BNP Paribas Open

Promises to be one of the most exciting events in tennis this year

Defending champion
Carlos Alcaraz

All eyes will be on the world number one, Jannik Sinner

The 2025 BNP Paribas Open at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden promises to be one of the most exciting events in tennis this year. As one of the most prestigious tournaments outside of the Grand Slams, Indian Wells has consistently attracted the crème de la crème of the tennis world. This year, all eyes will be on the world number one, Jannik Sinner, as he leads a star-studded field vying for glory in the Californian desert.

Sinner's rise to the top of the rankings has been nothing short of meteoric. The young Italian has captivated tennis enthusiasts with his explosive power, exceptional shot-making, and remarkable composure on the court. His journey to world number one has been marked by numerous titles and consistent performances against the best in the game. At Indian Wells, Sinner will be looking to add another prestigious title to his growing list of achievements.

However, Sinner will not have an easy path to the trophy. The tournament boasts a lineup of top players who are equally hungry for victory. Defending champion Carlos Alcaraz, known for his tenacity and incredible agility, will be a formidable opponent. Alcaraz has had an impressive year, solidifying his place among the elite with his relentless baseline play and tactical acumen.

Also in the mix is the seasoned veteran Novak Djokovic, who continues to defy age and remain a constant threat at every tournament he enters. Djokovic's unrivaled experience, mental toughness, and unparalleled fitness make him a perennial favorite. His battles with the younger generation have been enthralling, and fans can expect nothing less at Indian Wells.

On the women's side, the competition is equally fierce. World number one Iga Swiatek leads the charge, bringing her aggressive baseline game and tactical intelligence to the courts of Indian Wells. Swiatek's dominance on clay has translated well to hard courts, making her a formidable contender. She will face stiff competition from players like Aryna Sabalenka, whose powerful hitting and fearless approach have made her a fan favorite. Sabalenka's ability to hit winners from any position on the court makes her a dangerous opponent.

The BNP Paribas Open is not just about the on-court action. The Indian Wells Tennis Garden offers a myriad of activities and experiences for fans. The venue, often referred to as Tennis Paradise, is renowned for its stunning setting and world-class facilities. Spectators can enjoy watching matches from the beautifully designed stadiums, including the iconic Stadium 1, which provides an intimate atmosphere despite its large capacity.

Between matches, fans can explore the various entertainment options available. The grounds are dotted with numerous restaurants and food stalls offering a diverse range of culinary delights. From gourmet dining to casual snacks, there's something to satisfy every palate. The Indian Wells Tennis Garden also features a lively retail area where fans can purchase the latest tennis gear, souvenirs, and apparel from their favorite brands.

For those looking to immerse themselves in the sport, the Garden offers interactive fan experiences. Clinics and coaching sessions are available for fans of all ages and skill levels, providing a unique opportunity to learn from top coaches and former players. Autograph sessions with players are another highlight, giving fans the chance to meet their idols up close and personal.

The tournament also places a strong emphasis on community and sustainability. Numerous initiatives are in place to promote environmental awareness and reduce the tournament's carbon footprint. Recycling stations, eco-friendly products, and sustainable practices are integral parts of the event's operations. The BNP Paribas Open is committed to making a positive impact both on and off the court.

As the sun sets over the desert, the Indian Wells Tennis Garden transforms into a vibrant hub of nightlife and entertainment. Live music performances, DJ sets, and themed parties keep the energy high long after the matches have ended. The relaxed and friendly atmosphere makes it easy for fans to mingle, share their love of tennis, and create lasting memories.

In addition to the world-class tennis and entertainment, Indian Wells is situated in a region known for its natural beauty and recreational opportunities. Visitors can take advantage of the nearby hiking trails, golf courses, and luxury resorts. The Coachella Valley offers a perfect blend of relaxation and adventure, making it an ideal destination for a tennis getaway.

As the 2025 BNP Paribas Open approaches, anticipation is building for what promises to be an unforgettable event. With Jannik Sinner leading a stellar cast of players, the tournament is set to deliver high-quality tennis and thrilling moments. The combination of top-tier competition, outstanding facilities, and a vibrant fan experience ensures that Indian Wells remains a highlight on the tennis calendar.

Whether you are a die-hard tennis fan or simply looking for a unique sporting experience, the BNP Paribas Open at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden is an event not to be missed. The convergence of the world's best players, breathtaking surroundings, and a rich array of activities guarantees an extraordinary celebration of tennis in Tennis Paradise.

The Thermal Club INDYCAR GRAND PRIX Set for March 21-23 in the Coachella Valley

By Alison Elsner

The Thermal Club is set to score another first, hosting the inaugural Thermal Club NTT IndyCar Grand Prix from March 21-23, 2025, the second official race of the season. A showcase of speed and skill, this marks the Club's advancement to hosting a full championship event.

The weekend at The Thermal Club, regarded as one of the most cutting-edge private motorsports facilities in the world, will be filled with high-speed competition, offering a more intimate experience than, for instance, the Long Beach race vibe. (The Thermal Club race will be held three weeks before the Acura Grand Prix of Long Beach, a traditional race on the West Coast for IndyCar.) This year's race features the biggest names in the NTT IndyCar Series including 2024 series champion Alex Palou (Chip Ganassi Racing), two-time Indianapolis 500 champion Josef Newgarden (Team Penske) and top championship finishers Colton Herta (Andretti Global), Scott McLaughlin and Will Power (Team Penske).

The Thermal Club founder and owner, Tim Rogers, said, "This brings a great event to the valley and makes it accessible to our local residents. It's exciting for them to watch the action without having to deal with the massive crowds that one would experience at Indy 500 with 400,000 fans out there."

He continued, "When fans enter the gates of The Thermal Club, they become aware that we have a world class racing facility right here in the desert."

Spectators can immerse themselves in a variety of culinary offerings from top-tier food trucks to gourmet restaurants, as well as exclusive access to fan zones with driver meet-and-greets, merchandise pop-ups, and unique photo-ops, covering family-friendly spaces to VIP hospitality lounges.

The Club put itself on the on the racing map in early 2024 by hosting the IndyCar $1 Million Challenge, a non points exhibition March 22-24, 2024. The race was televised on NBC, and while Championship points were not on the line, the event featured a million-dollar purse with the first place award claimed by Spaniard Álex Palou. Palou led all 20 laps of the Sprint for the Purse from the pole, driving his No. 10 DHL Chip Ganassi Racing Honda to a 5.7929-second victory over the No. 3 XPEL Team Penske Chevrolet of Scott McLaughlin, who earned $350,000 for his runner-up finish.

Fans can expect a full throttle experience where motorsports meet luxury

“The Thermal Club is thrilled to welcome IndyCar back, this time for a full-scale Grand Prix,” said Rogers. “Our team has put everything into making this race an unforgettable experience for fans, residents, and guests, in an extraordinary setting that only The Thermal Club can offer.”

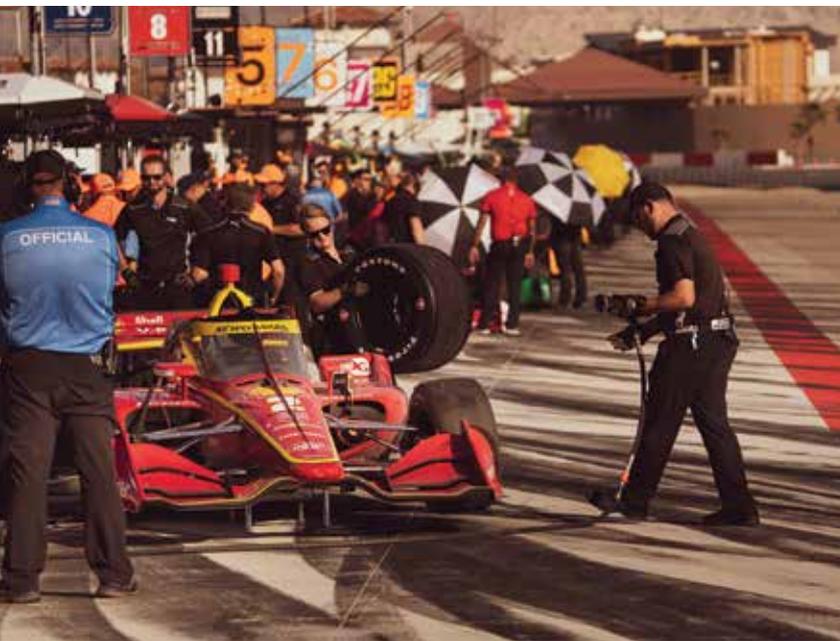

Rogers pointed out that there are a few changes. “This year we are making sure to give general admission ticket holders access to the food trucks and paddocks. The VIP attendees will have access to pit row which has to be a bit more restrictive for safety reasons.”

The race brings its distinctive blend of speed, precision and power to the track’s sophisticated Twin Palms track layout, which is a formidable 3.067 mile (4.82 kilometer) masterpiece, packed with 19 thrilling turns, demanding straightaways, sweeping curves, and elevation shifts.

The Thermal Club hosted an evaluation test last November, 2024, for the NTT IndyCar Series teams who put their skills to the test ahead of the upcoming March Grand Prix. Invited media members witnessed an exhibition with participants including Enzo Fittipaldi (Arrow McLaren), Toby Sowery (Dale Coyne Racing), Hunter McElrea (Ed Carpenter Racing), Logan Sargeant (Meyer Shank Racing), Louis Foster (Rahal Letterman Lanigan Racing), and Felipe Nasr (Team Penske).

“The evaluation test was a vital step leading up to the inaugural Thermal Club IndyCar Grand Prix,” said Rogers. “Our team has poured heart and soul into crafting an unforgettable experience, all set against the unparalleled backdrop.”

When asked if he had any predictions about who will finish first this year, Rogers said, "I want to wait until closer to the race to see who's running fast."

The Thermal Club's entry is through unmarked gates which are tucked between acres of farmland and date palm groves, five miles from the Jacquelyn Cochran Regional Airport in Thermal, California at the base of the Santa Rosa Mountains.

The Club is a posh resort for mega well-heeled (as in average $30 million net worth each) motorsport enthusiasts who can savor race car action at their doorsteps and from atop their private balconies. First opened in 2013, the Club offers five racing circuits, karting and autocross tracks, designed by Alan Wilson. Each track has its own covered paddock and a full pit crew. The tracks can accommodate any vehicle at any speed, from F1 to high performance exotics to vintage motorsports racecars.

The Thermal Club was established and financed by car collectors and enthusiasts Tim and Twanna Rogers, who amassed their $7.5 billion in sales by buying and supplying fuel to 7-Eleven convenience stores and gas stations as well as owning Tower Energy Group (as in Tower Markets). The Club provides amenities including a motorsports village, spa, hotel for guests with 48 casitas, fitness center, tennis courts and a pool.

In order to tear it up on the track as a member of The Thermal Club – either with one’s own racing vehicle or with a car ordered for the day provided by The Club – the buy-in is $200,000 initiation fee, $2,400 per month membership fee and purchase of a lot with the firm commitment to build a luxury villa within five years, minimum 6,500 square feet. Most homes average 8,000 to 15,000 square feet, while Rogers’ is 24,000 square feet. Garages are two and three stories, often with viewing lofts from inside, akin to a modest airplane hangar. There are 276 lots.

