable round white pearls are positioned one on top of the other as the ends of the band strike harmony while seemingly suspended in mid-air after delicately twisting around the finger. Set in gleaming 18K rose gold, a linear strand of round diamonds (0.41 tcw.) creates a protective scepter for each pearl. $2,650.

Picchiotti coral pendant necklace

The Picchiotti coral pendant necklace is an elegant affair with a strand of round diamonds (9.24 tcw.) in clusters of three, each interspersed with glistening sunny golden South Seas pearls (approximately 11 mm each) set in white gold along seven distinctive stations. Six more diamond clusters create a linear drop, culminating in a rich, orange-red teardrop shaped coral pendant (81.50 tcw.), announcing spring without being ostentatious. $76,600.

Picchiotti diamond and gold

Part of the Xpandable Collection, the Picchiotti diamond and gold ring highlights three dramatic rows of round diamonds. Fifty round diamonds (2.81 tcw.) line the outer edges and 25 emerald cut diamonds (3.76 tcw.) comprise the center row of larger stones, all of them set in softly hued 18K rose gold, reminiscent of Pantone's peach fuzz color. Hidden springs on the inside of Xpandable rings gently expand and contract for a comfortable fit. They flex comfortably so the ring can easily accommodate different sizing. $28,100.

Picchiotti bracelet

The Picchiotti bracelet, also from the Xpandable Collection, is a prototype of refinement, with lengths of 18K rose gold alternating with six stations of 90 round diamonds (5.58 tcw.) arranged in rows around the cuff. Each trio of diamond rows is set in shiny 18K white gold, contrasting against the intensity of the peachy-hued precious metal. The bracelet's inner diameter measures 55 mm and is free from the cumbersome clasp, combining old world craftsmanship and modern technology. $34,700.