Membership includes access to all tracks and amenities. The Club also keeps in the black through its relationship with the BMW Performance Driving Center West lease agreement on the grounds of the Club for $300,000 per month.

The NTT IndyCar Series, owned by Penske Corporation, is North America’s premier open-wheel auto racing series. It features an international field of the world's most versatile drivers who compete on superspeedways, short ovals, street circuits and permanent road courses. The 2025 season consists of 17 races in the United States and Canada and is highlighted by the historic Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge.

Rogers plans to watch the race from his own patio again this year, before eventually heading out to congratulate the winners.

When asked if he'd like to make this a tradition, Rogers said, "I would definitely want to continue to have this event here...as long as we make money." ■ Written by Alison Elsner

Pro hockey player

Ben Meyers

Embraces fan excitement and a flexible mindset

By Alison Elsner

The Coachella Valley Firebirds forward starts his third year in the pros

For pro hockey player Ben Meyers, life in a transient state is just part of the overall hockey experience.

The forward for the Coachella Valley Firebirds, part of the American Hockey League (AHL), was signed to begin the 2024–25 season in the Coachella Valley in July, as part of his contract with the Seattle Kraken (@SeattleKraken) of the National Hockey League (NHL). He formerly played for the Colorado Avalanche and Anaheim Ducks, prior to which he played college ice hockey at the University of Minnesota. The Firebirds play home games at Acrisure Arena in Palm Desert, California.

Meyers notes, “Anyone under NHL contract can be recalled by the parent team at any time,” just as he was recalled by Seattle to play with the Kraken on November 17. Remaining philosophical, he said, “I play where they need me.”

Meyers explains that he’s been pleasantly surprised by the desert reception since he arrived in the fall. He said, “There’s such a strong sense of community and so many fans all over the area. It’s great to see the bumper stickers, shirts and hats when I’m out and about. Plus, we get such great crowds at the rink. I can feel the excitement.”

Meyers’ arrival coincides with the appointment of Derek Laxdal as new head coach of the Coachella Valley Firebirds for the 2024–25 season.

Growing up in Delano, Minnesota, Meyers said, “Hockey is a game I’ve played my entire life, and I’ve always had a love for the sport. Playing pro hockey started to become a dream of mine, so my goal was to get a scholarship in college. By working hard, I started to realize that a hockey career was an option. It all happened organically.”

Meyers joined the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) University of Minnesota Golden Gophers from the Fargo Force of the United States Hockey League (USHL) where he was an alternate captain and helped the Force win the Clark Cup in 2018. He was named to the Big Ten All-Freshmen Team, and in his sophomore season in 2020–21, he was named an alternate captain, while juggling a major in entrepreneurial management.

In 2021–22, his junior year, Meyers was named the team’s captain. He was named to the Academic All-Big Ten, Academic All-District, Second Team All-America selection, 2021–22 Big Ten Player of the Year, First Team All-Big Ten selection and an NCAA All-Regional Team pick.

In April, 2022, Meyers signed a two-year contract with the Colorado Avalanche of the National Hockey League (NHL), and in March, 2024, he was traded to the Anaheim Ducks.

He was selected to represent the United States in the men's tournament at the 2022 Winter Olympics, alongside teammates Brock Faber and Matthew Knies, where he scored two goals and four points, second on Team USA.

On May 5, 2022, Meyers was named to the United States team to compete at the 2022 IIHF World Championship. He recorded four goals and four assists in ten games.

Acknowledging limitations on his free time, Meyers tries to fit in a game of golf when he can. He said, "I've played golf pretty much my whole life. I really enjoy the Classic Club and PGA West. I'll have more time later, as early in the season it's much busier."

Meyers has learned to live with the fact that his life situation could change at any time, depending on his contract. He said, "Being signed to a one year contract each year means lots of moving around. Plus, I could get traded, so I just have to be mobile. It's a lot to get used to, but I've learned to appreciate the good parts of the job."

When asked about those good parts of the job, Meyers said "I love hockey, and getting to work with teammates is probably the greatest part. Beyond that, I'm getting paid for working out and staying in shape, which is all positive."

Meyers is eagerly anticipating an upcoming visit from his father this spring. He also looks forward to three months off in the summer where he can visit his parents in Minnesota, go fishing and play golf.

Meyers said, "It's not the home I grew up in, because my parents decided they wanted to move. Delano was great, but it's a very small town, and now my parents get to enjoy lakeside living, and when I visit so do I. Plus I get to look after their golden doodle."

He also savors periodic visits with his brother, Nate, who played baseball at Minnesota State University then went into missionary work and is currently enrolled in a masters of psychology program in Colorado.

Asked about his preference for staying put in the desert or moving, Meyers said, "It depends so much on the opportunities. I think I just have to roll with the punches and stay flexible."

Meyers concludes, "One takes the good with the bad." He's possibly hit upon the secret to life for all of us.

Galleri Classic

at Mission Hills Country Club: A Celebration of Golf and Legacy

Golf legend Retief Goosen will make his much-anticipated return to the desert this March to defend his title

The centerpiece of the Galleri Classic is the Dinah Shore Tournament Course,

The 2025 Galleri Classic at Mission Hills Country Club is poised to be one of the most anticipated golf tournaments of the year, continuing its legacy as a cornerstone event in the golfing world. Nestled in the scenic Coachella Valley in Rancho Mirage, California, this prestigious tournament brings together the legends of the game, offering a thrilling combination of world-class competition, stunning landscapes, and a rich sense of tradition.

The Mission Hills Country Club, renowned for its immaculate grounds and challenging course design, provides the perfect backdrop for this celebrated tournament. Opened in 1971, the club has a deep history of hosting premier golf events, including decades of the Dinah Shore Tournament (now known as the Chevron Championship) and other marquee competitions. Its rolling fairways, strategically placed bunkers, and pristine greens make it a favorite among players and fans alike.

The centerpiece of the Galleri Classic is the Dinah Shore Tournament Course, a championship layout that has been recognized as one of the finest in the United States. It offers a balanced challenge, demanding both precision and creativity from the players. Signature holes, like the par-3 17th, with its island green, and the dramatic par-5 18th, provide thrilling moments that often decide the outcome of the tournament.

The Legends of the Game: The Galleri Classic is a premier event on the PGA TOUR Champions, attracting some of the biggest names in senior golf. Players aged 50 and over compete in this tournament, showcasing their enduring skill, strategy, and competitive spirit. Fans can expect to see legendary figures like Bernhard Langer, Ernie Els, Vijay Singh, and Fred Couples teeing it up alongside rising stars of the Champions Tour.

The 2025 edition promises heightened excitement, with several players competing for milestones and career-defining victories. The event's format—a 54-hole stroke play competition—ensures every round counts, keeping the leaderboard tight and the drama high throughout the weekend.

Community and Charitable Impact; The Galleri Classic is not just about golf; it's a celebration of community and philanthropy. The tournament is named in partnership with GRAIL, a company dedicated to advancing early cancer detection technologies. The event serves as a platform to raise awareness and funds for cancer research and treatment, aligning the spirit of competition with a meaningful cause.

Local charities in the Coachella Valley also benefit significantly from the tournament. Over the years, the Galleri Classic has contributed thousands of dollars to support health initiatives, youth programs, and educational efforts in the region. These contributions make the event a source of pride for the local community, emphasizing its broader impact beyond the golf course.

Retief Goosen Returns to the Desert to Defend His Galleri Classic Title... By Barry Lotz

Golf legend Retief Goosen will make his much-anticipated return to the desert this March to defend his title at the prestigious Galleri Classic. Set to take place from March 28-30, 2025, at the stunning Mission Hills Country Club in Rancho Mirage, California, the tournament promises to deliver another chapter of thrilling golf featuring some of the sport's greatest names.

2024 Galleri
Classic Champion
Retief Goosen

For Goosen, occasionally known as “The Iceman” for his unflappable demeanor, the desert has been a place of triumph. The South African golf star captured the Galleri Classic crown in 2024 with a blend of precision, patience, and poise, reminding fans of his timeless skill and competitive fire.

Retief Goosen’s Storied Career

Retief Goosen’s name is etched among the legends of golf. With two U.S. Open victories to his credit (2001 and 2004), Goosen has showcased his ability to rise to the occasion on the sport’s grandest stages. His smooth swing, exceptional ball-striking ability, and unwavering composure have earned him admiration from fans and peers alike. Over his illustrious career, Goosen has claimed seven PGA Tour titles and 14 wins on the European Tour, securing his place in the World Golf Hall of Fame in 2019.

The Galleri Classic victory in 2024 was yet another testament to Goosen’s enduring greatness. Competing against a talented field of senior golfers, he displayed the same strategic brilliance and ice-cold nerve that made him a force to be reckoned with throughout his career.

Fans will undoubtedly keep their eyes on Retief Goosen as he attempts to defend his title. His return to the desert, buoyed by both the competitive challenge and the warm community connections he treasures, promises to be a storyline to watch.

Whether he lifts the trophy again remains to be seen, but one thing is certain: with Goosen’s talent, experience, and the support of those around him, his title defense will be one to remember.

For now, the desert awaits, ready to witness yet another moment of magic from the golfer, affectionately known as “The Goose”.

Barry Lotz, J.D., Ph.D. is the director of the Professional Golf Teachers Association of America.

With numerous book titles to his credit, his new book, “The Back Nine- embracing Golf and Life as a Senior”, is due out in January 2025. Both are now available at www.pgtaa.com/product-category/books-and-apparell/

adds Hexclad "Cuisine Court" to its line-up of elevated food, drink and fun

21 years of bringing Hollywood and pro tennis together for charity

Not about to let grass grow under anyone's feet (or tennis shoes), the producers of Desert Smash are bringing the monumentally popular event back to the Coachella Valley for 2025 with exciting new amenities that give everyone the advantage.

This year marks the 21st anniversary of the heavy hitting turnout that artfully combines tennis, music and Hollywood for charity, taking place Monday and Tuesday, March 3 and 4. Held at the luxurious La Quinta Resort and Club since its inception in 2004, this high-energy party raises funds for charitable causes, combining competitive matches with entertainment and VIP experiences. Produced by Epic Sports and Brand Innovators, and founded by Ryan Macaulay, this year's action will again showcase two days of court sports, high octane amenities, mega-sponsors and serious star power.

Desert Smash purposefully dovetails with the start of the BNP Paribas Open, the "fifth Grand Slam," in adjacent Indian Wells. This year, Macaulay has announced the addition of a "Cuisine Court" to Desert Smash, locking in a tasteful and high-profile partnership with Hexclad. There will be multiple food stations from talented Top Chefs as an elevated cuisine offering to accompany the open bar serving top shelf spirits, margaritas and featured drinks such as the Ace Paloma presented by sponsor Maestro Dobel tequila.

Macaulay says, "We wanted to elevate our culinary experience for our generous ticket buyers, so we're thrilled with our new partnership with Hexclad and what they're bringing to the table, pun intended!" Other new sponsors include Rivian (electric cars), Mecum Auctions, Head Racquet Sports and Herbalife. All of this becomes part of the "Desert Smash Sponsor Village" of brands showcasing their products, celebrities working the red carpet, multiple premium hosted bars and high profile DJs spinning tunes which keeps the energy and vibes soaring.

Monday, March 3 starts on a high, featuring the 2025 edition of the Desert Smash Celebrity Pickleball Challenge with headlining pros Nick Krygios and Naomi Osaka, taking place on La Quinta's Stadium Tennis Court. With its vibrant atmosphere and star-studded matches, the 2025 Challenge will set an even higher standard for fun and philanthropy at Desert Smash.

New this year, tennis superstar Nick Krygios will be recording his podcast, "No Boundaries," live from the Pickleball Challenge and will interview a special guest at 2 p.m. for his show prior to the fun celebrity/pro matches. Australian Kyrgios has been ranked as high as world No. 11 in singles by the Association of Tennis Professionals (ATP) in 2016. Naomi Osaka, a Japanese pro tennis player, has been ranked world No. 1 in singles by the Women's Tennis Association (WTA) and is the first Asian player to hold the top ranking in singles. She is a four-time Grand Slam singles champion, with two Australian Open and two US Open titles.

The 21st Annual Desert Smash afternoon activity on Tuesday, March 4 once again takes place at the La Quinta Resort's picturesque Stadium Tennis Court with fan options ranging from VIP on-court seating to live ball playing experiences. The event never fails to deliver top talent, and this year will be no exception as tennis royalty will include Frances Tiafoe, Ons Jabeur, Victoria Azarenka, Alexander "Sascha" Zverev, Donna Vekić, Barbora Krejčíková (who won her first Wimbledon title in 2024) and others still to be announced.

The celebrity host's identity is yet to be released, but Macaulay assures everyone that it's a colorful crowd pleaser whom everyone will know!

The partying has a noble cause, and this year the recipient charity is the WTA Foundation in partnership with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, which works to enhance healthcare and reduce extreme poverty across the world as well as to expand educational opportunities and access to information technology in the U.S. The WTA Foundation's mission is to empower girls and women to live fully and support communities worldwide through initiatives promoting equality, education, leadership, and health and wellness. The WTA Foundation and Gates Foundation have together launched the "Women Change the Game" campaign to urge action on women's health and nutrition.

Alumni members who've graced Desert Smash, encompassing pro tennis players, entertainers and celebrities, have included Maria Sharapova, the Bryan Brothers, Serena Williams, Hyeon Chung, Lisa Leslie, Charlize Theron, Gavin Rossdale, Wanda Sykes, Donna Mills, Randy Jackson, Nicole Ari Parker, Boris Kodjoe, Joel McHale, Kevin Spacey, Rebel Wilson, Jon Hamm, Joe Pesci, Lance Bass and yes, even Novak Djokovic, who was part of the event in 2003 during its very first year and surprised everyone last year for the event's 20th anniversary.

Macaulay acknowledges that the scenic La Quinta Resort and Club has been integral to the success of Desert Smash, joining forces early on and now serving as the world-class hospitality partner. This year, guests will get to enjoy the spoils of the resort's $90 million renovations and face lift, with all rooms being completely refurbished along with updated event areas, lobby and spectacular new adult pool area and bar. Gulf Broadcasting and KESQ-3 have committed prominent support for two decades, and Desert Smash attracts media coverage from Entertainment Tonight, Access Hollywood, Hollywood Reporter, Vogue, Vanity Fair and dozens of others from around the world.

Insiders and VIPs can look forward to the invite-only Desert Smash Bash, the ultimate afterparty held at Zenyara, the 80 acre, 11-bedroom, ultra luxury private estate in Coachella that offers swimming, golfing, lounging on a man-made white-sand beach and a host of upscale recreational activities.

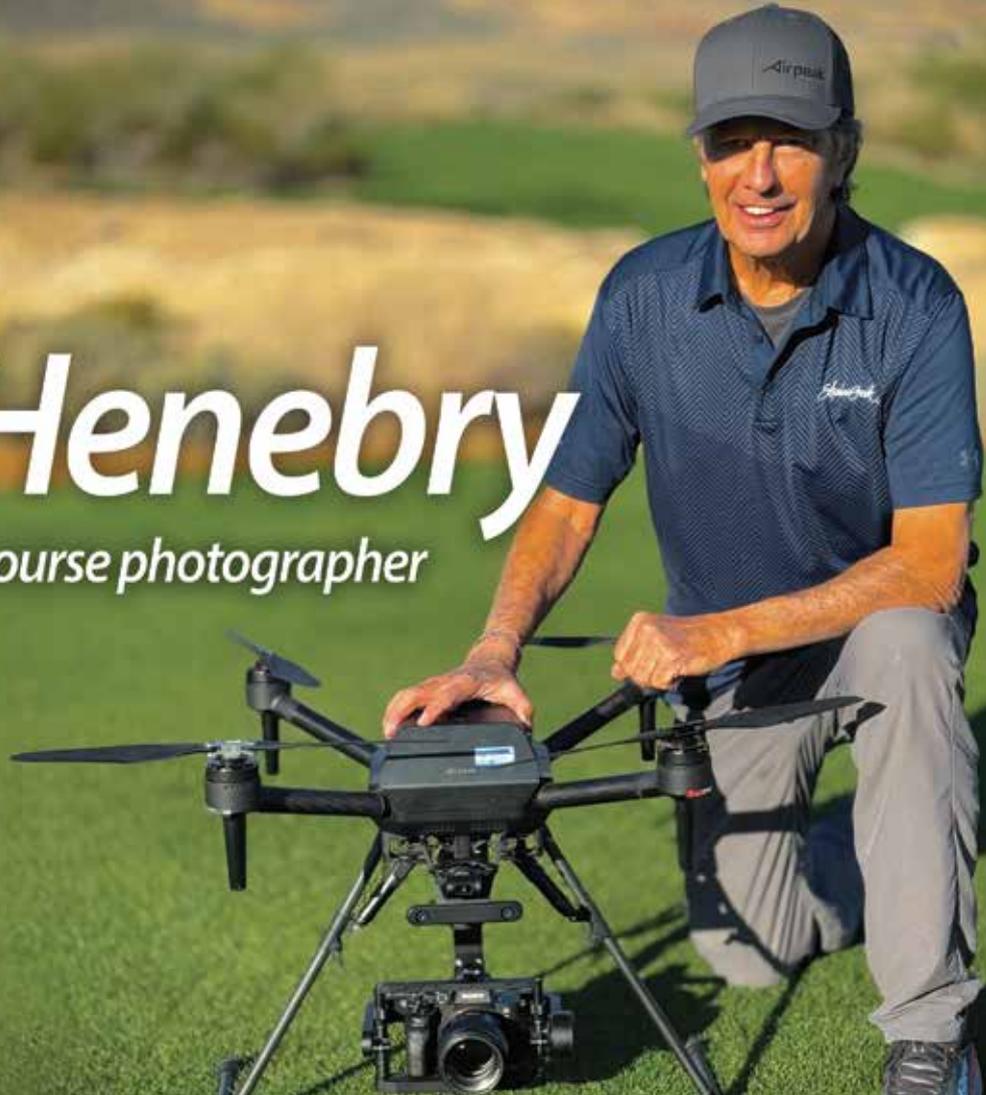

Macaulay and his partners have created an interactive spectator event with Desert Smash that is now a command performance for stars, tennis fans, community supporters and media outlets. It's a golden set for sure. ■ Written by Alison Elsner

John Henebry

World-famous golf course photographer

John Henebry was a world-famous golf course photographer whose work captured the elegance and artistry of golf courses across the globe. Alongside his sister and business partner, Jeannine Henebry, John dedicated over 25 years to documenting some of the world's most iconic golf destinations, earning widespread recognition for their breathtaking images.

From an early age, John displayed a passion for photography, a talent that would shape his career. His early adventures took him across Asia, where he trekked the Himalayas of Nepal and India. These experiences exposed him to expansive landscapes and diverse cultures, which fueled his creativity and sharpened his ability to capture stunning visuals. His work eventually earned him assignments with National Geographic Magazine, where he honed his skills in photographing vast terrains, a skill set that would later become central to his work in golf course photography.

John's connection to golf was deeply personal, as he grew up in a golf-loving family. This background, combined with his photographic expertise, enabled him to approach golf course photography with a unique perspective. He not only documented the aesthetic beauty of the courses but also captured their strategic and architectural intricacies. Together with Jeannine, John transformed their shared passion into a successful business, becoming the go-to photographers for renowned golf course designers and publishers.

The Henebry siblings worked with some of the most prominent names in golf course design. They photographed Robert Trent Jones II's designs in exotic locales such as Aruba, Costa Rica, Japan, and Thailand. Their collaboration with Jack Nicklaus took them to Ireland, Canada, India, and Mexico, while assignments for Palmer Design led them to China, India, and Ireland. They also documented Tom Fazio's celebrated courses across the United States for his influential "Golf Course Designs" books.

The Henebrys' work was characterized by their meticulous approach to capturing golf courses. They often waited for the "magic light" of sunrise or sunset, a time when natural lighting highlighted the contours, textures, and colors of the courses. Their patience and precision resulted in images that brought out the unique essence of each course. In 2021, John expanded their offerings by becoming an FAA-certified drone pilot, incorporating aerial photography into their repertoire. This innovation, combined with the use of high-resolution, 100-megapixel cameras, allowed the Henebrys to produce images of unparalleled clarity and detail.

Over the years, their photographs were featured in numerous publications, books, and calendars, solidifying their reputation as pioneers in the field. Among their many achievements, being officially licensed photographers for Pebble Beach Golf Links stood out as a testament to their excellence.

Tragically, John Henebry passed away on January 1, 2025, at the age of 76, following a bicycling accident in Rancho Mirage, California. His untimely death marked a profound loss to the world of golf course photography. However, his legacy endures through the extraordinary body of work he created, inspiring golfers and photography enthusiasts worldwide.

John Henebry's life was a testament to his dedication, artistry, and vision. Together with his sister Jeannine, he elevated golf course photography to an art form, leaving an indelible mark on the industry and the sport.

The Henebry's work has been featured in numerous articles over the past 25 years and all of us at Desert Golf & Tennis and Desert Sports & Leisure will miss John immensely. The world lost an amazing talent, father, son, brother and friend to us all.

Mission Hills Country Club

Experience Unparalleled Country Club Living – For Everyone

By Françoise Rhodes

Nestled in the heart of Rancho Mirage, California is a country club steeped in tradition yet with a never ending vision for future. Offering a full circle lifestyle, that meets the necessities and wishes of all its residents, Mission Hills Country Club is where life is intended to be an ideal experience for the entire family.

Formerly ClubCorp, today the parent company remains the same reflecting its proud history of inclusiveness and welcoming spirit but with a new name, Invited. Meant to emphasize the brand's value of acceptance where everyone feels at home, regardless of age, race, religion or background, Invited continues the tradition of welcoming new members from all walks of life.

The Invited portfolio consists of an unprecedented collection of 158 golf and country clubs and city clubs in 26 states, the District of Columbia and Mexico, and all sharing a common goal, building relationships and enriching lives.

Elevating the Invited lifestyle experience is Mission Hills Country Club, where the variety of outdoor and indoor activities along with award winning amenities are unsurpassed in country club living beginning with the three premiere golf courses, the Dinah Shore Tournament Course, Arnold Palmer Signature Course and the Pete Dye Challenge Course. Individually designed by renowned golf course architects Desmond Muirhead, Arnold Palmer and Pete Dye, these three outstanding golf courses are waiting for Invited members and their guests to enjoy a fantastic day of golf.

The Dinah Shore Tournament Course is the former home of The ANA Inspiration (formerly known as Colgate - Dinah Shore Winner's Circle, then the Kraft Nabisco Championship), the first major tournament of the year on the LPGA Tour. The tournament was a desert tradition for 51 years. The 18th always plays a significant role in determining each year's champion and is the home of Poppies Pond. Bringing a new era of golf to Mission Hills, this course is now home to the PGA Tour Champions Galleri Classic, and as they say, where legends come to play.

The Arnold Palmer Signature course was designed in 1978 and was Arnold Palmer's first design in the desert. At 6,834 yards, this course is a Member favorite. Featuring rolling fairways with many doglegs and strategic driving holes, this course while fair will still provide a true challenge to golfers of all skill levels.

The Pete Dye Challenge Course opened in 1988, and at 6,955 yards, this course is a true test of skill. Featuring rolling fairways, elevated greens, classic deep bunkers, as well as Pete Dye's trademark railroad ties marking the beautiful lakes throughout the course making it a thrill seekers delight for the golfer who yearns for a constant challenge. For those looking to hone their game, the golf academy and excellent staff are always ready to help.

However there is much more than golf at Mission Hills Country Club. Known for their premiere tennis facility, Mission Hills offers members world-class racquet sports, with 49 courts spanning hard, grass, clay, and pickleball. Daily play, leagues, and exclusive tournaments are tailored for all skill levels and ages.

Perhaps your choice of outdoor activities includes a mallet. The Mission Hills Croquet Club is a world-renowned, award-winning facility, recognized by USCA as USA Croquet Club of the Year. Offering lessons, tournaments, and competitive play, another premier experience for players of all levels and guided by expert professionals if needed.

For many it is all about the gym and a trip to the spa. Mission Hills' Sports Club features state-of-the-art fitness facilities, including a 17,000-square-foot wellness center offering group classes and expert personal training. After your workout, unwind with spa services designed for relaxation and recovery. Enjoy personalized treatments delivered by skilled massage therapists, aestheticians, and stylists that will have you feeling renewed and ready for your next adventure.

Dining options abound at Mission Hills Country Club as culinary experiences are elevated by the breathtaking views of mountains, lakes and fabulous sunsets. Led by Executive Chef Mark Samson, a finalist for Invited Chef of the Year, dining choices range from gourmet creations at The 55th Grill to casual bites at Champions Bar and Craft Kitchen, and refreshing fare at Center Court Café. Pleasure for the palette is an Invited choice whether is it solo, with family, friends, date night or any event, because at Mission Hills Country Club we treat every dining experience like a special occasion.

The time is now for a new chapter and the location is Mission Hills Country Club in Rancho Mirage.

"A club is a place where kindred spirits gather to have fun and make friends. A club is a place expressly for camaraderie, merriment, good will, and good cheer. It humbles the mighty and draws out the timid. And a club is one of the noblest inventions of mankind."

GREATEST GOLF ARCHITECTS OF THE MODERN ERA

The legend that is

Robert Trent Jones, Jr.

The visionary golf course architect defines golf across the generations

By Alison Elsner

Robert Trent Jones, Jr. may be one of the world's most celebrated and award-winning golf course architects, however he's also one heck of a raconteur, author, poet, businessperson and human being.

Jones, who goes by Bobby, is the renowned founder and CEO of Robert Trent Jones II Golf Course Architects, established in 1972 and which today has over 300 courses in 50 countries. His layouts host professional tournaments around the world as well as everyday players. At RTJII, Jones is joined by his son, Robert "Trent" Jones III, Chief Operations Officer, and Bruce Charlton, President and Chief Design Officer, plus an incredible team of talent.

Jones Jr. is the son of Robert Trent Jones, Sr., a venerable figure whose original works and remodels on courses ranging from Peachtree and Spyglass Hill to Mauna Kea and beyond helped characterize the sport.

Chambers Bay
Tacoma, Washington

Poipu Bay Golf Course, Koloa, Kauai HI

Having created signature courses on six continents, save for Antarctica, Jones notes “the penguins are waiting.” He was inducted into the California Golf Hall of Fame (1991) and has received the Golf Magazine Innovator Award (2009), Asia Pacific Golf Environment Award (2009) and dozens of other prestigious honors. This fall, he will receive the Donald Ross Award from the American Society of Golf Course Architects.

His most prominent projects include CordeValle in the heart of Silicon Valley in San Martin, California; Poppy Hills in Pebble Beach, California (originally designed in 1986 and renovated by the firm in 2014); The Links at Spanish Bay, also in Pebble Beach; Chambers Bay in Tacoma, Washington; Silverado Resort in Napa, California when he was just 27 years old; and Hawaiian gems The Prince, Makai, Poipu Bay and Wailea.

And, Coachella Valley types are well familiar with Rancho La Quinta Country Club in La Quinta, host of the 1996, 1997, and 1998 Skins Games.

Jones has had a big impact in the Far East, with dozens of designs in China, Japan, Philippines, South Korea, Singapore and Taiwan. He has also completed projects in India, South Africa, Tunisia, United Arab Emirates, France, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway. And there are more than a dozen RTJII courses in Mexico and the Caribbean.

Jones created the Hoiana Shores course in Hoi An, Vietnam, which opened in 2020 and features a rare 19 holes. Jones says, “The Vietnamese totally understood what we were trying to do. However, in order to make the Chinese and Hong Kong investors happy, we added an extra gambling hole to drive golfers to the casino there.”

The holes have an organic feel, marked not by flags but by red lanterns similar to the ones that famously light up the Old Town section of nearby Hoi An, the historic port city and UNESCO World Heritage Site. The course earned GEO Certified Development status from the golf industry’s international standard-bearer for sustainable course design and construction practices—the first in Asia.

Environmental responsibility and sensitivity are indeed core design components. RTJII creates courses with a natural appearance, and they’ve even remediated long-term environmental degradation with designs that repair and improve the environment.

Active in fighting climate change, Jones has concerns about the current course restoration movement and its emphasis on tree removal, which he says often strays into clear-cutting, with repercussions for all.

But, as he says, “One must take the bitter with the better.”

Jones explains, “I never considered myself born into a ‘golf family.’ I played competitive golf in my public high school in New Jersey, earning a state title. My mother, a Phi Beta Kappa, influenced me as much as my father did, telling me to be the best at whatever I did. I was the only one in my high school accepted into Yale, where I made the golf team, and mom told me not to worry, that the girls would find me later.” With a chuckle, he says, “And they did.”

Jones considered his dad’s job a cottage industry, so he set out to be an attorney, studying at Stanford University Law School. He ended up switching gears before graduating and apprenticed with his dad for 10 years. After running west coast operations, Jones expanded into Asia with solo international efforts.

One of his earliest experiences was working alongside his father on the legendary Spyglass Hill Golf Club in Pebble Beach in the 1960s. Jones recalls, “We were trying to replicate Pine Valley in New Jersey by recreating the wide, spacious fairways and large greens. For a golfer on the wrong side of those contours, being down two putts can be difficult.”

He became active politically by attending the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago and today considers himself a political pragmatist working with both sides. His collaboration with U.S. Senator Alan Cranston in the 1980s led to a partnership with Dr. Armand Hammer to design the first ever course behind the iron curtain, with the ascendance of glasnost and Mikhail Gorbachev.

He explains, “We were working in the Soviet Union where the food was bad and the vodka was worse. Dr. Hammer wanted the course named after him, but we learned the only way they do that is if you are dead. So, Dr. Hammer compromised and said he'd take two lifetime memberships." After years of high stakes negotiating, the course opened as the Moscow Country Club.

During the COVID 19 pandemic, Jones and his wife, Claiborne, found themselves at their family home in Princeville at Kauai's Makai Golf Club, a design project which started with his father and became the first job he completed on his own in 1971 and renovated in 2009.

For over a year, many of his days were occupied by golf and painting sessions with neighbor Pierce Brosnan, whom he describes as having a delightful personality and a good friend. At one point, Vice President Kamala Harris and her husband Doug Emhoff were out on the course, and they all teamed up, secret service in tow.

One of his favorite recollections is from one day when the Bond actor came up short on a shot and exclaimed, "Bobby, you are the architect of all my joys and my sorrows!"

In addition to being a lauded author ("Golf by Design: How to Lower Your Score by Reading the Features of a Course," Little Brown and Co. 1993), one of Jones' passions is poetry. He has authored a book of poems which he updates once a year on his birthday in July and prints out 50 copies to give to close friends and family. His observations of life range from light to serious pieces, and he puts emphasis on the syllable count and rhythm. His works are illustrated graphically by Kim Lyle. The book may be found online at <https://poetryandgrass.com>, a gift which he generously shares with the world for free.

Jones says "All my courses are symphonies with dominant themes. They have crescendos and lulls. There are different rhythms, you can feel the changes. I try to design golf courses that will fascinate people, so they'll want to play them many times and learn the depths and meanings of the courses' stories, their subtext, their poetry."

He continues, "The three most dangerous words in golf are 'greens committee chairman.' The attitude of most people who try to redesign courses is that it's a party. Our attitude is it's a game. I want to make it interesting for young people to play, not necessarily harder, but not so simple that it's not interesting."

Jones brings layers of strategy to those who play his courses, challenging mental as well as physical consciousness for anyone willing to do the work. It's clear that his guiding force is the pursuit of excellence.

Perhaps he sums it up best himself by saying, "I'm a long-term player. I never give up."

PUTTING

This months golf tip is feeling the PUTTER FACE from 3 planes / lie angles. Golf PUTTING FACES can be at different lies & angles. I feel each putter has a SWEET SPOT of the face & the ADDRESS POSITION sets you up to feel the sweet spot. I encourage you to feel what feels best for you, your putter & what rolls the best feeling for you. The ultimate goal is to feel comfortable, get the ball rolling down the target start line & get the ball rolling in the cup.

The 3 PUTTER FACE LIE angles drill (see the 3 photos):

- Photo 1: PUTTER...HEAL UP
- Photo 3: PUTTER...Putter more on the green

3 PUTTING FACE LIE DRILLS:

- Golf Positions to look or feel:
  - FOCUSING ON THE PUTTER HEAD & LIE
    1. which PUTTER ANGLE FEELS RIGHT ?
    2. which PUTTER ANGLE FEELS ROLLING BETTER ?
    3. which PUTTER ANGLE FEELS good for your body & your set up (Body? Dominate eye? Putting line?)

BEGINNER GOLFER: 3 PUTTER FACE LIE DRILL:

- Get your eyes feeling completely over the ball
- Get your back & body stable feeling
- Experiment on your "PUTTER LIE":
  - TOE OF CLUB UP OR HEAL UP
  - PUTT several from different lie angles
  - Stay in the same spot (10 in a row & each angle)
  - Just vary 1 variable so you can feel the ball & see what feels best for you, your body & your putter

INTERMEDIATE – ADVANCED GOLFER 3 CLUB LIE DRILL:

- SET UP cameras at different angles & down low by your PUTTER
- FEEL where the balls comes off your PUTTER ?
- FEEL & see if the ball skips, starts on line or stays on line ?

I look forward to helping you feel better with your putting. PLAYING WITH 3 different putter LIES, I feel this is a huge element to rolling the ball efficiently & effectively for you. EVERY golfer & putter combination important. The set up with various different PUTTER LIES can feel different to your body & your PUTTING GAME. I look forward to helping you on the golf course, PUTTING LIE ANGLES, or driving range. Happy Golf PUTTING Feels!

Taste of Tennis

Ushers in bold tastes and electrifying entertainment

Players and fans show some "love" for iconic tastes from across the globe

A world without tennis would be bleak indeed, and fortunately for anyone in the vicinity of Indian Wells and the Coachella Valley, we are immersed in the grandeur of tennis especially during the month of March.

The energy and excitement will be palpable when Taste of Tennis returns to the Grand Hyatt Indian Wells Resort and Villas on March 3 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., conveniently arriving onto the desert scene with the start of the BNP Paribas Open at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden.

Launched in 2000, Taste of Tennis has become one of the most widely respected destination events, offering guests unique and tempting cuisine prepared by leading chefs against a stylish backdrop of live entertainment and charismatic crowds. The Coachella Valley is one of several host cities for the coveted event, with other signature stops throughout the year including London, Miami and New York City. Taste of Tennis is created and produced by AYS, a woman-owned marketing and events agency founded in 1995 by Judi and Penny Lerner.

Brian Hester, Vice President of AYS Sports Marketing, says, "Attendees look forward to this event year after year as it's a chance to enjoy some first-class cuisine as well as a way to rub elbows with top tennis stars." Last year's fête in Indian Wells was hosted by Tennis Channel commentator and former ATP doubles player Nick Monroe and featured special appearances by players including Paula Badosa, Stefanos Tsitsipas, Zheng Qinwen, Alexander Zverev, Anastasia Pavlyuchenkova, J.J. Wolf, Emma Navarro and Alycia Parks.

Last year's event also included a live art installation by artist, muralist and award-winning filmmaker, Tysen Knight, and guests found themselves grooving to music by DJ Danny Castillo and musician Jared Harper.

Hester explains, "Sponsors have the opportunity to sample products and showcase their brands to affluent tennis fans, foodies and influencers, while capitalizing on our fully-produced digital content and first-class hospitality experiences."

Chefs slated to participate in the upcoming event include Angelo Sosa as headline chef (Tia Carmen and Carmocha), Nestor Ruiz (RD RNNR), Omar Salinas (Grand Hyatt Indian Wells Resort and Villas), Brandon Weimer (Brandini Toffee), Trilby Tatro (Wildest Restaurant + Bar), Jon Butler (Kiki's), Erik Dandee (Melvyn's), Tom Allen (Gelato Granucci), and Larry Monaco (Heritage Palms Country Club).

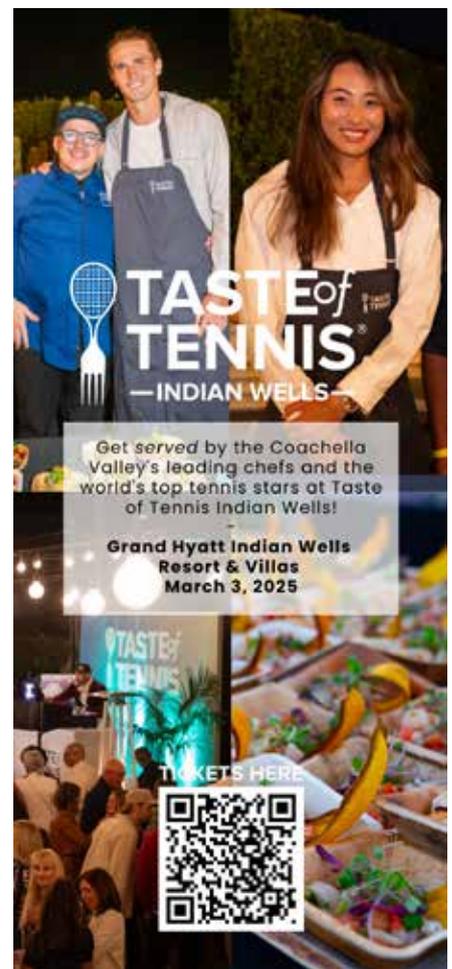

Past eateries have also included Trio, Si Bon, Tommy Bahama, LG's Prime Steakhouse, Il Corso, Cork & Fork, and many others. Eats are accompanied by libations from beverage vendors which cover wine, champagne, tequila and beer.

Tickets to the Taste of Tennis are $250. Sponsorships and group hospitality packages are also available.

Delectable Dining at the BNP Paribas Open

Tennis Paradise found with the finest dining and southern California specialties

By Alison Elsner

Molé brings the authentic flavors of Mexico to the
BNP Paribas Open

One could say it's the center of the universe.

For tennis fans, the media world and champion players, you'll find little argument. It's the BNP Paribas Open's world, and we just happen to be in its powerful orbit. The annual tennis tournament becomes one of the most compelling venues for followers of the on-court action, both from its home base in Indian Wells, California as well as from the opposite side of the globe.

Fans get to share in the triumphs and tribulations of players such as Carlos Alcaraz, Iga Swiatek, Novak Djokovic, and Coco Gauff as they take center stage at the famed courts of the Indian Wells Tennis Garden, creating an immersive spectator activity for two full weeks each March.

For fans, it's about way more than tennis. The distinctive dining portfolio elevates the BNP Paribas Open to a culinary epiphany second to none, presenting top of the line restaurants, superlative spirits, and a collection of gourmet quick bites, all within view of the Santa Rosa mountains as well as the sizzling tennis action at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden.

Molé Ingenious Mexican Kitchen

Stadium 2

Molé brings the authentic flavors of Mexico to the BNP Paribas Open. Creative dishes are made from scratch daily, each showcasing the flavors of the Southwest.

Guests will want to indulge in Molé's signature guaca-crab "jaracho" with diced mango along with one of their specialty margaritas, a glass of wine or a sampling of tequila.

Nobu Indian Wells

Stadium 2

Nobu Matsuhisa's acclaimed restaurant is a year-round fixture at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden, open throughout the entire year as a dining destination in the Coachella Valley well beyond the BNP Paribas Open. However, there's something extra special about the Arctic char with chimichurri and the Matsuhisa martini while savoring them during the court action on Stadium 2. The superstar James Beard chef's signature blend of traditional Japanese dishes with South American ingredients and specially sourced seafood and beef blend tastefully with a full selection of sake.

Desserts score high, serving taste treats such as bento box with Valrhona dark chocolate fondant and imperial matcha gelato. We won't tell if you visit twice in the same day, especially since Nobu Indian Wells is a year-round dining option at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden.

Porta Via Bistro & Bar

Stadium 1

Porta Via is a quintessential Beverly Hills restaurant serving Italian-inspired California cuisine. You'll exclaim "love" with the tuna tower appetizer, pasta such as butternut squash ravioli, salad including the Porta Via salad, or a sandwich like the vegan burger.

Specialty cocktails such as desert spritz crafted with Aperol, gin, grapefruit, elderflower and prosecco or la pina picante with tequila, jalapeno, agave pineapple and lime juice make palate-pleasing accompaniments for day and evening sessions in the stands.

Ristorante Mamma Gina

Stadium 2

Ristorante Mamma Gina serves traditional Florentine cuisine such as ravioli funghi, linguine puttanesca or salmone 'Mediterraneo'.

You'll be in the heart of Tennis Paradise, however you may just swear you're dining al fresco over the Fiume Arno.

Ristorante Mamma Gina

Authentic Florentine Cuisine

Ristorante Mamma Gina is proud to serve the Coachella Valley with their very own taste of Italy. Mamma Gina opened its doors in Florence in the 1950's and brought its heritage to the Desert in 1986.

At Mamma Gina, we pride ourselves on our authentic Italian cuisine, kitchen, and exceptional service. With white linens and a very comfortably classy atmosphere, Ristorante Mamma Gina is the perfect spot for your next date night, family get together, or really any occasion.

Indian Wells Golf Resort introduces

Kestrel

a Richard Blais Kitchen + Lounge

By Alison Elsner

The world class golf and recreation venue reinvents and reinvigorates with celebrity chef-driven California cuisine

Like the metaphorical phoenix rising from the ashes in Greek mythology, the dining portfolio at the Indian Wells Golf Resort has reinvented itself, emerging stronger than ever and with a new life force. Kestrel brings a reinvigorated energy and fresh disposition to IWGR and the Coachella Valley.

Celebrated chef and television personality Richard Blais shares his unique take on American classics, premium meats and coastal catches in a California-modern space that evokes the energy of surrounding flora and fauna. Guests are invited to sample award winning cuisine against a backdrop of supreme golf and recreation within the 53,000-square-foot clubhouse overlooking the Clive Clark–designed Celebrity Course.

IWGR General Manager Robin Graf notes, “We wanted to create a culinary experience to go along with the highly rated golf experience. We want to present not just a golf destination but also a culinary one for golfers and non-golfers.”

The restaurant’s namesake, the American kestrel - and our mythical phoenix in this instance - is the smallest and most colorful falcon known for its striking appearance. The image captures the essence of the bird’s charismatic demeanor and graceful flights across Southern California skies, just as Kestrel promises locals and visitors alike a place to elevate their sensory consciousness through flavorful meals, handcrafted cocktails and the natural beauty of the desert landscape.

Chef Richard Blais says, “Kestrel is a California kitchen that represents an extension of the good life that Indian Wells Golf resort provides. Our mission is to provide a breezy, flavorful, and flowing cuisine focusing on the region’s produce, people and history. Whether it’s a burger or composed protein and grain bowl for lunch, a regional themed freshly shaken cocktail for happy hour or a locally sourced dry aged steak with cared-for vegetables for a celebratory dinner, Kestrel is more than a restaurant for me, it’s a lifestyle.”

Featured menu items include Firebird fried chicken sandwiches, dry aged steaks over a wood burning grill, and liquid nitrogen margaritas. A meticulously curated selection of signature cocktails serves innovations such as pistachio old fashioned with pistachio-infused Kikori whiskey, crème de cacao, and chocolate bitters as well as medjool Negroni crafted with date-infused Campari, vanilla-infused Beekeeper gin, sweet-aged vermouth and cinnamon bitters.

Signature mains are pure tastebud bliss, offering pan roasted Chilean sea bass with ginger spice tomato sauce and coconut rice as well as Scarletta’s chicken parm platter which presents 8-ounce Jidori chicken, arugula, fennel and lemon salad, grape tomato, sliced red onion, and basil. Prime rib feasts are served Thursday, Friday and Saturday and include an option to add Maine lobster.

The aesthetic is every bit as pleasing. The physical environs open up to a contemporary space atop the entryway stairs at Indian Wells Golf Resort. The airy, earth-toned dining room and expansive bar invite soaring views of mountain peaks, lush green fairways and rainbow sunsets. Think natural light and panoramic views. The outdoor terrace, complete with an open-air bar and table seating, frames the perfect social setting to enjoy the southern California style of cuisine and its natural allure.

Foodies will likely recognize the multitude of culinary creations from Chef Blais, who is well known for his charismatic presence on Fox’s “Next Level Chef” (with Gordon Ramsay and Nyesha Arrington) and his array of taste ventures. He’s a mainstay in the San Diego food landscape who stands out as the master behind sustainably sourced seafood, dry-aged signature cuts, and locally-grown produce.

Blais is also a James Beard nominated cookbook author and widely recognized from Bravo’s Top Chef series, where he was the winner of the inaugural Top Chef All-Stars season.

The Indian Wells Golf Resort leads the pack as far as a world class public golf, vacation, culinary and events destination. The addition of Kestrel advances the pedigree, attracting visitors from throughout California and beyond for an exceptional and memorable hospitality experience. ■ Written by Alison Elsner

Palm Desert FOOD & WINE welcomes Curtis Stone, Gale Gand, Jamie Gwen and more celebrity chefs

By Alison Elsner

Featuring mouth-watering eats, premium wines, and hands-on cooking demos

Fans of Curtis Stone, the Michelin-starred chef and New York Times–bestselling author, can start the dopamine rush now in anticipation of his participation in the 2025 Palm Desert Food & Wine event taking place March 20-23, 2025.

Stone opened his first solo restaurant, Maude, in Beverly Hills in 2014, which earned a Michelin star in 2019. After a decade-long run as one of the most sought-after reservations in town, Maude recently closed to make way for The Pie Room, a casual spot born of the pandemic offering a variety of pies, pastries, sandwiches, and cookies. Stone also oversees Gwen Butcher Shop & Restaurant in Hollywood, which received its own Michelin star in 2022. His restaurant portfolio expanded globally in 2023 with the opening of Woodend by Curtis Stone at Maroma, a Belmond Hotel in Riviera Maya on Mexico's Yucatán Peninsula, which was recognized by the Michelin Guide.

Stone will be joined by top chefs including Gale Gand, Zac Young (the inventor of PieCaken), Brooke Williamson, Antonia Lofaso, Aarti Sequeira, Elizabeth Falkner, Stephanie Boswell, Angelo Sosa, Jamie Gwen, Brian Kenney, John Butler, Andrew Cooper, Ashutosh Gairola and Afrim Pristine.

Presented by Agua Caliente Casinos, Palm Desert Food & Wine returns to the big tents atop the Gardens on El Paseo, transforming the space into a celebration of gastronomy. The four-day fête begins with a Cheese Masterclass with Afrim Pristine on Thursday, March 20 at 6 p.m. ($125). Cheese lovers will learn all about the art of cheesemaking and wine pairings from the legendary Pristine, Canada's premier maître fromager (cheese master).

Pristine exudes a passion and commitment that stems from his father and the family business, Cheese Boutique. In 2013, he became the first Canadian maître fromager and one of the youngest in the world. He hosts Food Network Canada's docuseries "Cheese - A Love Story," authored the bestselling cookbook "For the Love of Cheese," and he became the youngest Canadian recipient to the Chevalier, a distinction from the Confrérie des Chevaliers du Taste Fromage de France.

Pristine has collaborated with some of Canada's top chefs and restaurants, including chefs Michael Bonacini, Mark McEwan, Daniel Boulud, David Chang, and Lynn Crawford, as well as venues such as Momofuku, Alo, Langdon Hall, Canoe, La Palma, Scaramouche, and Piano Piano. "The Globe and Mail" newspaper named him among the Top 50 Most Influential People in Canadian Food, and "LCBO Food & Drink Magazine" named him among the Top 10 Most Influential People in the food industry.

Also on March 20, culinary adventurers can embark upon a Celebrity Chef Date Farm Tour & Lunch with chef Aarti Sequeira from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. ($150). The immersive experience includes a tour to Hadley Date Gardens, The Packhouse, and Aziz Farms, capped off with an alfresco lunch in the grove at Aziz Farms.

On Friday, March 21, ticketholders can look forward to the James Beard Gourmet Four-Course Luncheon prepared by culinary virtuosos on March 21 ($250). That same evening, there will be a Celebrity Chef Reception with chefs known from television, who will be mixing and mingling with the guests ($125). Two days of Grand Tastings will follow on Saturday, March 22 and Sunday, March 23, where attendees can delight in tasty food and drink offerings from local and regional restaurants and enjoy live cooking demonstrations on three stages.

The weekend's sipping options will feature more than 60 premium and sparkling wines, representing a diverse selection of the best wines in the country and the world. Both well-known favorites and hidden gems will be poured where guests can interact with the vintners and winemakers as well as purveyors of fine spirits and craft beer brewers. (Saturday $225 for 11 a.m. entry and $150 for 12 p.m. entry; Sunday $125).

Saturday night March 22 will feature An Acclaimed Evening with Curtis Stone at Mister Parker's, showcasing Stone's signature farm-to-table approach with a thoughtfully curated multicourse dinner of seasonal ingredients and expertly paired wines. (Ticket prices to be announced).

There will also be a Sunday Brunch on March 23 at 9:30 a.m. in the main tent, serving refreshing cocktails and a morning meal that combines sweet with savory and decadent with whimsical. Celebrity chefs team up to conceptualize the presentation while sharing food for thought about life in the chef's world. ($165 brunch; $225 brunch and grand tasting access following).

Numerous area restaurants comprise the tasteful event, which celebrates the region's thriving food scene. More than 40 participating local restaurants take part providing delectable bites prepared by each establishment's truly talented cooks and chefs. Last year's exhibitors included Molé, Shorebird, Jackalope Ranch, Agua Caliente Casinos, Morgan's in the Desert, Cowboy Cantina, Gelato Granucci, Sandfish Sushi, Daniel's Table, Wilma & Frieda's Café, Melissa's Produce and three dozen others.

The Grand Tastings will also showcase a variety of culinary-centric vendors offering top-of-the-line, unique and cutting-edge products such as spices, herbs, olive oils, cutting boards, kitchen appliances, cooking utensils and more.

Produced by "Palm Springs Life" magazine, a portion of the proceeds from the event will benefit FIND Food Bank.

Kitchen 86 + Bar and VenueTen

are a family affair

The force behind the food and festivity is Tom Nowlan, a restaurant entrepreneur from Michigan

Creating the ultimate luxury experience for party-goers

Kitchen 86 + Bar

This hot spot on El Paseo features both indoor and outdoor dining and an inventive menu serving seafood, steaks, house made curry, ramen, lamb chops, wood fired pizzas and shareable small plates. Diners have made it a favorite destination for every meal, gravitating towards menu options that include fresh ingredients that are organic and locally sourced.

The Ultra Lounge at 86 also presents a state-of-the-art entertainment venue with live music, and there's no cover charge.

The force behind the food and festivity is Tom Nowlan, a restaurant entrepreneur from Michigan who's been in the food industry since he was ten years old. He started with the legendary Domino's Pizza franchise and eventually owned more than two dozen stores with a thousand employees. His transition to life as a full-fledged restaurant proprietor has resulted in the exceptionally popular Kitchen 86.

Joe Morano is also part of the team, developing an inspired menu along with an inviting atmosphere. The bartenders are expert at the art of craft cocktails. Signature beverages include creative concoctions such as burning mandarin with Stoli Ohranj and fresh jalapeno, tequila mockingbird, and rum runner made with Bacardi, lime juice, grapefruit juice, Aperol, passion fruit liquor and agave.

Happy hour takes place daily, offering $6 house wine, well drinks and draft beer. Reduced price food options include 86 second steak, pork butt tostada, Margherita pizza, boom boom shrimp and 86 fries made with garlic mashed potatoes and shallot rosemary demi.

Wine Down Wednesdays are a mid-week treat with 50 percent off select bottles of wine. Shareables such as street corn on the cob, rosemary lamb chops and crispy calamari make any meal an adventure, followed by salads including organic classic Caesar and tricolor berry mista. Pastas cover penne alla vodka, three cheese ravioli and eggplant parmesan, among others. Mains tempt the palate, such as chicken piccata, East India curry, Cognac rib eye, and salmon buon gusto. Vegan offerings include verdura tacos, red quinoa giardino, caprese jardiniere tower and others that will make you scrap the New Year's diet.

The woodfired pizza menu is lengthy, featuring selections such as divina vegan, sausage and peppers, di Parma, meatball and so many others that will make you want an entire pie all for yourself.

Prime meats showcase juicy cuts such as filet mignon, veal chop porcini, Kurobuta pork chop, ribeye forestiere, lobster tails and others. The sides complement the meals, including French fries (regular as well as garlic and herb), sautéed vegetables and garlic mashed potatoes.

Breakfast and brunch will make you proclaim "carpe diem," serving carnitas scramble, French toast, and tasty mimosas. Kitchen 86 also stays open late from 11 p.m. until closing, something not found elsewhere on El Paseo. Late night diners can look forward to calabrese pizza, 86 diavlo wings, Kitchen 86 bread and a host of other hearty snacks.

There is also a children's menu. No matter what one's age, a visit to Kitchen 86 becomes an easy addition to the 'joys of life' list.

VenueTen

There's magic in the desert, but you have to know where to find it. In this case, we can direct you to VenueTen, aka Casa de Lujo, a magnificent wedding and event facility tucked between Palm Springs and Indio in Bermuda Dunes with unobstructed views of the San Jacinto mountains. It's a one-of-a-kind, opulent estate that becomes a contemporary canvas to build a bespoke wedding, family reunion, corporate retreat or anything else the mind can conjure.

Bonus points if you already knew that "lujo" translates to luxury.

Expertly managed by Tommy Nowlan and House of Lux, son of Kitchen 86 + Bar's owner Tom Nowlan, the venue incorporates amenities not normally found, with an expansive outdoor space for the ultimate event under the stars or touching the clouds. The modern indoor section comfortably seats up to 175, and the property offers on-site, overnight accommodations for up to 40 people. There are even a tennis court and sparkling blue swimming pool.

The younger Nowlan explains, “We first acquired the estate known as Casa de Lujo over six years ago and have been growing ever since. We started building what’s known as VenueTen just before the pandemic and had our first wedding in October, 2022. It was a huge success, just like everything my dad’s involved in! We have had many weddings since, all very successful with nothing but happy couples which is reflected in our five star google reviews.

Nowlan notes that the most frequently held events at VenueTen are weddings, thanks to his dad’s creative genius and ability to bring his vision to life.

He says, “With almost four acres of gated and private land, two houses, 20 beds and our 5,000 square foot space which also incorporates a private soundproof recording studio, our property is perfect for all kinds of events including Coachella Fest and Stagecoach. Thanks to my passion for Porsche and racing, Porsche of Palm Springs even did an unveiling here.”

The facility has hosted numerous celebrities, tennis pros and even race car drivers. One recent guest was Abi Carter, the winner of 2024’s “American Idol” and now an international singing sensation. Carter spent hours at VenueTen practicing and recording prior to appearing on the finale show and taking the prize last May.

Kitchen 86 + Bar caters numerous parties at VenueTen, including birthday parties, private dinners, and the aforementioned Porche event, able to supply all food, cocktails, wine, staff and decor. Guests are, however, welcome to hire any caterer and/or event designer to enhance the upscale experience to their liking. Nowlan explains, “Pricing ranges from $2,500 to $250,000 since this is a property with few restrictions and able to accommodate most needs.”

Nowlan says, “We’re even in the process of coming up with a low, mid and high-level tier wine tasting/pairing package for guests that want to take their experience with us to the next level. With the powerful combination of Kitchen 86, Casa de Lujo and VenueTen, our guests’ options are far from limited. We strive to give only the most exceptional service going above and beyond what our clients expect.”

Casa de Lujo brings sumptuous surroundings and unparalleled food and beverage to every event - no magic wand needed.

Desert Dining Scene

Where food often defines high culture

Azucar starters such as yucca fries and ahi tuna tartare set the stage for mains such as pollo blanco, king salmon, ribeye with tiger prawns, Brandt beef tenderloin and patatas brava stuffed poblano

The culture of a region is generally measured in terms of its arts, nature, history, geography and – yes, food. Food often becomes the most prominent, as it reflects the personality and ethnic heritage of those who create it while allowing us to all join together in common ground. It's like a delicious thread that connects us all, bringing a sense of unity.

The Coachella Valley culinary culture is a major contributor to its allure to visitors and those who are fortunate enough to call the area home. From steakhouses to modern Mexican and from European wines to local tequilas, the greater Palm Springs area embraces them all with bold flavors and the flair of forever-evolving recipes.

Our springtime collection of foodie favorites here celebrates the best of the Coachella Valley culture.

Arnold Palmer's

Not only is it lively and delectable, it's close to the action at the BNP Paribas. The restaurant is a tribute to the King, Arnold Palmer, displaying a sizeable collection of memorabilia spanning Palmer's decades-long professional golf career.

Diners can choose from the landscaped, live entertainment patio with a fire pit or inside at the Masters Dining Room or in Arnie's Lounge.

After a favorite glass of chardonnay or an ice-cold martini, starters such as grilled shrimp chimichurri and hamachi sashimi set an enjoyable tone. The seafood menu serves ravioli shrimp scampi and whole roasted branzino, and signature entrées prepare braised prime beef short ribs, Palmer's chicken marsala, and pappardelle Bolognese, among many others. Signature meats include 12-ounce New York strip and slow roasted prime rib.

A tantalizing dessert menu includes house made coconut cream pie and peanut butter torte, proving that everything about Arnold Palmer's offers a taste of the good life. 78164 Avenue 52, La Quinta, 760.771.4653, arnoldpalmersrestaurant.com boho vibes with cool, crafted cocktails and stunning views of the San Jacinto Mountains.

Specialty cocktails feature Frida's palette mimosas and Mexican coffee martini. Starters such as yucca fries and ahi tuna tartare set the stage for mains such as pollo blanco, king salmon, ribeye with tiger prawns, Brandt beef tenderloin and patatas brava stuffed poblano. Desserts are fresh and inviting, serving toffee brownie with salted caramel gelato and mini key lime cheesecake.

A delicately curated selection of wines has servers presenting pours from Spain, Argentina, France, Italy and Greece as well as California and Oregon within the U.S. The red or white seasonal sangria is also a dependable treat.

Navigator Palm Springs

Navigator, located at the Palm Springs Surf Club, is a modern American eatery inspired by global surf culture. The chef-driven menu blends flavors from iconic surf regions like Portugal, Morocco, Australia, Hawaii, and California.

Starters feature California field green salad, pair of fried quails, and braised butter beans, among others.

The "prepared to share" menu features 10-ounce crispy pork schnitzel, seabass grilled on banana leaf, vegan stuffed pepper, pan-roasted bavette steak "bobotie", pan roasted whole rainbow trout and more. There's even a 20-ounce ribeye steak platter served with bone marrow gremolata.

There's ample liquid refreshment as evidenced on the "day drinking menu." Selections include a variety of red and white wines such as Carmel Road chardonnay (Monterey, California 2020) and La Crema pinot noir (Willamette Valley, Oregon). A snappy cocktail menu serves Palm Springs Paloma with tequila, grapefruit and agave and big kahuna coco-limeade with Milagro tequila, coconut and pressed lime.

It's the perfect escape from everything ordinary.

Wildest superlative flavor, evident in dishes such as ricotta stuffed squash blossoms, English pea and black truffle ravioli, filet mignon, pan-seared Bristol wild scallops and Colorado grass-fed pasture raised lamb chops

Wildest Restaurant + Bar

Owners Bill Hay and Charissa Farley-Hay, in partnership with Executive Chef Trilby Trato, have designed a unique dining destination featuring Napa-style cuisine with a Palm-Springs-flair-farm-to-table dining experience.

Charissa Hay says "I'm so excited that we've found our vibe. We are rocking so many special events this spring like the caviar and champagne dinner including vintage Cristal and some mind-blowing prix fixe dinners. We are looking forward to plans for an outdoor patio, and our regulars know that we have great entertainment every night and fun on the weekends with Soulful Sunday."

Healthy foods take prominence here along with superlative flavor, evident in dishes such as ricotta stuffed squash blossoms, English pea and black truffle ravioli, filet mignon, pan-seared Bristol wild scallops and Colorado grass-fed pasture raised lamb chops.

There are plant-based options, and Hay points out that one third of the menu is allergen-friendly. As Hay says, "We have something for everyone." 72990 El Paseo #3, Palm Desert, 760.636.0441, wildestrestaurant.com

Café des Beaux Arts

If you're overdue for your travel to the left bank of Paris, not to worry. Café des Beaux Arts is a French restaurant that captures the essence of the enchanting villages of Provence and the magnificent coastline of the Côte d'Azur, and it's conveniently located in the heart of El Paseo in Palm Desert.

Owner Didier Block opened this charming bistro in 1993, and the menu, along with the European ambiance, has remained a favorite ever since. The café channels the heritage of its origins in the Provençal village of Saint-Cannat, a town with great meaning in Block's family. As a host, Block is charming and warm, bringing an impressive culinary background from France, Switzerland, Canada and Tahiti.

The menu features an outstanding selection of fine French entrées such as duckling à l'orange, roasted rack of lamb Provençal and savory crêpes and salads. The climate-controlled outdoor patio, located on a scenic corner, is the ideal spot to people-watch and enjoy the desert lifestyle. The elegant bar with its balance of cozy booths and a U-shaped copperplate bar top is where patrons will find a delectable small bites menu and can enjoy live entertainment two nights a week.

Breakfast is unlike anything else that can be found in the desert, presenting specialties such as eggs Benedict, bagel with lox and cream cheese, French Denver omelet, frittata, crêpes stuffed with scrambled eggs and chorizo, Belgium waffle, Frech toast and much more.

The lunch menu is extensive, with salads, sandwiches, pastas, and crepes. Favorites include Maine lobster salad, ahi tartar, escargots Bourguignonne, brie burger, smoked turkey breast sandwich, croque monsieur, chicken ravioli, chicken with baby clams, shrimp crêpes, spinach quiche Lorraine and a plethora of others.

Dinner is just as exciting, with Maryland blue crab cake, red and yellow beet carpaccio, avocado stuffed with crab salad, cold poached salmon, grilled shrimp and scallops, tomato bouillabaisse, beef au poivre, Coq au vin, gratin de St. Jacques, beef Stroganoff, weinerschnitzel...and the list goes on.

Just as any visit to France would not be complete without sampling the exquisite pastries and desserts, the same applies to Café des Beaux Arts. The dessert menu should not be passed over, serving raspberry crème brûlée, flourless chocolate cake, tarte tatin, crêpes Suzettes, chocolate profiteroles and other scrumptious choices.

Happy hour is celebrated every night from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., where all glasses of house cabernet, merlot and chardonnay are discounted at the countertop. There are also special price points on well drinks, domestic beer, and imported and micro beer. The wine selection is exquisite, offering varietals from France, California and Argentina. Suggested pairings include Nicolas Potel pinot noir (Bourgogne, France), Dona Paula malbec (Argentina), a blended red Domaine du Vieux Lazaret Château Neuf-Du-Pape (Rhône Valley, France), Rombauer chardonnay (Napa), and a superlative collection of others.

Truth be told, every moment inside Café des Beaux Arts can be considered not just happy, but blissful. 73640 El Paseo, Palm Desert, 760.346.0669, cafedesbeauxarts.com

The Lucid Air Sapphire

A Gem of Electric Performance

Lucid Air Sapphire: A Gem of Electric Performance

The Lucid Air Sapphire stands as a testament to what's possible when cutting-edge technology, luxury, and other-worldly performance come together. Fixed atop the Lucid Motors lineup, the Sapphire is not just another electric vehicle. This supercar is wrapped in the elegance of a luxury sedan. It unquestionably proves that sustainability and spine-twisting speed can coexist.

Design: Sophistication with a Sporty Edge

The Sapphire is sneaky good. Its understated silhouette—a family trait of the Air lineage—is accentuated by exclusive Sapphire-specific details that tease a deeper level of performance under the surface. Unique Sapphire Blue paint and subtle badging set it apart, while carbon-fiber accents and larger air intakes speak to its super powers.

The wide stance, enhanced by premium wheels and high-performance tires, gives the Sapphire a grounded and aggressive look. Despite sporting elite, speedster credentials, the design retains the luxurious elegance that defines the Lucid Air, making it equally at home at a racetrack or a black-tie gala.

Inside, the cabin is a masterpiece of luxury and functionality. Premium materials like Alcantara, carbon fiber, and leather blend seamlessly, creating a cockpit that feels both indulgent and purpose-driven. The bespoke Sapphire badging and contrast stitching add a layer of exclusivity. The spacious interior, paired with the panoramic glass canopy, ensures a light and airy atmosphere, even when the car is hurtling down the road at breakneck speeds.

Performance: Redefining Speed and Handling

Performance is where the Lucid Air Sapphire truly shines. Powered by a three-motor setup—a first for Lucid—the Sapphire puts you in another dimension with 1,234 horsepower. Let that sink in. In the time it took you to let it sink in, the Sapphire did 0 to 60 mph. Does it go without saying that its top speed eclipses over 200 mph. This is firmly in elite territory, but it doesn't stop there.

Lucid has engineered the Sapphire to be more than just a straight-line speedster. Advanced torque vectoring, courtesy of the dual rear motors, delivers precise handling and cornering capabilities. Whether carving through winding mountain roads or attacking a track, the Sapphire remains composed, agile, and exhilarating. Car and Driver recently declared it the fastest EV on the market.

The suspension system has been meticulously tuned to balance everyday comfort with race-ready stiffness. Adaptive dampers and a lower center of gravity, thanks to the battery's placement, contribute to exceptional handling dynamics. The Sapphire isn't just about raw power—it's about control and confidence at every turn.

Technology: Cutting-Edge and Driver-Focused

Lucid's commitment to innovation is evident throughout the Sapphire. The 34-inch Glass Cockpit display offers a seamless integration of driver information, navigation, and media controls.

The interface is intuitive and responsive, ensuring that the driver remains focused on the road.

DreamDrive Pro, Lucid's advanced driver-assistance system, comes standard on the Sapphire. With a suite of 32 sensors—including cameras, radar, and ultrasonics—it offers features like adaptive cruise control, lane-centering, and highway assist. While the Sapphire is designed for the thrill of manual driving, these systems provide convenience and safety for everyday commutes.

Charging is another area where Lucid outpaces the competition. The Sapphire supports ultra-fast charging at up to 350 kW, allowing it to gain up to 200 miles of range in just 12 minutes. With a range exceeding 400 miles on a single charge, the Sapphire proves that extreme performance doesn't have to come at the expense of practicality.

Truly One of a Kind

The Lucid Air Sapphire is not just a performance powerhouse; it's also a sanctuary of luxury. The seats, specifically designed for the Sapphire trim, offer enhanced bolstering for spirited driving while maintaining all-day comfort. Rear passengers aren't forgotten, with generous legroom, reclining seats, and individual climate controls ensuring a first-class experience.

Lucid offers a range of customization options for the Sapphire, from exclusive interior trims to bespoke finishes, allowing owners to make their car truly unique. Every detail—down to the sound insulation that ensures a whisper-quiet cabin—has been meticulously crafted to deliver an unparalleled driving experience.

Sustainability Without Compromise

Lucid's commitment to sustainability is central to its mission, and the Sapphire is no exception. The car is built at Lucid's Casa Grande, Arizona, facility, which prioritizes renewable energy and environmentally friendly manufacturing processes. Materials are responsibly sourced, and the vehicle is designed with end-of-life recyclability in mind.

While the Sapphire's performance numbers might dominate headlines, it's equally impressive for its ability to combine speed with sustainability—a feat few automakers have achieved.

Price and Availability

Exclusivity comes at a price. The Sapphire starts at $249,000, making it one of the most expensive electric vehicles on the market. However, for those fortunate enough to afford it, the Sapphire offers a level of performance and luxury that few cars—electric or otherwise—can match. Lucid isn't telling how many Sapphires they'll produce in '25, but Internet forums suggest that 250 is the max.

A New Standard in Electric Performance

The Sapphire is a gem, no doubt, but it's also a beast. On the surface it looks like Ward Cleaver but underneath lives Iron Mike. Lucid has annihilated all categories with the Sapphire.

For those who demand the absolute best—and are willing to pay for it—the Lucid Air Sapphire sets a new standard, not just for electric vehicles, but for the automotive world as a whole. This is the future of driving, and it's exhilarating.

Fashion Week El Paseo

channels international glamour through the catwalk and cocktail parties

"Fashion changes, but style endures." – Coco Chanel

Fashion has been considered an art form since the 19th century, when the couture industry emerged in Paris. During the 19th century, artists such as Van de Velde and Klimt began designing their own clothing as a way to express themselves, and impressionist paintings like Holiday by James Tissot show how artists used clothing to record daily life.

In the 1910s, the Art Deco movement influenced many couturiers, and in the 20th century, fashion designers including Coco Chanel and Christian Dior created clothing that challenged conventions and reflected society's changing dynamics. The post-war era saw movements use clothing for rebellion and commentary.

Today the field is wide open as a medium for artistic expression, cultural dialogue, and social commentary.

Fashion Week El Paseo embraces the artistry that defines fashion with the return of the West Coast's largest consumer fashion show, set to take place March 14-19, 2025 at The Gardens on El Paseo in Palm Desert.

Produced by "Palm Springs Life" magazine, attendees can expect a riveting fashion adventure with plenty of cocktail receptions, pop-up shops, celebrity meet-and-greets and runway revelations. Welcoming sponsor the City of Palm Desert is joined by the Gardens on El Paseo as the couture sponsor. Multiple shows, each featuring a different designer and/or theme, will highlight fashion trends and showcase a who's who of the country's top design talents (including some stars of tomorrow).

Here's a run down of what to expect:

Michael Costello

redefines fashion for all shapes and sizes

Embracing an ethos of kindness, truth and ongoing discovery

A conversation with Michael Costello leaves one with a renewed sense of hope, purpose and understanding. The “hometown hero” from Palm Springs, California has become a household name in the world of high fashion.

A specialist in statement gowns, Michael Costello has dressed Beyonce, Cardi B, Kim Kardashian, Liz Hurley, and Lady Gaga. He became a known in 2010 after appearing on Project Runway, and he has since established himself as a designer of sexy styles that embrace draped, jewel-toned fabrics alongside curve-flattering silhouettes with high slits and open backs.

His current line may be found at Revolve.com, where Costello celebrates the shoulder pad and the dramatic sleeve. Having expanded his line into the European market, Costello is also designing sumptuous footwear in addition to lavish lifestyle gowns.

Costello’s philosophy is rooted in the belief that everyone should feel confident when they dress. He says, “Diversity is celebrated in every runway and every print ad we create. I design with you in mind. All women are real women, all shapes, sizes and skin colors. We salute you all.”

As far as working with so many celebrities, Costello says that each is unique, but he has especially fond regard for working with Mariah

Carey while he served as wardrobe designer for her Las Vegas residency in 2019.

He says, “Mariah just knew what would work and how to move. Sometimes diva just means experienced.”

Another favorite client is Jennifer Lopez. Costello has completed 76 placements for her, saying “She’s a pro and she knows her stuff, including lighting and angles.”

On January 26, 2014, Costello garnered nationwide attention by dressing Beyoncé in a white lace dress for the 56th Annual Grammy Awards, a turning-point of his career. Since then, Costello has continuously dressed her for On the Run Tour, The Mrs. Carter Show World Tour, the Grammy-sponsored Stevie Wonder tribute, the Wearable Art Gala at the California African American Museum, and more.

Costello’s designs for Beyoncé, Meghan Trainor, Tamar Braxton, Toni Braxton, Alicia Keys, Maren Morris, and more are on display at the Grammy Museum at L.A. Live.

Costello recalls his start at Palm Springs Village Fest (the original performance venue for another hometown star, Abby Carter, winner of “American Idol” in fall, 2024) as well as his original store at 286 N. Palm Canyon Drive in Palm Springs. He says, “I had visits from folks like Barry Manilow, and at one point Mary Bono introduced me to Suzanne Somers and we all went to Tyler's Burgers."

Costello acknowledges challenges involved in the work as well. He points to instances of cyberbullying where opinions are put forth with no basis in fact, especially in the current "Instagram culture."

The past year has been difficult for Costello, with devastating losses of a family member, a partner, a brother and his beloved dog.

"I've learned to be open about my struggles. While I share my experience online, I do so with respect for others' challenges. I pushed through because I had to, channeling my struggles into designing clothes."

Costello talks about the importance of mental health, saying, "I've had a lot of ups and downs, and so many of my experiences have opened incredible doors for me. But success also brings out haters. It's definitely a discovery into whom you can trust."

Despite the difficulties, his perspective of love and light bursts forth. Costello says, "Let's focus on kindness and respect for one another. Life is unpredictable, so celebrate your relationships and capture precious moments."

Perhaps his ethic is best summed up with his statement, "Treat people how you want to be treated. Only you can share your truth."

Nini Jewels Royale Yellow Gold Mixed-Stone Necklace

The Nini Jewels Royale Yellow Gold Mixed-Stone Necklace is a show stopper (or maybe starter) crafted from multi-color gemstones set in solid 18K yellow gold. Alternating stations of green and purple amethyst (99.73 tcw.), green tourmaline (142.95 tcw.), aquamarine (26.61 tcw.), pink sapphires (4.10 tcw.) and diamonds (3.84 tcw.) encircle the neck, finishing in a Y shaped pendant that extends to the décolletage. With a push lock closure, the necklace measures 20 inches long and is adjustable. $168,350. (ninijewels.com).

Luscious Gemstones

create necklaces that elevate personal style

From classic to modern, each piece tells a story

Necklaces have been worn since prehistoric times, with the earliest pieces crafted from natural shells or stones. The ancient Egyptians routinely made necklaces from beads of glass and glazed pottery. Ancient Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans wore charms and pendants around their necks to protect against evil.

Necklaces were also used as emblems of power and authority in the Middle Ages. Both kings and the clergy wore huge collars of gold, enamel, and gemstones. During the late Gothic and early Renaissance periods, necklaces began to be a sign of wealth and social status.

As a form of jewelry, neck pieces are popular today because they offer a versatile way to express personal style and upgrade any look. They allow the wearer to tell a story without any words being spoken.

The pieces here capture a variety of fine jewelry expressions, ranging from classic to elegant and designed to reflect the personality of the owner.

Boucheron Vendome Liseré White Gold Emerald Cut Diamond Necklace

Inspired by the layout of Place Vendôme, the heart of the Maison created by Frédéric Boucheron in 1858, the Boucheron Vendome Liseré White Gold Emerald Cut Diamond Necklace sits on the skin in signature style. The 41 Art Deco-inspired emerald-cut diamonds, surrounded by 738 round-cut diamonds (16.28 tcw.), feature Boucheron's iconic trim, manifesting a display of graphic elegance and Parisian spirit. The stones are set in 18K yellow gold, emphasizing the Boucheron style, both free and audacious. The neckpiece measures 15 inches and has a magnetic closure. $229,000. (boucheron.com).

Hoorsenbuhs Three-Tone Multi-Layer Necklace with Diamonds

The Hoorsenbuhs Three-Tone Multi-Layer Necklace with Diamonds is on trend, featuring seven connected chains of alternating 18K rose gold, white gold and yellow gold. Delicate round white diamonds (8.54 tcw.) adorn the tri-link motifs on each side of the chain, representing the brand's signature emblem, symbolizing strength, quality and continuous opulence. The shortest chain surrounds the collarbone, with each strand graduating in length with the longest chain measuring 36 inches. The luxurious neckpiece draws inspiration from 70's-era jewelry, showcasing a substantive gold heirloom piece meant to be passed on through the generations. $125,000. (hoorsenbuhs.com).

Robert Erich Platinum Diamond, Paraiba Tourmaline, and Black Opal Necklace

The Robert Erich Platinum Diamond, Paraiba Tourmaline, and Black Opal Necklace is a one-of-a-kind work, illustrative of jeweler Erich's career having traveled the world in search of the very best and rarest rubies, sapphires, and emeralds. This stunning piece measures 18 inches long and is set in platinum to highlight the 27 sparkling white diamonds (3.96 tcw.) in contrast with the oval Paraiba tourmaline and enormous Australian black opal. Primarily sourcing the stones and re-cutting them into the very best gems, Erich maximizes their color and beauty, earning him the reputation as creator of "Best of Breed" in rare and exotic gemstones. $107,500. (neimanmarcus.com).

Staurino Fratelli Couture Diamond Butterfly Necklace

The Staurino Fratelli Couture Diamond Butterfly Necklace takes on surprisingly lifelike proportions, resembling two butterflies conjoined in loving harmony and attached to a continuous strand of white diamonds. The diamonds (20.45 tcw.) ornamenting each large-scale butterfly are varied in size, their light exploding forth by way of their setting in pure 18K white gold. As with all Staurino pieces, dating back to its origins 150 years ago, femininity is the Fratelli calling card. The necklace is highly fashionable yet comfortable, designed to glide with a woman's body. $149,000. (staurinofratelli.com).

Bulgari, Pink Gold Allegra Multi Stone Collar

There are few things in life more lavish than a piece of jewelry by Bulgari, such as the Pink Gold Allegra Multi Stone Collar. With its cocktail of bright gemstones in a multitude of shapes, the Allegra necklace set in 18K rose gold embodies Bulgari's exuberant and bold approach to color. Expressing joy through vibrant nuances, this effervescent jewelry creation combines amethysts, peridots, pink tourmalines, citrine quartzes and blue topazes for a symphony of geometric design lit by pavé diamonds (14.13 tcw.). An interplay of cuts, shapes, colors and lights exemplifies the Bulgari signature style, defined by rich color combinations, exquisitely balanced volumes and unmistakable motifs that pay homage to the Roman roots of the company going back to 1884. $145,000. (bulgari.com).
